CRITICAL COASTAL SHOWDOWN IN BLACKSBURG THIS WEEKEND

The weekend series: Virginia Tech currently sits at 6-6 in the ACC, which ties for the second best start to an ACC with the 2010 squad, while Georgia Tech comes to town with a 5-7 league mark. The three-game set will be the start of five straight home games for the Hokies, while the Yellow Jackets will end an eight-game road swing with the series.

Perez is the nation's Ironman: Tech's Alex Perez is one of four seniors in DI baseball to have started every one of his team's games since stepping foot on campus. Entering conference games being played this weekend, Perez' 200 consecutive starts was the longest consecutive streak in the nation and the longest to start a Tech career.

Of his 200 starts at Tech, 142 have been at second base, 54 have been at shortstop and four have been on the mound.

Hokies winning the close ones: Just over halfway through the season, Tech is already 7-4 in one-run games, opposed to 5-10 during the 2014 season. When it comes to ACC games, they were 3-10 last year and are 3-1 so far in 2015, losing their first on Sunday to No. 7 Florida State.

Another trend that hopes to continue is Tech's success on Friday night/Game 1 of the ACC series. The Hokies are 3-1 after four weekends and won just 2 of 8 all of last year.

Another solid start to the ACC: The Hokies have started the past three seasons with a 5-4 mark in the conference - the best start ever. Twice they have started 4-5 and in those prior four seasons, weekend No. 4 has always been a precursor to how the rest of the year progressed with Florida State and Virginia providing the opponents those weekends. This season, it was Florida State, who took 2-of-3, but the 6-6 mark is only bettered by the 2013 Hokies who started 7-5.

INTERVIEW POLICY

Off Days - All player and coach interview requests need to be arranged through the Virginia Tech Athletics Communications Office. Players and coaches should not be called directly under any circumstances.

Game Days - Mason and requested players will be available to the media after the game and following a 10-minute cooling off period. Interviews will take place on the field or in the Tech dugout.

#22 Patrick Mason
Head Coach
Second Season

On June 27, 2013, Virginia Tech announced the hiring of Patrick Mason as the baseball program's newest head coach. He became the 24th head baseball coach at the school, but just the fifth in the prior 66 years of the program. Mason took over the head coaching reigns after spending the previous three seasons under former coach Pete Hughes.

Mason, who enters his 18th season in the coaching profession, was promoted to the position of associate head coach at Tech in the fall of 2012, and had served as the pitching game coordinator and recruiting coordinator in his three years prior to his promotion. The former Northeastern catcher (1994-97) spent the previous five seasons before coming to Tech as an assistant at Northeastern (2005-10).

Before his arrival in Blacksburg, Mason was the recipient of the 2010 Kevin Burr Award given to the top assistant coach in New England as selected by his peers. He also served as assistant coach at Framingham State in 2004 after four years at Boston College, when Hughes was the head coach there. For the summers of 2003-06, he was a coach with the Harwich Mariners of the Cape Cod League.

Mason has a tremendous history of developing catching prospects and in his previous 13 years of coaching before coming to Tech, he served as a mentor for 10 catchers who were selected in the MLB Draft, including Huskies Matt Morizio and Dan Milano at Northeastern. The drafting of Hokies' catcher Mark Zagunis in the third round (78th pick) of the 2014 draft only continued that trend.

Also taken in the 2014 draft was pitcher Brad Markey, which brings the total number of Tech pitchers who signed pro pitching contracts under Mason to 11, which included six off the 2013 roster – his last of three seasons as the Hokies' pitching coach.

In those three years, the Tech pitching staff registered three straight seasons with an ERA lower than the previous year and posted an ERA no higher than 4.57, which hadn't happened since an 18-season streak that ended in 1980. The last time a Tech squad posted back-to-back seasons with an ERA of 4.20 or lower was the 1976 and 1977 teams, something the 2012 and 2013 teams accomplished.

While playing at Northeastern, the Franklin, Massachusetts, native was the team's captain in 1996 and 1997, and helped NU to America East championships in 1994 and 1997. In his four years, he found his way into the record books on both sides of the ball, as his 19 career home runs rank high in Husky history and, defensively, he holds the NU record for errorless chances in a season with 242 (1997).

DID YOU KNOW?

As of Jan. 1, 2015, the Virginia Tech baseball coaching staff is the youngest by average age in the ACC. Head coach Patrick Mason is the second youngest coach in the league, two years older than Boston College's Mike Gambino, but Tech is the only staff with all three assistants under the age of 30 - the other 13 schools have six combined.

The three youngest staffs in ACC by age

Helping to Strike Out ALS: Starting in the 2013 season, the Virginia Tech baseball team partnered with Bull & Bones Brewhaus and Grill to help raise awareness and funds for ALS research and the two will do so again during the 2015 season as well.

With every strikeout recorded by Tech's pitching staff during the past two season, and now this year, $5 is donated for every regular-season strikeout, while $10 is donated for any strikeout during the ACC tournament and $25 for any K registered in an NCAA Regional.

During that first season, the team helped raise almost $2,500 for ALS research, and last year they pushed the grand total to more than $4,000.

Keselica a two-time ACC Pitcher of the Week: Senior Sean Keselica became only the third Tech pitcher to be selected as the ACC's Pitcher of the Week and the first since 2010 for his effort against Virginia on March 13 - a complete game, four-hitter with one unearned run in the 2-1 Tech win. It was the first honor since Justin Wright earned the honor back on April 5, 2010.

Wright was actually a three-time honoree (March 29, 2010 and April 27, 2009) during his career in Blacksburg, and Ryan Kennedy (Feb. 21 and May 2, 2005), got it twice - the only other pitchers to earn the honor

Keselica has now joined the two-time honoree group when he earned the nod again after picking up a win at No. 7 Florida State on March 27. He held the Seminoles to four hits and two runs over seven innings and tied a career-high with nine strikeouts.

Keselica's joined elite company: Versus Clemson, Keselica had a chance to do what no starting pitcher for Tech has ever done as a member of the ACC - earn a win in each of the first three weekends of the season's slate. He held Clemson scoreless over eight frames, but the Hokies could not get a run on their own and lost the contest in extra frames.

However, the following weekend at No. 7 Florida State, Keselica improved to 3-0 in the ACC and joined only Mathew Price as the only Tech starting pitchers to earn three wins in the first four weekends of the ACC season. Price was 1-0 after the first two weekends and picked up wins the next two to improve to 3-0 after four starts.

A couple more notes on wins for starters: No Tech starter has been 4-0 in the ACC after five weeks of the season. In fact, in the Hokies' history, during any five-week span, only one pitcher has earned a win in four, that was Wright, who won four straight during the 2009 season.

Only Joe Mantiply, during the 2013 season, had a 4-0 record in ACC play - he actually finished the year with a perfect 5-0 mark, missing a few starts due to injury.

Overall starting pitching is key: The Hokies have 16 wins this season and much of that has to do with their starting pitchers. The starters overall have posted a combined 3.46 ERA and 17 quality starts. In ACC-games, the starters have posted seven quality starts and won four of them, while the combined ERA is 4.32.

The pitcher's best friend: Tech has turned 27 double plays this year and one triple play. The box to the right breaks down each double play by the type and the pitcher on the mound when it occurred. Of the 12 pitchers who have thrown innings this season for the Hokies, only two have not seen a double play turned behind them.

Jenco homer starts the game: Redshirt-sophomore Saige Jenco opened up the series at No. 7 Florida State by hitting a solo home run over the left field fence. It was just the third round tripper of his career, and all three have been solo shots. Ironically, Jenco's first home run was an inside-the-park home run hit at Liberty on April 14, which also led off that game.

With that round tripper, he became just the second Hokie to hit an inside-the-park home run since the team joined the ACC. The only other player was Tim Smalling, who hit his at English Field - March 5, 2010 versus Long Island.

Only six Hokies have ever hit a leadoff home run in the first, and only three have done it on the road. Below is a list of those five men. As it turns out, Jenco is the only player in Tech's ACC history to do it twice.

	Player	Opponent	Date

7.	Saige Jenco	at Florida State	March 27, 2015

Payne a pain for pitchers: Redshirt-senior Erik Payne sat out 2014 due to the NCAA transfer rule - he previously played three seasons at South Carolina and took just one day to get comfortable to the 2015 season. He went hitless in his first game of the season in four at-bats, but has reached base in every game since, pushing his streak to 29 consecutive games. That is the longest streak at the school since Mark Zagunis reached in 36 straight games during the 2012 season.

Turning the triple play: Against East Tennessee State University on March 25, Rahiem Cooper started what would be Tech's first triple play turned as a member of the ACC (since 2005). Cooper's snag out in right field and the result, a 9463 TP, was caught on video and was ranked as the No. 2 play on SportsCenter that night.

Tech has hit into two double plays since being a member of the ACC, once during the 2006 and the other in 2009.

Career year for Perez: Just over halfway through the regular season and senior Alex Perez is already enjoying his most productive year. He's already tied his season high with 37 runs (2013) and is just 10 hits shy of matching his output each of the past two years (52). His five triples and four home runs are well above his best season, giving him 70 total bases, bettering his best year by five already.

Interestingly, Perez is one triple shy of tying for the fifth-most ever in a single season and if he does and keeps up his pace, he would be on pace to produce the second-best season among the six already on that list. Only Kevin Barker's 1996 season of nine doubles, nine triples and 20 home runs for 160 total bases and a .792 slugging percentage would be better.

WHAT'S A HOKIE

That's the most frequently asked question regarding Virginia Tech athletics. The answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer and a contest for such a purpose was held by the student body. Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Old Hokie" yell which still is used today.

Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the words he used had no hidden or symbolic meaning, but had been thought up in an effort to get attention. Hokie soon became a nickname for all Tech teams and for those people loyal to Tech athletics.

Following is the "Old Hokie" yell in its original form:
Hoki, Hoki, Hoki Hy!
Tech! Tech! V.P.I.!
Sola-Rex Sola-Rah
Polytech-Vir-gin-i-a!!
Rae, Ri, V.P.I.

JUST VIRGINIA TECH, PLEASE

While the full name of the school is Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, the school is commonly referred to as "Virginia Tech."

Founded in 1872, as Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College, the university changed its named to Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1896.

Fans of the athletic department, as well as media covering the Hokies, shortened the name to VPI, but it eventually became Virginia Tech.

The "State University" was added in 1970 to bring the official title to what it is today.

Those covering Hokie athletics are asked to refer to the university as simply "Virginia Tech."

Virginia Tech University, VPI and SU, VPI&SU, VT or VA Tech are not recognized names and should not be used.

THE TECH WATCH LIST

A number of Hokies are approaching milestone numbers either on their own, since Tech has been in the ACC, school records, etc. This spot is a place to see where all of those players are either already on or approaching on what list.

Facing ranked teams: In the column to the left is the record for Tech baseball versus ranked opponents as a member of the ACC, which includes a 1-10 record in 2014. The Hokies already have more wins over ranked teams this year than last, as they are 4-2. There are still at least two more teams Tech could face this season who are ranked.

Facing a ranked Florida State team: In its history in the ACC, Tech has faced Florida State 10 times (in 11 years, every year except 2014) in a series and the Seminoles have been ranked every season. The Hokies have won just two of those series and are 8-23 overall, but includes getting one win over them last weekend in Tallahassee.

Facing No. 1: In their ACC history, Tech is now 6-20 against No. 1 teams in the country. Of the 26 games, 17 of those have been played in Blacksburg. Tech held a 2-12 record in those games before its weekend sweep of Virginia in the second ACC weekend.

The other wins over No. 1 programs occurred April 18, 2010, at Virginia, 8-5; May 10, 2008, versus Miami, 7-6 in a DH; and March 18, 2006, versus Florida State, 9-7.

Tech sweeps No. 1 Virginia: For the first time as a member of the ACC, the Hokies swept a series against a nationally-ranked team when they took all three games against the top-ranked Cavaliers in ACC weekend No. 2 in Blacksburg. Entering the weekend, Tech had won just nine series against ranked teams, as a member of the ACC, with seven of those coming at home.

The sweep also gave the Hokies their seventh sweep of an ACC opponent, ironically, one a year for the past seven years and includes sweeping Pittsburgh in last year's home opening ACC weekend. The others are at Maryland (2009, 2011) and at Duke (2013) and home sweeps against Boston College (2010, 2012).

Tech in its ACC home-opening weekend: For the first time in its 10 seasons in the conference, Tech finally won its first ever ACC home opener with its 11-5 win over Pittsburgh last year. The Hokies had been winless in their previous nine tries. They made it two in a row in ACC home openers after beating Virginia, 2-1, on March 15.

Ironically, the Hokies also then swept Pittsburgh last year as well, which marked their first ever ACC home-opening sweep and just their second ever home series win in their ACC home opening weekend. Before last year's sweep, Tech held just a 5-19 record in its first home ACC weekend, winning just one series - against Maryland in 2010. After the sweeps to open 2014 and 2015, Tech is now 11-19 after its ACC home opening weekend.

English Field - Home of the Hokies

English Field was officially dedicated during a special ceremony on April 8, 1989 and is named for the late E.R. 'Red' English and his wife, Ruth, who provided financial support for construction of the field.

English, a native of Altavista, Va., played as an offensive and defensive guard on the Tech football teams from 1930-33 and graduated from Tech in 1934. English contributed to Tech athletics for more than 50 years and was one of the founders of The Student Aid Association in 1949. He served as president of that organization two of its first three years. English received the most outstanding alumni award at Tech in 1984.

Through a generous gift from alumnus George Sampson, the home team dugout was named for long-time Tech baseball coach G.F. 'Red' Laird during a ceremony on April 12, 1991. Laird recruited and coached Sampson at Tech.

The Tech athletics department continues to make upgrades to the facility, with its newest completed in the spring of 2012. The natural grass surface was replaced with artificial turf. The $1 million field enables the Hokies to practice even during inclement weather, as grounds keepers can remove snow off of it quickly.

Plus, it also drains quickly, allowing for a speedy resumption of play following any rain delays. Also, as part of this project, the dugouts were expanded to almost twice the size, and a new batter's eye and a new padded outfield fence were added.

The Hokies opened play at their new home with a 7-2 victory against George Mason on March 22, 1989, and went on to post a 17-7 home record during their first season in the facility. Prior to the 2004 season, a new lighting system was installed and the Hokies played their first baseball game under the lights in Blacksburg on April 28 of that year, defeating VMI, 8-0.

The team's year-by-year overall mark in its 27 seasons at English Field can be seen in the graph on the right. Before English Field, Tech played its home baseball games at Tech Park, where it compiled a 431-122-1 (.779 winning percentage) record over 34 seasons. All-time, Tech is 1,215-526-12 (.697) in games played in Blacksburg.

Tech in ACC opening games: The Hokies won their ACC season-opening game this year, with a 12-7 decision at Wake Forest (March 7), in the first of two games that day, to improve to 4-7 in ACC openers (they also won openers in 2007, 2009, and 2012). The 12 runs marked the third time the Hokies scored at least 10 runs in an ACC season opener and they won all three (10-8 at UVa, 2012 & 19-4 at Duke, 2009).

Playing in the DH on that Saturday, Tech had a chance to open 2-0 for the first time ever and win its first ever DH on the road in ACC play, but the Demon Deacons pulled out the win. Tech is now 2-6-8 overall in ACC doubleheader games, 2-3-3 at home.

Tech in ACC opening weekends: In its 11 seasons in the conference, Tech is now 2-9 in opening series weekends in the league (only winning in 2007 and 2010) after the team dropped a 2-1 series at Wake Forest to open the 2015 ACC slate. The series at Wake also marked the ninth time the Hokies opened league play on the road, but it was only the fifth time they did not face a ranked opponent in their opening weekend. All-time, after the opening weekend, Tech is a combined 9-24.

Happy "Opening" Day: For the first time in program history (since 1892), Tech opened a season before Valentine's Day. And for just the third time the Hokies played a baseball game on Valentine's Day (the earliest start prior to this season). In the 2014 and 2003 seasons, Tech opened its season on Feb. 14 and were 1-1.

Adding to that, the Hokies played their first three games opening weekend, marking the most games played before Feb. 16 in their program history with three. The most prior to that was two in 2003 and 1892. According to the history books, Tech played two games back in 1892 (the earliest start ever in its history) against Newports on Feb. 1 and Feb. 2 and its only two games that season, the program's first year of competition.

Experience a key for 2015: Looking back at the 2014 roster, it featured just two seniors (pitchers Brad Markey and Tanner McIntyre) and 17 newcomers. A young squad a year ago, meant that most of the team would be back for 2015. And even though the Hokies lost a key member of the offense, when catcher Mark Zagunis left early after being drafted in the third round, the numbers the Hokies had coming back for 2015 are ridiculous.

In the field, 424 starts from last year (out of a possible 477) returned as did 88 percent of the at-bats - this from a team that led the ACC in batting, overall and conference-only. Looking at the pitching staff, 40 of the starts on the mound returned (out of 53) and 73 percent of the innings pitched were also back.
