HOKIES START ACC HOMESTAND WITH NO. 24 MIAMI

The weekend series: Tech continues its 121st season of baseball by hosting the first of three straight ACC series at English Field. The Hokies welcome Miami to Blacksburg for the sixth time since the series began back in 2005 - all games since both teams joined the ACC. The Hokies are just 7-20 all-time against the Hurricanes, but do hold a 5-8 record at English Field. Miami comes in ranked No. 24 and Tech is 6-12 all-time against a ranked Hurricane squad.

Enjoying English Field: The Hokies enter the weekend winners of their last three conference series at home, which includes the final two of 2013 and the first of this season. In fact, the Hokies enter Friday's game winners of their last seven ACC home games - beating Virginia in both ends of a doubleheader on April 23, winning the only two games in the series against Wake Forest (May 17-18) and sweeping Pittsburgh to open this season. It's the longest overall streak (spanning seasons), passing the six home ACC wins the 2010 squad posting in a single season from April 11 - May 15.

The three straight ACC series wins matches the second most (spanning seasons) while the 2010 squad posted the most in a single season - winning all five - and adding to the 2009 team that won their last two pushed the school's longest home ACC series win streak to seven.

Lastly, Tech enters Friday's game with an overall six-game home winning streak, tying for the third longest stretch ever over the past 10 seasons with the 2009 team. Back in 2012, Tech rattled off eight-straight wins (the most by a team since joining the ACC), while last year's team posted a seven-game streak.

And that's great news: Because Mother Nature wreaked havoc on the Hokies' baseball schedule through the first seven weeks of the season - Tech lost a total of five games - they had to adjust and added four games to the April slate. So, last weekend when Tech played at Virginia, it started a string of 20 straight games in the Commonwealth - with 14 at English Field and that includes three straight home ACC weekends. Only once before in Tech's history as a member of the conference have the Hokies played either three straight road or home series - 2007, when they hosted North Carolina, Virginia and Clemson back-to-back-to-back. Tech will be looking to improve on that 2007 stretch as the Hokies went just 1-8 in those nine games.

#22 Patrick Mason
Head Coach
First Season

On June 27, 2013, Virginia Tech announced the hiring of Patrick Mason as the baseball program's newest head coach. He became the 24th head baseball coach at the school, but just the fifth in the last 66 years of the program. Mason took over the head coaching reigns after spending the previous three seasons under former coach Pete Hughes.

Mason, who enters his 17th season in the coaching profession, was promoted to the position of associate head coach at Tech in the fall of 2012, and had served as the pitching game coordinator and recruiting coordinator in his three years prior to his promotion. The former Northeastern catcher (1994-97) spent the previous five seasons before coming to Tech as an assistant at Northeastern (2005-10).

In just three seasons with Tech, Mason has seen 10 of his Hokie pitchers sign pro pitching contracts, including six off this past season's roster. He has also guided the staff to register three straight seasons with an ERA lower than the previous year.

In those three consecutive seasons, the Tech pitching staff has posted an ERA no higher than 4.57, which hasn't happened since an 18-season streak that ended in 1980. The last time a Tech squad posted back-to-back seasons with an ERA of 4.20 or lower was the 1976-1977 teams, something the 2012-2013 teams just did.

Before his arrival in Blacksburg, Mason was the recipient of the 2010 Kevin Burr Award given to the top assistant coach in New England as selected by his peers. He also served as assistant coach at Framingham State in 2004 after four years at Boston College, when Hughes was the head coach there. For the summers of 2003-06, he was a coach with the Harwich Mariners of the Cape Cod League.

Mason has a tremendous history of developing catching prospects, and in his previous 13 years of coaching before coming to Tech, he served as a mentor for 10 catchers who were selected in the MLB Draft, including Huskies Matt Morizio and Dan Milano in his first two seasons at Northeastern..

While playing at Northeastern, the Franklin, Mass., native was captain in 1996 and 1997, and helped NU to America East championships in 1994 and 1997. In his four years, he found his way into the record books on both sides of the ball, as his 19 career home runs rank high in Husky history and, defensively, he holds the NU record for errorless chances in a season with 242 (1997).

He and his wife, Leigh, reside in Christiansburg.

Facing ranked teams: In the column to the left is the record for Tech baseball versus ranked opponents all-time, which includes an 0-7 record in 2014 - as the Hokies dropped a game at No. 2 LSU, and were swept at No. 15 Clemson and at No. 1 Virginia.

At this point, Tech is scheduled to play at least 10 more games against ranked foes this year, including No. 24 Miami this weekend, as four other schools (six games total) are currently receiving votes in polls (also column left).

Facing No. 24: In their history, Tech has never faced a team ranked No. 24 in the polls, but is 8-17 against schools that are ranked between No. 21 through No. 25. Tech last played a school ranked in the 20s during the 2014 NCAA Blacksburg Regional as the Hokies defeated No. 29 Coastal Carolina, 9-1, on June 1, 2013. Interestingly, as a program, the Hokies have never faced a school that was ranked either No. 17 or No. 20 as well.

Weekend wins: Dating back to last season AND including the postseason (ACC Championship and NCAA Blacksburg Regional), Tech has had just two losing weekend since April 12-14, 2013 - a span of 14 weekends. Unfortunately, those two losing weekends were ACC road series sweeps at the hands of No. 15 Clemson (March 7-9) and No. 1 Virginia (March 21-23).

The Tech winning weekends included winning their final four ACC series of 2013, which was something the Hokies had never done before in league play. Their longest stretch was a three-weekend winning streak back in the 2010 season.

Tech in its ACC home-opening weekend: In its 10th season in the conference, Tech finally won its first ever ACC home opener with its 11-5 win over Pittsburgh, March 14.

Overall, before its three-game sweep of the Panthers, the Hokies held just a 5-19 record in their first home conference weekend, winning just one series - against Maryland in 2010. The sweep over Pittsburgh was the first for the Hokies in an ACC home-opening weekend and marked the sixth straight season they have swept at least one ACC series. It was just the third ever ACC home sweep with the other two coming against Boston College (2010 & 2012).

Hokies opened with a new skipper: For just the second time since 1980, Tech opened a season with a new head coach. Back in 1979, Chuck Hartman coached his first game at Tech on March 10 and would go on to coach the Hokies for the next 28 years. In 2007, Pete Hughes took over the program and bridged the gap to Mason. On Feb. 14, 2014, Mason coached his first game as Tech head coach, and his first overall. Tech has had just six head coaches since 1945 - a span of 70 seasons - with G.F. (Red) Laird leading the second-most at 26 seasons.

English Field - Home of the Hokies

English Field was officially dedicated during a special ceremony on April 8, 1989 and is named for the late E.R. 'Red' English and his wife, Ruth, who provided financial support for construction of the field.

English, a native of Altavista, Va., played as an offensive and defensive guard on the Tech football teams from 1930-33 and graduated from Tech in 1934. English contributed to Tech athletics for more than 50 years and was one of the founders of The Student Aid Association in 1949. He served as president of that organization two of its first three years. English received the most outstanding alumni award at Tech in 1984.

Through a generous gift from alumnus George Sampson, the home team dugout was named for long-time Tech baseball coach G.F. 'Red' Laird during a ceremony on April 12, 1991. Laird recruited and coached Sampson at Tech.

The Tech athletics department continues to make upgrades to the facility, with its newest completed in the spring of 2012. The natural grass surface was replaced with artificial turf. The $1 million field enables the Hokies to practice even during inclement weather, as grounds keepers can remove snow off of it quickly.

Plus, it also drains quickly, allowing for a speedy resumption of play following any rain delays. Also, as part of this project, the dugouts were expanded to almost twice the size, and a new batter's eye and a new padded outfield fence were added.

The Hokies opened play at their new home with a 7-2 victory against George Mason on March 22, 1989, and went on to post a 17-7 home record during their first season in the facility. Prior to the 2004 season, a new lighting system was installed and the Hokies played their first baseball game under the lights in Blacksburg on April 28 of that year, defeating VMI, 8-0.

The team's year-by-year overall mark in its 26 seasons at English Field can be seen in the graph on the right. Before English Field, Tech played its home baseball games at Tech Park, where it compiled a 431-122-1 record over 34 seasons. All-time, Tech is 1,202-510-12 in games played in Blacksburg.

Helping to Strike Out ALS: Last year, the Hokies partnered with Bull & Bones Brewhaus and Grill to help raise awareness and funds for ALS research. With every strikeout recorded by Tech's pitching staff during the 2013 season - $5 for every regular season strikeout, $10 for any strikeout in the ACC tournament and $25 for any K registered in an NCAA Regional - money began accumulating for a final donation. The results after the season, showed a total of almost $2,500 raised for ALS research (see totals in chart on right).

The two groups are proud to announce the partnership continuing for the 2014 season and the funds growing even more.

At least taking a split: Last season, Tech played seven doubleheaders (or two games in the same day), which was the most since the 2004 season when the Hokies played 11 - when doubleheaders were the norm in Big East Conference play. The most Tech played since the team started playing in the ACC, before last year, was six, during the 2011 season.

The seven doubleheaders resulted in the Hokies sweeping three and splitting the other four - which included their final day of the 2013 season. On June 2, they beat Connecticut, 3-1, but then lost the Blacksburg Regional to Oklahoma, 10-4, that evening.

Still, the Hokies have not lost both ends of a DH (or two games in a single day, both games starting on the same day) since May 14, 2011, versus Clemson. In those 14 doubleheaders, the Hokies have won seven and have split seven, including a 1-0-1 mark in 2014.

Taking care of nonconference business: Tech has certainly taken care of business when it comes to its nonconference slate over the previous five seasons. They had won at least 20 games in four of the past five seasons (last time before 2009 was 1999) and have only lost more than five regular-season games in nonconference action just once (2011). Below is Tech's record in nonconference games, with a breakdown of home, road and neutral sites and include a 4-3 mark in 2010 and 5-3 mark in 2013 for postseason play.

Zagunis earning some preseason accolades: Tech junior catcher Mark Zagunis received a pair of preseason honors heading into the 2014 baseball season and has since added a third.

First, he was first tabbed a National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association second team All-American catcher on Dec. 18 and followed that up with a Louisville Slugger second team All-American catcher nod announced by Collegiate Baseball newspaper on Dec. 23.

On March 7, he was one of six catchers in the ACC to be named to the official watch list for the 2014 Johnny Bench Award, announced by the Greater Wichita Area Sports Commission. It marks the second consecutive year Zagunis has made the watch list.

He and Hayden pick up weekly honors: With such an offensive week (56 runs over a five-game stretch from March 11-15) and an ACC series sweep against Pittsburgh, a pair of Hokies each picked up a weekly honor.

On March 17, Zagunis earned Tech's eighth ever ACC Player of the Week selection, while College Sports Madness announced March 18 that Brendon Hayden was named "Madness ACC Player of the Week."

Perez stays in line-up: Junior second baseman Alex Perez has started every game this season to push his personal streak to 144 straight games - every one since stepping foot on campus and the most of any player on the current roster. Of the 144 starts for Perez, 96 have come at second, 48 at shortstop. His streak began Feb. 17, 2012.

It's the longest streak at the school since Michael Seaborn started 146 consecutive games - his were all at second base. His streak started on March 24, 2009 and ended May 21, 2011.

Next on that list is Sean O'Brien, who started the last 162 straight games of his Hokie career (every game of his sophomore, junior and senior seasons), mostly as a first baseman.

So does Zagunis: According to research done by the nation's SIDs, and entering the week of April 1, Perez' streak was currently the 14th longest in the NCAA. However, right on his heels is Zagunis, who has started 135 straight games for the Hokies, which was the 19th longest streak in the nation. Tech is the only team on the list that has more than one player.

That list also shows that Perez is just one of five juniors in the country to start every game since his freshman year and he has the second-longest streak behind Florida's Casey Turgeon (151).

Earning the free pass: In the Hokies' loss to VCU on March 12, the team drew 14 walks, a single game record for the team since becoming a member of the ACC. Their previous high of 13 walks was set back in 2006 versus Marshall. The team came up three base-on-balls shy of tying the overall school record of 17 done twice - last versus Howard on April 1, 1990.

Piling up the runs: In the sweep of the Pittsburgh Panthers (March 14-15), the Hokies scored 11 runs in each of the games, marking the first time they scored at least 10 runs in all three games of an ACC series. Just once before had Tech scored at least 10 runs in three straight ACC games and that was back in 2010 (May 2, 10 vs. BC & May 14-15, 11 & 18 vs. Duke).

It had been almost 20 years since the Hokies scored 10+ runs in all three games of a league series (win or lose). Back in 1994, Tech swept Louisville in a three-game Metro Conference series by scores of 15-4, 25-4 and 14-8.

Adding one more nugget to the offensive outburst the Hokies enjoyed during the week of March 11-15 - they scored at least 10 runs in all five games - the stretch marked the first time since the 2008 season that the team had reached double figures in runs scored in five straight games (Feb. 29 - March 2).

That's correct we had a tie: It hadn't happen in 13 years, but as Tech and Richmond battled back-and-forth and into extra innings on March 11 - and with the game time pushing to almost four hours (3:57) - it was necessary to call the contest a tie due to darkness because Pitt Field, located on the Richmond campus, does not have lights.

The Hokies had not registered a tie on their slate since April 14, 2001 when they played at Carroll Field in South Orange, N.J. After 12 innings in that contest, the game with Seton Hall finished in a 7-7 tie. Interestingly, it was the second game of a doubleheader against the Pirates that saw Tech drop the first game 13-1 (in seven innings, which was the norm back then on DH days).

This year's game marked the 26th tie in program history - the sixth that finished in extra frames.

Tech going the extra inning: The Hokies went to extra innings seven times last year, a new single-season record, passing the 2006 squad that played five.

With their 5-2 mark in extras, the wins were the most extra-inning victories in a single season ever, passing both the 2007 squad (3-1 in four games) and the 2006 team (3-2 in five extra-inning games).

This season, the Hokies have gone to extras three times already and have posted a 2-0-1 mark, which includes a 5-4 win in 12 frames at Notre Dame (March 23). That victory improved Tech's record to 8-1-1 in its extra-inning games on the road since the start of the 2009 season.

More on extra-inning games: In its last 25 extra-inning games, Tech is 16-8-1 and, interestingly, of those 25 games, they are 6-8 against opponents from either North or South Carolina.

The last time Tech lost in extras to a team not from North or South Carolina was also the last time the team played back-to-back extra-inning games - at Boston College (March 25-26, 2006).

Walk-off wins: Tech has already registered three walk-off victories this season, which ties the number of walk-offs the team had last year. The Hokies had a season-high seven in 2012 (since joining the ACC).

The first was by Alex Perez, who notched his second career walk-off RBI when he hit a bases loaded single to score Kyle Wernicki in a 4-3 win in 11 frames against UMass Lowell (3/1). He previously drew a bases loaded walk on April 14, 2012 to force home the winning run in a 5-4 victory over Miami. He joins Mark Zagunis (three) as the only two active players with more than one career walk-off RBI.

The second walk-off was by Brendon Hayden, who became the sixth Tech player since 2007 to hit a walk-off home run, as his three-run ninth-inning shot gave Tech a 9-6 win over Cincinnati (3/2).

The last one was off the bat of Sean Keselica, who single home Perez in the ninth for an 11-10 victory over Pittsburgh (3/15). He joins Hayden, Zagunis, Perez and Wernicki (1) as current Hokies with walk-off RBIs.

Stealing some bases: Freshman outfielder Saige Jenco stole three bases in a midweek home game against Radford (2/25), the most since Tony Balisteri stole three at Boston College on March 27, 2011. It's one shy of Tech's single-game record of four and tied for the most in a single game in the ACC this season.
