

VIRGINIA SPRING FOOTBALL 2010

MEDIA INFORMATION

Itinerary: Spring practice is scheduled to run from March 31 through April 24. The annual Spring Game is scheduled for Saturday, April 24, at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field, beginning at 2 p.m. Media accommodations for the game are in the fifth level press box on the west side of the stadium.

Practice coverage: Tech will practice each Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, except for April 16, when practice will be held on Thursday, April 15. On Mondays and Fridays, practices are closed to all. On Wednesdays, the stretching session and the first two periods are open to media. Saturday scrimmages are open to media and fans, but media are asked to stand on the East/visitor sideline. behind the end zones or sit in the stands. All practices, except for scrimmages on April 10 and 17, and the Spring Game, are closed to the general public. The Hokies will work out at the football practice fields behind the Merryman Center, or in the event of inclement weather, in Rector Field House. Scrimmages are scheduled to be held at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field. Dates and times, listed on this page, are subject to change. Please note that the schedule does not include meeting and conditioning assignments.

Interviews: Interviews with coaches, players and staff will be held in a 15-minute session after each Wednesday practice and then four players requested by media, plus coaches, will be available after the Saturday scrimmages.

Photographers: Videographers and photographers may go into the stretching area, but must film only from the sidelines once the team goes into the first two periods. Please refrain from edging onto the playing field to avoid any injury to players and/ or photographers.

OFFENSIVE LINE

LEFT TACKLE

Nick Becton (r-So.) – Played in five games last fall ... Will compete for the starting left tackle position ... Has been in the program learning for two years ... Is very athletic ... Needs to have a big spring to show he is ready to play.

Laurence Gibson (Fr.) – A highly rated prospect who entered school in January ... Will battle for the backup left tackle slot ... Played at Hargrave Military Academy during the fall, which could give him an edge in the battle.

Kory Gough (Fr.) – Is expected to battle Laurence Gibson for the backup slot at left tackle during spring drills ... Joined the team in January ... Did not play last season while greyshirting.

Greg Nosal (r-Jr.) – Will be the starting left guard this spring after playing in 12 games and starting the Georgia Tech contest ... Put in a good, solid year in 2009 ... Rotated at right and left guard a year ago ... Provided plenty of depth at the position ... Coaches are excited to see what he can do.

David Wang (r-Fr.) – Injured his shoulder and redshirted last year ... Put up great numbers in the weight room ... Brother of former Hokie Ed Wang ... Coaches believe he will help the Hokies this season ... Has come back very strong from the injury.

CENTER

Beau Warren (r-Sr.) – Played well in his first year as a full-time starter in 2009 ... Started 10 games during the fall, including the Chick-fil-A Bowl ... Up to 290 pounds this spring ... A very competitive player.

Michael Via (r-So.) — Spelled Beau Warren when he suffered a knee injury ... Started three games and finished a fourth ... Showed he can play up front in his time on the field ... Will receive some reps at left tackle this spring ... Coaches do not want him to be a full-time backup and are looking to get him some reps outside ... Spring will be very important for him.

Andrew Miller (r-Fr.) – Highly touted prospect out of Bassett High School ... Will eventually battle to back up Beau Warren at center ... Hurt his shoulder in the fall ... Coaches will evaluate his progress with the injury.

Bo Gentry (r-So.) – Will look to provide depth at the center spot ... Works hard in the weight room and on the football field ... Son of strength and conditioning coach Mike Gentry.

Jaymes Brooks (r-Jr.) – A full-time starter last year, but started the Orange Bowl as a redshirt freshman the year before ... Has excellent strength and showed it during the fall ... Has a chance to be an exceptional football player ... Strong in the run game ... Has a lot of pop.

Vinston Painter (r-So.) – Showed signs of improvement last season ... This will be a big spring for him ... Needs to get better so he can spell players at both guard positions ... Had a really good off-season ... Coaches will see if he is ready to play.

RIGHT TACKLE

Blake DeChristopher (r-Jr.) – Is expected to start for the third-straight season ... Started all but one game in 2009 ... A hard worker who has

HEADLINES

Key Losses: tackle Ed Wang; guard Sergio Render

Key Returnees: tackle Blake DeChristopher; guard Jaymes Brooks; center Beau Warren

The three returnees combined for 35 starts last season with DeChristopher and Warren earning honorable mention All-ACC honors. Their leadership role will be important as the Hokies continue to build their line depth.

Battle to Watch: The Hokies need three tackles and expect Andrew Lanier to be in the battle, whether it be at right tackle, or with Nick Becton [at left tackle]. The coaches would also like to see David Wang and Vinston Painter battle to see who the No. 3 guard is and see who can get the most playing time.

Breakout Player: Nick Becton is the guy Tech is looking to for a breakout spring. Becton needs to come in and show he's ready to play after having two seasons to learn the ropes.

been very consistent ... Needs to improve some fundamental aspects of his game this spring.

Andrew Lanier (r-Jr.) – Started in place of Blake DeChristopher in the Duke game ... Did a solid job in the matchup ... May also see some reps at left tackle and could vie for that position opening ... His continued progress this spring will be extremely important for the Hokies.

Matt Baldwin (r-Jr.) – A hard worker out of Oakwood, Va. ... Has been in the program and knows the system ... Gives the Hokies a good, solid backup.

Coach Newsome on the offensive line: "Overall, a year ago, I thought we were pretty good up front, especially at the end of the season. We did really well in the run game, and of course that is a credit to the guys up front, plus the great backs behind us. Those things work hand in hand. We did a better job in protection as the year went on. I felt we were a really solid group. We lost two starters off that group, but we have one young man in there, in Greg Nosal, who has played a lot. We have capable people to take over at the tackle position."

RECEIVERS & TIGHT ENDS

SPLIT END

Jarrett Boykin (Jr.) – Led the Hokies in receptions, receiving yards, yards per catch and touchdown catches in 2009 ... Hauled in 40 receptions for 835 yards and five touchdowns ... Finished the season strong ... Continues to improve and play consistent ... Coaches are looking for a big spring ... Needs to improve on perimeter blocking ... A big, physical body who impresses coaches with his work ethic.

Marcus Davis (r-So.) – Moved to wide receiver last spring, and kept getting better every week during the fall ... Concentrated more and played more physical on the perimeter as the season went along ... Made plays vertically down the field ... Coaches are excited about his potential.

Xavier Boyce (r-So.) – Made great strides last preseason to earn the start in the first game of the year versus Alabama ... Started three games in all and caught a touchdown pass against Marshall ... Needs to play consistently and improve on his ball skills during the spring.

D.J. Coles (So.) – Provides depth at the split end position ... Played primarily on special teams last season ... Saw action in three games at receiver ... A big, tall body who is athletic and can run ... Will be in the battle for playing time.

FLANKER

Danny Coale (r-Jr.) – Turned in 29 receptions on the season, ranking second on the team ... Made one of the most exciting plays of the year, catching an 81-yard pass in the waning minutes against Nebraska to set up the go-ahead touchdown ... Has improved his consistency ... Understands the game and continues to get better ... Needs to step up and be a leader this spring.

Dyrell Roberts (Jr.) – Continues to improve as he has gotten bigger, faster and stronger this off-season ... Needs to keep at it in the weight room to push Danny Coale at the flanker position this spring ... Caught 22 balls last year in 13 games ... Has big-play capabilities, but needs to use the spring to get more consistent and more physical.

Patrick Terry (r-Jr.) – Spring practice will prove important for him ... Needs to become an everydown player ... Has improved, but needs to get more consistent.

Austin Fuller (r-So.) – Moved from the split end position ... Has good hands, but needs to improve on route-running and overall understanding of the playbook ... Is improving heading into the spring.

Nubian Peak (r-Fr.) – A young player who can run and stretch the field vertically ... Played running back in high school and is in the same mold as Dyrell Roberts ... Is learning the wide receiver position and getting better ... Will be thrown into the fire this spring to see what he can do.

Ben Barber (r-Fr.) – Another redshirted player who hopes to gain some attention ... Spring will be important to work on his consistency ... Coaches want to see where he fits in the picture.

Coach Sherman on the wide receivers:
"Overall the group is ready. We can't use the excuse that we are young anymore. We need to step up and make plays and play an important role in this offense. We need to be more physical on the perimeter, because we have good running backs who can take it the length of the field. So we have to do our part. We can't just be worried about if we are getting thrown the ball or not."

TIGHT ENDS

Andre Smith (r-Sr.) – Moves into the top spot after being a key member of the rotation the past three seasons ... Coaches have a tremendous amount of confidence in him ... Has performed very well and made some big plays for the Hokies ... An excellent run blocker ... Is vastly improved in the passing game ... Will give up reps to the younger players during the spring.

Prince Parker (r-Sr.) – Moved over from wide receiver in the fall ... A huge target who is easy to see out on the field ... Has receiver qualities ... Understands that the blocking aspect is where he must get better ... Can earn a role if he shows he can make plays, especially in the middle of the field.

Randall Dunn (r-So.) – Will be getting his first concentrated look at tight end after switching from

HEADLINES

Key Losses: tight end Greg Boone; tight end Sam Wheeler

Key Returnees: split end Jarrett Boykin; flanker Danny Coale; flanker Dyrell Roberts; tight end Andre Smith

Boykin, Coale and Roberts combined for 92 catches and 10 touchdowns in 2009 as sophomores. Smith, a regular the past three seasons, returns as the only player with playing experience at the tight end position.

Battle to Watch: One of the major concerns on offense is developing depth at tight end. The critical battle for the backup duties will feature a variety of challengers who all have one thing in common: minimal experience.

Breakout Player: The game is starting to slow down for Marcus Davis and he appears to be ready to start playing faster. He showed signs of that from the second half of last season on through the bowl game. If he picks up where he left off and is consistent, the Hokies will have another playmaker.

wide receiver ... A positive in the passing game ... Is working diligently to get bigger and stronger to handle the physical aspects of the position ... Can run and stretch the field ... His progress will be important in shoring up the position.

Eric Martin (r-Fr.) – A tough player who is getting stronger ... Needs to continue those efforts ... Made a good showing in middle drills and zone blocking drills during Tech's bowl game practices ... If he continues to build on that aspect, there could be a role for him right away in the team's two tight end sets.

Rob Stanton (r-Sr.) – A hard worker who was nagged by injuries throughout last year ... Knows the position and has been in the system ... Just needs to step up and play this spring.

Coach Stinespring on the tight ends:
 "For the first time in awhile, tight end is a concern for us going into the spring. The only player returning that has any playing time with the game on the line is Andre Smith. We've got to develop some depth there in a hurry. But it's not just about whose the backup ... we've got to find out who can play at this position. This spring is critical for our tight end spot. "

RUNNING BACKS & QBS

TAILBACKS

Ryan Williams (So.) – Set numerous school and ACC records on the way to 1,655 yards rushing and 22 total touchdowns in 2009 ... A third-team Sporting News All-American and consensus Freshman All-America pick ... Named ACC Rookie of the Year and first-team All-ACC ... Coaches do not believe he has peaked yet ... Worked very hard in the off-season and is expected to carry that over to spring practice.

Darren Evans (r-Jr.) – Coming off a knee injury suffered last August which forced him to miss the entire 2009 season ... Biggest thing in the spring will be regaining confidence in the knee ... A tough, punishing runner ... Was a freshman All-American and the MVP of the Orange Bowl after rushing for 1,265 yards as a freshman in 2008.

David Wilson (So.) – Is going to be a special player ... Rushed for 334 yards and four touchdowns in his true freshman season ... An outstanding football player who the coaches like ... Competed in the 60-meter dash, long jump and triple jump for the Virginia Tech track and field team during the off-season.

Kenny Lewis, Jr. (r-Sr.) – Has worked extremely hard to get himself back into position to be a competitor again following a series of injuries ... A team leader and a smart football player ... Hopes to come through the spring healthy and show what he can do.

Tony Gregory (r-Fr.) – One of the fastest players on the team ... Could be used as a tailback or a combination of tailback and slot receiver ... Worked very hard in the off-season ... Coaches will be watching to see how he does when he gets his reps this spring.

FULLBACK

Kenny Younger (r-Sr.) – Split time with Kenny Jefferson at fullback last season, and played in all 13 games ... A terrific player who is very strong ... Rates as an excellent blocker who can catch the football out of the backfield ... The leading contender for the fullback duties.

Josh Oglesby (r-Jr.) – Played well in the fall, seeing action in all 13 games at tailback ... Rushed for 335 yards and two touchdowns on 78 carries ... Works hard and runs hard ... Made some great plays for Tech during the fall ... Is being moved to fullback for spring practice and should challenge Kenny Younger for the top duties

Coach Hite on the running backs: "From top to bottom the tailback spot is the best situation I have ever had during my 32 years here at Virginia Tech. They are outstanding players and outstanding people also. It is a lot of fun being around them, and I think the competition at that spot is going to make each one of them better. I think, at the same time, they are each other's biggest cheerleaders. They are really hoping each other does well when they get their opportunities in there."

Ryan Williams

Tyrod Taylor (Sr.) – Had a great 2009 season, passing for 2,311 yards and rushing for another 370 ... Threw 13 touchdown passes, and tallied five rushing touchdowns ... Coaches are really pleased with the development he made from 2008-09 ... Look for him to take off from where he left off last year and expand ... Spring will be very important for him to continue to improve.

Ju-Ju Clayton (r-So.) – Still a little bit of an unknown ... Played sparingly last fall and completed an 80-yard touchdown pass against Boston College ... This will be a critical spring for him to get better ... Needs to improve his consistency and eliminate those two or three bad throws ... Is smart, and the coaches like the way he works.

Logan Thomas (r-Fr.) – Redshirted last year, but received practice reps at quarterback ... Spring will be big for him to take the next step ... Hopes to make a lot of progress this spring, having been in the system for a season ... Is a big, tall athlete with a strong arm and tremendous upside ... Is also a very smart player who understands the

Key Losses: fullback Kenny Jefferson

Key Returnees: quarterback Tyrod Taylor; tailback Ryan Williams; tailback Darren Evans

Taylor is coming off his best season and showed signs of continuing improvement, making a bundle of big plays during the final five games. Williams broke Tech's all-time single-season rushing record as a freshman and will be joined this season by Evans, who rushed for over 1,200 yards as a freshman before sitting out last season with a knee injury.

Battle to Watch: While there is going to be daily competition at the talent-rich tailback position, the most important backfield battle of the spring will be for the No. 2 quarterback job. Ju-Ju Clayton and Logan Thomas have the most exposure to the system behind starter Tyrod Taylor and will start the spring as the main candidates.

Breakout Player: Redshirt freshman Logan Thomas has the ability and potential to make the most advancement in the backfield. Experience-wise, Thomas will get the opportunity to make big strides after getting a limited amount of work during the fall.

game and makes good decisions ... Coaches are excited about his potential.

Ricardo Young (Fr.) – Enrolled at Tech in January ... Graduated early from H.D. Woodson High School in Washington, D.C. ... Has impressed the coaches so far in meetings ... A student of the game who has already spent time studying film and should gain a lot from spring practice.

coach O'Cain on the quarterbacks: "I really like the position. Obviously I like the depth that we have now. If you look back to this time last year, we had virtually no depth. Tyrod and Ju-Ju were the only two here who had played the position. Now we have Tyrod, Ju-Ju, Logan and the three young guys. I like the depth and I like the young men I am coaching. They are all students of the game, they work hard and they want to be good. I like their temperaments, so I believe it is a good solid position."

DEFENSIVE LINE

John Graves

END

Steven Friday (r-Sr.) – Was solid and reliable last season while serving as the top backup to Jason Worilds ... Will get the opportunity to take over Worilds' spot ... A strong, athletic performer who has shown he can make plays ... Consistency and productivity will be the keys.

Chris Drager (r-Jr.) – A converted tight end who made steady progress as a top backup at end in the fall ... Made some big-time plays and became more productive as the season went on ... Not as flashy as some, but always comes to play ... Will be a major contender for one of the starting spots this spring.

Jake Johnson (Jr.) – Will be getting his first exposure to end after starting eight games at mike linebacker in the fall ... A tough, hard-nosed player who is strong and aggressive ... Coaches are hoping the move will help him maximize those strengths ... Will get a lot of work.

J.R. Collins (r-Fr.) – One of the young players who really has a chance to step up this spring ... Is big, fast and smart ... Has an ability to shift to another gear ... Impressed the coaches with his level of play in scrimmages.

James Gayle (r-Fr.) – Another promising newcomer with a lot of potential ... Has a good frame and can run ... Still needs to learn the system better ... Coaches believe he can be physical enough ... Loves to play and will get his share of reps.

Isaiah Hamlete (r-So.) – Has improved his play and is in the mix to get reps ... A bright, young player who has worked hard ... Will have a chance to put himself in contention for playing time.

Duan Perez-Means (Fr.) – Underwent shoulder surgery during the fall Did not enroll in school until January ... Has some catching up to do in terms of strength and familiarity with the system ... Coaches like his potential and will evaluate his status during the spring.

Tyrel Wilson (r-Fr.) – Redshirted in the fall after injuring his shoulder ... Underwent surgery, but will be ready for spring ... Coaches will get their first real look at him as he gets reps this spring.

TACKLES

John Graves (r-Sr.) - A two-year starter Had to battle nagging injuries last fall, but was back healthy and making a lot of plays against Tennessee in the Chick-fil-A Bowl A very motivated leader who will be counted on to anchor the line Won't get as many reps in the spring as the younger players Coaches already know he can play.

Antoine Hopkins (r-So.) — A pivotal player for the Hokies ... Possesses a lot of potential, but has yet to reach it ... Needs to step his game up and play harder, faster and with more consistency ... Has the ability to be an impact player in the middle and needs to be.

Kwamaine Battle (r-Jr.) – Can play either tackle position ... Has yet to see extensive playing time, but has been productive when he was called on ... Injuries, including two shoulder surgeries, have slowed his progress ... Coaches are hoping he can regain his explosiveness and become a disrupter this spring.

Dwight Tucker (r-So.) – Has some quickness and will get the same amount of reps as the others ... Needs to show he can be a consistent player ... Could find a spot in the two-deep if he does.

Courtney Prince (r-So.) – Got off the ball, was physical and played with good leverage before

HEADLINES

Key Losses: end Jason Worilds; end Nekos Brown; tackle Cordarrow Thompson; tackle Demetrius Taylor

Key Returnee: tackle John Graves

Graves has 22 career starts and is the only returning starter along the defensive front to have started a game on defense. He was slowed by nagging injuries for much of the 2009 season, but figures to be a real factor in 2010.

Battle to Watch: Four or five players will figure into the battle for the starting tackle job vacated by Cordarrow Thompson.

Antoine Hopkins, Kwamaine Battle, Dwight Tucker, Courtney Prince and Joe Jones are all going to get reps.

Who's going to come out on top? Nobody knows.

Breakout Player: The coaches think redshirt freshman J.R. Collins possesses a lot of playmaking potential from the defensive end position. If so, Collins could emerge from the spring as an impact player.

suffering a knee injury last spring ... Wasn't the same guy when he returned late in the 2009 season, but the coaches are hopeful that he will come on this spring ... Could give the Hokies a real boost if he gets ready to play.

Joe Jones (r-So.) – Could be the dark horse in the race for playing time at tackle ... Spent his first year at end before moving to tackle in the fall ... Showed signs near the end of the year that he was starting to cut it loose a bit and not playing tentative ... Could be in the thick of the competition if he continues that trend this spring.

Coach Wiles on the defensive line:
"We've got to get some tackles ... and ends. You look at it and we lost a ton of production. Spring practice is not necessarily going to be about us going out and beating the offense. It's going to be about getting the right kids the reps, seeing who can play and finding who can emerge as the four ends, who can be the second, third, fourth and fifth tackles. There is going to be an evaluation during individual work, group work, scrimmage work and team work. It is going to be very competitive for who we roll out with for every practice."

Barquell Rivers (r-Jr.) – Will miss spring practice after undergoing surgery to repair his left quadriceps tendon in early March ... Is expected to miss five to six months ... Started every game at mike linebacker in 2009 and is the team's top returning tackler with 96 ... Is expected to make a full recovery.

Bruce Taylor (r-So.) – Will work in the top spot at mike this spring following the injury to Barquell Rivers ... A heady, young player who has shown athletic ability in space and can rush the passer ... Must continue to get stronger ... Took a step forward in his progress midway through the 2009 season ... Coaches are expecting him to take another step in his development this spring.

Telvion Clark (r-Fr.) – Was impressive during scrimmages and middle drills while redshirting in the fall ... An explosive, powerful player ... Has all the tools from an athletic standpoint ... Is developing an understanding of how to play the position ... Has the coaches excited about his future.

Jack Tyler (r-Fr.) – Another young player with promise ... A tough, hard-nosed competitor with a good football IQ ... Has the dependability and consistency coaches look for.

Quillie Odom (Jr.) – Will get a look at the mike position after working primarily at backer in the past ... Continues to develop and learn the system ... A hard worker who needs to improve his consistency in order to earn playing time.

BACKER

Lyndell Gibson (r-So.) – Probably Tech's most improved player defensively during the fall ... Really came on, starting the last five games ... Finished with 53 tackles, seventh-best on the team and fourth-best among returnees ... Is good against the run and the pass ... An instinctive guy who has shown he can be a playmaker.

Tariq Edwards (r-Fr.) — A newcomer who could challenge for playing time ... Has all the characteristics coaches look for in a linebacker ... Mixes good size with speed, quickness and a good football IQ ... Performed well in middle drills while redshirting in the fall ... Will get a lot of reps during the spring.

Chase Williams (Fr.) – Enrolled in January straight from high school ... The coaches get a chance to evaluate him during the spring ... Brings a lot of talent and a tremendous upside ... Was a high school All-American at Loudoun County after posting 173 tackles this past fall.

Lyndell Gibson

Coach Foster on the inside linebackers: "I really thought the linebackers played very well down the stretch last year, but we want to continue to improve. With Barquell Rivers out, Bruce Taylor will be our starting mike for the spring. We want to play faster, and I think that is going to come because now, with experience, the game has slowed down for guys like Bruce and Lyndell Gibson. Then, there are some young players I think will push some of the guys that played last year. We need to get Barquell back, but I'm excited about this group of linebackers."

WHIP

Jeron Gouveia-Winslow (r-So.) – A tall, lanky player with a knack for making plays ... The most well-rounded candidate at the position ... Is smart and tough ... Does everything pretty well ... Will get a lot of reps this spring.

Alonzo Tweedy (r-So.) - A heat-seeking missile on special teams during the fall Has the most physical ability at the whip position Can really run and hit , but must develop a better feel for the position Will get a chance to show what he can do Coaches are hoping he can convert his success on special teams to defense.

Lorenzo Williams (r-So.) – Played some at free safety as a true freshman in 2008 ... Was redshirted in the fall and moved to whip during the season ... Has a lot of skills to go with good height and a good

HEADLINES

Key Losses: whip linebacker Cody Grimm; whip linebacker Cam Martin

Key Returnees: mike linebacker Barquell Rivers; backer Lyndell Gibson

Rivers started every game last season and ranked second on the team in tackles, but will miss spring practice after undergoing surgery to repair his left quadriceps tendon in early March. Gibson came on strong during the season and ended up taking over the starting job at backer following the North Carolina game.

Battle to Watch: There is no heir apparent to Grimm at whip linebacker, where every spot is up for grabs. Jeron Gouveia-Winslow, Alonzo Tweedy and Lorenzo Williams are the main combatants in a competition that may well carry over to the fall.

Breakout Candidate: With the injury to Barquell Rivers, redshirt sophomore Bruce Taylor will get an even bigger opportunity to take the next step in his development and use his considerable talents to make an impact at inside linebacker.

football mind \dots Will get work and an opportunity to battle for the top spot.

Zach Luckett (r-Sr.) – Will wear a blue jersey and see very little activity during spring practice after suffering a knee injury in the Virginia game ... One of the team's top special team players ... Has worked hard and made good progress at the whip position ... Is expected back for preseason workouts.

Coach Cavanaugh on the whip linebackers: "We are starting from day one at the whip position, and that happens every three or four years. We lost one of the all-time best players in Cody Grimm and his backup, Cam Martin, who was also a very good player. I've got some guys I think can eventually be good players. We will start the spring with an order of work that each player will get until our first scrimmage. The order could change then, but the depth chart probably won't get sorted out all spring."

DEFENSIVE SECONDARY

Rashad Carmichael

CORNERBACK

Rashad Carmichael (r-Sr.) – His growth as a player was a key factor for the Hokies in 2009 ... Had a team-high six interceptions and was named honorable mention All-ACC ... Is now the senior leader of a young secondary ... An aggressive, productive player who is No. 1 at boundary corner ... Coaches are looking forward to him taking his game to another level.

Jayron Hosley (So.) - Showed real potential during the fall as a true freshman Has a chance to become an outstanding player as he gets more exposure to the position A playmaker on the ball and a very good tackler Is working to get stronger Will be a top candidate for the field corner duties.

Cris Hill (r-Jr.) – Will start the spring working at boundary corner to build familiarity with the position, but could end up challenging for the field spot before workouts end ... A speedy player who can tackle ... Has some experience, just needs to concentrate on knowing the system.

Jerrodd Williams (r-Fr.) – A big corner who showed progress on the scout team during the fall ... Still needs to get stronger, but has a good skill set ... Will work at field corner ... The coaches believe he has playmaking ability, and hope that he will prove it this spring.

Jacob Sykes (r-Jr.) – Contributed on special teams in the fall, blocking a kick that resulted in a TD against Miami Works at boundary corner Has made progress Needs to take another step forward this spring.

FREE SAFETY

Eddie Whitley (Jr.) – Has worked at corner and safety ... Possesses good ability and the mindset that coaches love ... Gives you everything he's got ... Coaches feel he's the leader-type guy you need at free safety ... Needs to show he can hold up to the physical part of the position ... Will start the first half of spring at FS, then may put in some work at rover.

Antone Exum (r-Fr.) – A young player with topnotch ability ... Is big, fast and strong ... Can make plays on the ball ... Needs to take the position by the reins and know the seriousness of it ... Will get more work as spring practice goes along.

Theron Norman (Fr.) – Entered school in January and will open spring at free safety ... Has the type of demeanor you need to play the position ... A tall, athletic player who developed good ball skills while playing wide receiver in high school.

Coach Gray on the defensive backs:
"We've had experienced players the last two years, but right now, we have a relatively new group of guys who haven't played a lot of snaps. I want them to learn and understand our scheme and our technique. By the end of spring practice, I want them to be thorough as far as communicating and playing together in the system that we have. I want to feel real good about these guys, as a group, knowing our package."

ROVER

Davon Morgan (Sr.) – An experienced player who understands the Tech defense Started at rover as a sophomore until injuring his knee Started the last four games there last fall Is confident and aggressive Rates as a good tackler Worked at free safety as a freshman and could play there if needed Is a very vocal leader on the field.

James Hopper (r-Fr.) - A hard worker with good

HEADLINES

Key Losses: free safety Kam Chancellor; cornerback Stephan Virgil; rover Dorian Porch

Key Returnees: cornerback Rashad Carmichael; rover Davon Morgan

Carmichael opened the 2009 season as the starting field corner before moving to the boundary corner spot where he started 11 of the remaining 12 games. Morgan, who started five games in 2008 before suffering a knee injury, won the job back during the 2009 season, starting the last four games. Carmichael led the team in interceptions with six, and both players are ranked among Tech's top five returning tacklers.

Battle to Watch: Eddie Whitley enters spring practice as the front-runner at free safety, but he will likely have to withstand challenges from newcomers Antone Exum and Theron Norman before all is said and done.

Breakout Candidate: Going through off-season meetings and conditioning work, along with spring practice could be a springboard to big things for sophomore Jayron Hosley. Hosley showed tremendous promise as a true freshman in the fall, and will be a top candidate for the field corner position.

strength ... Was redshirted during the fall while working at cornerback ... Moves to the rover spot for spring practice ... Has to learn the position, but will get reps and a chance to battle for the backup duties.

Nick Sheehan (r-Fr.) – Another newcomer to the rover position ... Played free safety on the scout team during the fall after joining the team as a walk-on ... Gives great effort ... Will have a chance to show what he can do.

Wiley Brown (r-So.) – A hard hitter who played rover on the scout team ... Still needs to develop a better understanding of the position ... Will join in the competition for the backup duties.

Coach Cavanaugh on the rovers: "We need a backup to Davon Morgan. Davon is a vocal leader who has experience. He knows the defense and the calls. He will be a traffic cop out there, but it is essential that we find someone to back him up." • • • • • • • • • • • •

SPECIAL TEAMS

Justin Myer

PLACE-KICKER

Justin Myer (Jr.) – Has handled kickoffs the past two seasons and will continue to do so ... Will also battle for the place-kicking duties ... Is the quickest into the ball among the kickers ... Hits the ball well and gets good height, but must become more consistent.

Cody Journel (r-Fr.) – Redshirted during the fall ... Was a prep All-America kicker at nearby Giles High School ... Has ability and a strong leg ... This will be a big spring for him.

Chris Hazley (r-Sr.) – Falls in line with kickers Tech has had the last three seasons ... An older player who has hung around and knows the system ... Is smart, mature and fairly consistent ... Figures to be a strong contender.

Tyler Weiss (r-Jr.) – Has previous college experience as a kicker ... Started for Murray State as a freshman in 2007 ... Made seven of 10 field goal attempts and all 32 of his PATs ... Also handled kickoffs and punted eight times ... Had a long field goal of 48 yards and was the team's second-leading scorer ... Attended New River Community College in 2008 and enrolled at Tech in the fall.

Zach Pickard (r-Fr.) – Joined the team as a walkon after school started in the fall ... Took part in the preseason kicking competition ... Will get another chance to show what he can do this spring.

PUNTER

Brian Saunders (r-Sr.) – Served as the backup to Brent Bowden the past three seasons ... Has a strong leg and has been very good at times ... The only thing that's missing right now is consistency ... That will be the key for him this spring.

Scott Demler (r-So.) – Worked some with the place-kickers last spring ... Will get a look as a punter this time around ... Has shown some good signs ... Has a strong leg and hits it pretty good ... Will be in the competition.

Grant Bowden (r-Fr.) – Brother of Brent Bowden, Tech's punter the past three seasons ... Is tall and rangy like his brother ... Was redshirted in the fall ... Still has some work to do ... Will get a chance to show what he can do this spring.

SNAPPERS

Collin Carroll (r-Jr.) – Handled all the snapping duties as a freshman in 2008 ... Started out last season doing the same before concentrating on just the short snaps after the Miami game ... Has worked on his technique and would like to resume both duties ... Will get a chance to do that during the spring.

Jon Conlon (r-Sr.) – Was in the preseason competition for the snapping duties the past two years ... Also competed last spring ... Coaches feel he has the ability to be a good long snapper.

Ethan Dickerson (r-Fr.) - Joined the team as a walk-on in the fall Got some exposure to the snapping competition Will get another look in the spring.

HOLDER

Brian Saunders (r-Sr.) – Has served as a backup holder the past two seasons ... Will be a frontrunner for the job this spring.

RETURN MEN

Dyrell Roberts (Jr.), David Wilson (So.), Jayron Hosley (So.) and Danny Coale (r-Jr.) – Roberts ranked third in the nation on kickoff returns in

HEADLINES

Key Losses: punter/holder Brent Bowden; place-kicker Matt Waldron; snapper Matt Tuttle

Key Returnees: kickoff man Justin Myer; snapper Collin Carroll; punt returner Jayron Hosley; kickoff returner Dyrell Roberts

Myer is the Hokies' top kickoff man for the third straight season, and will be a candidate for the place-kicking duties. Carroll will work at both the long and short snapper spots this season after giving up the long snapping duties for much of the 2009 season. Hosley and Roberts were among the top return men in the ACC during the fall.

Battle to Watch: For the fourth consecutive season, the Hokies enter spring practice looking for a new place-kicker, but this time, they also need to find a punter. Both positions are wide open and the competition could well stretch into the preseason when several incoming freshmen join the mix.

Breakout Candidate: It remains to be seen if there is one. Perhaps Chris Hazley, perhaps Cody Journell, perhaps Brian Saunders ... it's as wide open as the competition.

the fall, while Wilson added some big returns late in the season ... Others who will likely get a look are Patrick Terry (r-Jr.), Nubian Peak (r-Fr.), Tony Gregory (r-Fr.) and Cris Hill (r-Jr.) ... Hosley ranked fourth in the ACC in punt returns and became the first freshman under Beamer to return a punt for a touchdown ... Coale is slated to be the top backup with competition from Peak and Wilson.

Coach Beamer on the special teams:
"Finding out who our kickers are going to be is a priority. The good news is we've got a lot of talented kickers; the bad news is we're going to have two new kickers out there on national TV against a Top-5 team in our opening game. We are going to be open to competition on special teams this spring knowing that we've got some freshmen coming in that could enter into the competition in August. Whoever is the most consistent is who we will go with."

QUOTING THE COACHES

COACH FRANK BEAMER ON SPRING PRACTICE:

"I think our top priority is finding out who our kickers are going to be, both the punter and the field-goal guy. That is such a key ingredient to a successful season that it has to be a priority. Then I think it goes to defense. That is where the real competition will be. When you lose three of your four starting linemen, a linebacker like Cody Grimm and two starters in your secondary, it leaves you with a lot of holes to fill. I think we have good players, but it's been awhile since we've been this inexperienced on defense, particularly up front. Offensively, I want us to continue to develop. We've got to stabilize our offensive line, and in some cases, we need to find out who the backups are going to be. What I feel is more important here, though, is to continue to develop consistency within the offense.

"I like the makeup of this team. You can see some real leadership developing during prespring workouts. I think opening the season with a Top 5 team like Boise State gives us a great opportunity, just like last year when we played Alabama or a couple of years ago when we played Southern Cal. I believe playing a top team right out of the gate drives you during spring practice, drives you during summer workouts and hopefully, overall, will help us be a better football team next fall."

COACH BRYAN STINESPRING ON THE OFFENSE:

"We want to build on the way we played over the final half of last season. I think we came into our own, but we want to keep on improving. We need to stay hungry in terms of how much better we can be. That is first and foremost as a goal for the spring. We also must continue to make plays. We doubled the number of big plays that we made from the year before, and I thought that was big for us. To be able to have success, you've got to be able to make some plays down the field, whether it's running the ball or throwing the ball. We need to continue that mindset.

"Then it gets down to individual positions. This spring is critical for our tight end position. As for the rest of the offensive front, we like the nucleus we have returning. Our line was greatly improved, and maintaining or bettering that level will likely pivot around three or four guys and how far they come along. We need to make a decision in regards to a backup QB and how we're going to use Logan Thomas, but obviously with Tyrod Taylor coming back, along with all of our tailbacks and receivers, we feel very good about who we have at our skilled positions."

COACH BUD FOSTER ON THE DEFENSE:

"As a whole, we've got some holes to fill. This is going to be the first time in a long time that we have to replace so many starters up front. We've got to find a couple of guys in the secondary, where our free safety position is a big concern, and we also need to find a playmaker at whip linebacker. Our goal is to fill those holes with good players and make sure they learn the position and understand the expectations we have within our defense. Then, hopefully, they will develop into their roles and increase their performance and productivity levels. We are going to be as young this year as we've been in a long, long time. There are a lot of question marks."

Coach Has Led Hokies to 17 Consecutive Bowl Appearances

Then Frank Beamer accepted the job as head football coach at his alma mater in 1987, his goal was for the Virginia Tech football program to reach a consistent level of excellence. The Hokies have come a long way since then and, along the way, Beamer has become one of the most respected and successful coaches on the college football scene.

Under Beamer, Tech football has enjoyed unprecedented success with 17 consecutive bowl appearances, three ACC titles, three ACC Coastal Division crowns, three BIG EAST Conference titles, two BCS bowl victories and a trip to the national championship game. Since the beginning of the 1995 season, only Ohio State and Florida have posted more wins than Virginia Tech, and the Hokies have finished in the Top 20 in 14 of the past 17 seasons, including six Top 10 finishes during the last 12 years. Tech and Texas are the only FBS teams to have won 10 or more games in each of the last six seasons.

Beamer's Hokies are coming off a 10-3 season that saw them win their final five games, capped by an impressive 37-14 victory over the University of Tennessee in the 2009 Chick-fil-A Bowl. That win gave Tech bowl wins in back-to-back seasons for the first time in school history. Beamer guided the 2008 team to an ACC title and a 20-7 win over Cincinnati in the FedEx Orange Bowl.

STABILITY AT THE TOP EQUALS SUCCESS

One of the keys to the continuing success of Virginia Tech football has been the stability of the program. That stability begins at the top with head coach Frank Beamer, whose 23 years at the Hokie helm have helped the program develop a sense of the stability and consistency currently enjoyed by just a handful of other Division I-A schools. Only one of the 120 Division I-A head football coaches has been at his current school longer than Beamer - Penn State's Joe Paterno. The Hokies' head man, his associate head coach and his two coordinators have a combined total of 97 years of full-time coaching experience at Virginia Tech alone.

Coaching Excellence

Virginia Tech defensive coordinator Bud Foster won the prestigious Broyles Award as the nation's top assistant coach following the 2006 season. Foster was a finalist for the award in 1999, 2001 and 2005. He was also named the No. 1 defensive coordinator in Division I-A by rivals.com prior to the 2005 season.

The Highest Compliment

In a Seattle Times poll of more than 40 Division I-A head football coaches prior to the 2005 season, Virginia Tech's Frank Beamer was picked as the most respected coach among current I-A head coaches.

coach of the year in 1999, is tied for second among Division I FBS coaches in victories with 229 over 29 seasons as a head coach. Entering his 24th year at the Tech helm, his overall record as the head man of the Hokies stands at 187-92-2. He became Tech's winningest football coach during the 1997 campaign. Counting six years as head coach at Murray State prior to joining the Hokies, Beamer's overall 29-year record is 229-115-4 heading into the 2010 season.

A spot in the Nokia Sugar Bowl to play No.1 Florida State for the national championship focused widespread attention on Virginia Tech and its football program following the 1999 season. Although the Hokies fell short in their bid for the national title, they proved that they belong among the top teams in the college ranks.

For his part in the Hokies' magical 1999 season, Beamer earned eight national coach of the year awards. He was named the Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year, the GTE Coach of the Year, the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year, the Paul 'Bear' Bryant Coach of the Year, The Associated Press Coach of the Year, the Walter Camp Football Foundation/Street & Smith's Coach of the Year, the Maxwell Football Club Coach of the Year and the Woody Hayes Coach of the Year. He also was named the BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year for the third time.

There have been plenty of other accolades for the Hokies' coach. In 1997, he was inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame. He called it the biggest honor of his entire career. With the induction, he became the first active coach at the university to be honored in that fashion.

During his undergraduate days at Tech, Beamer started three years as a cornerback and played on the Hokies' 1966 and 1968 Liberty Bowl teams. He received a B.S. in distributive education from Tech in 1969 and a master's in guidance from Radford in 1972. Then came the start of the Beamer coaching career.

He began as an assistant at Radford High School from 1969 through 1971. Then, after one season as a graduate assistant at the University of Maryland, he went to The Citadel where he worked five seasons under Bobby Ross and one year under Art Baker. His last two years at The Citadel, Beamer was the defensive coordinator.

In 1979, Beamer went to Murray State as the defensive coordinator under Mike Gottfried. He was named head coach at Murray State in 1981 and went on to compile a six-year record of 42 wins, 23 losses and two ties.

The Tech coach was born in Mt. Airy, N.C., and grew up in Hillsville, Va. At Hillsville High, he earned 11 varsity letters as a three-sport athlete in football, basketball and baseball.

Beamer, 63, is married to the former Cheryl Oakley of Richmond, Va. They have two children, Shane, a former member of his dad's football team at Tech and now an assistant at the University of South Carolina; and daughter Casey, a 2003 graduate of Virginia Tech who works for the Carolina Panthers of the NFL. Shane and his wife, Emily have a daughter, Sutton.

ATLANTA, Ga. - Fifth-ranked Alabama scored 18 fourth-quarter points to pound out a 34-24 season opening victory against the No. 7 Virginia Tech Hokies in the Chickfil-A Kickoff Game at the Georgia Dome.

A vocal crowd of 74,954 looked on as Tech clung to a 17-16 lead heading into the fourth quarter despite being outgained 318-105 yards over the first three periods. After a costly holding penalty stalled a promising Tech drive, UA moved quickly to capture the lead.

It took just two plays for Alabama to move 54 yards for a touchdown, and, when the Hokies fumbled the ensuing kickoff, the tide had truly turned.

The Hokies continued to battle, cutting the lead to 27-24 on redshirt freshman Ryan Williams' second rushing touchdown of the game. In the end, however, it was Tide tailback Mark Ingram who proved to be the biggest difference maker with two fourth-quarter TDs and a final total of 150 yards on the ground and 35 more on receptions.

HOKIES - CRIMSON TIDE GAME NOTES

- Dyrell Roberts' 98-yard kickoff return for a touchdown was the fifth-longest in school history and was the sixth kickoff return for a TD during Coach Frank Beamer's tenure. Roberts became the 31st different player under Beamer to score on special teams. His 195 yards on four kickoff returns was the second-highest single game total under Beamer, following only Marcus Mickel's 214 yards against Clemson in 1989.
- Freshman Antoine Hopkins became the eighth defensive tackle to intercept a pass during Coach Beamer's time at Tech. He returned a second-quarter pick 6 yards to set up the Hokies' first touchdown of the game.

True freshman David Wilson ran for 165 yards and a touchdown against the Thundering Herd.

BLACKSBURG – Youth served Virginia Tech well as a group of underclassmen fueled the No. 14 Hokies' 52-10 victory over Marshall University at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

Freshmen tailbacks Ryan Williams and David Wilson combined for 329 yards rushing and four touchdowns; freshman return man Jayron Hosley weaved 64 yards for a TD on a punt, and young receivers Dyrell Roberts and Xavier Boyce hauled in their first collegiate TD passes as the Hokies exploded for 605 yards of offense.

Williams ran for three touchdowns in the first half to help Tech to a 35-7 halftime lead. The redshirt freshman carried 16 times for 164 yards. Wilson, a true freshman, topped him by a yard when he picked up 165 yards on just 12 carries.

Tech's defense posted a solid overall performance, limiting Marshall to 126 yards on the ground and 126 yards through the airways. The Thundering Herd managed just 34 yards in the first quarter and 16 yards during the fourth quarter.

HOKIES - HERD GAME NOTES

- Starters Greg Boone (TE) and Stephan Virgil (CB) did not dress for the game due to injuries.
- True freshman Jayron Hosley scored the 122nd non-offensive touchdown for Tech since Frank Beamer took over as the head coach. Hosley's 64-yard punt return for a TD was the 17th punt return for a score under Beamer. The last player to return a punt for a score for Tech was Justin Harper during the 2008 FedEx Orange Bowl against Kansas.
- The last time two Tech players rushed for over 100 yards in the same game was 2005 when Cedric Humes (134) and Branden Ore (104) did it against UNC.

Tech's defense kept the Hokies in the game, limiting the Cornhuskers to five field goals.

Tyrod Taylor scrambled to keep this play alive, an 11-yard touchdown to Dyrell Roberts to win the game.

BLACKSBURG - Tyrod Taylor hit Dyrell Roberts with an 11-yard touchdown pass with 21 seconds remaining as Virginia Tech registered a stunning 16-15 victory over No. 19 Nebraska before a sellout crowd at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

After being held to just five yards of offense in the third quarter and 53 yards total in the second half, Tech took possession of the ball at its own 12, trailing 15-10 with 1:44 to go and no timeouts. The Huskers trapped Taylor for a 1-yard loss on the first play of the drive, but the Tech junior escaped the pressure just long enough on the next play to find receiver Danny Coale on an 81-yard pass down the right sideline to the Nebraska 3. With 1:11 left, the Huskers sacked Taylor for an 8-yard loss. After missing on a second-down pass to tight end Greg Boone, Taylor took the third-down snap and scrambled for a full nine seconds before firing his 11-yard game-winner to Roberts.

Roberts set up a touchdown on Tech's opening drive of the game with a 76-yard kickoff return. From that point until the final minutes, however, the Husker defense completely stymied the Hokies.

Even with 169 yards rushing from Roy Helu, Jr., Nebraska was forced to settle for five field goals by Alex Henery for all of its points. The Huskers could not reach the end zone against the Hokie defense, despite having first downs at the Tech 13, 6 and 3.

Ryan Williams rushed for 107 yards and a score, while Kam Chancellor and Rashad Carmichael intercepted passes for the Hokies. Carmichael's pick came on the final play to seal the win.

HOKIES - HUSKERS GAME NOTES

- Eddie Whitley earned his first collegiate start in place of injured cornerback Stephan Virgil. Fullback Kenny Jefferson also made his first start for the Hokies.
- Nebraska kicker Alex Henery's five field goals tied the Lane Stadium record for most field goals by an opposing player. Virginia's Rafael Garcia had five at Tech in 1994.
- Tailback Ryan Williams rushed for over 100 yards for the second-straight week, picking up 107 yards on 21 carries against Nebraska. Williams also scored his sixth touchdown of the season.
- Tyrod Taylor's 81-yard pass to Danny Coale was the longest completion for a Tech player since 2002 when Bryan Randall completed 87-yard passes to both Keith Willis and Ernest Wilford.

Dorian Porch's sack and forced fumble set the tone against the 'Canes.

Even a game-long rainstorm couldn't dampen the enthusiasm of another sellout crowd that watched the Hokies outgain the Hurricanes 242 yards to 54 on the way to a 21-0 halftime lead. Tech attacked the visiting 'Canes in all phases of the game.

A forced fumble on a sack by rover Dorian Porch set up Tech's first touchdown, a 2-yard dive by tailback Ryan Williams. Five minutes later, quarterback Tyrod Taylor capped a seven-play, 89-yard Tech drive with a 48-yard touchdown pass to Jarrett Boykin.

After marching all the way to the Miami 8 and coming away without points late in the second quarter, the Hokies forced a three-and-out and blocked the UM punt for another TD.

It took Miami just five plays to score after returning the second-half kickoff to the Tech 46, but that would be the only points the high-powered UM offense could muster. Tech's defense held the 'Canes to 59 yards on the ground and just 209 overall. The Hokies collected nine tackles for loss, including three sacks. They also forced a pair of fumbles, intercepted a pass and broke up five others.

Williams was a workhorse, carrying the football 34 times for 150 yards and two touchdowns as Tech piled up 370 total yards of offense.

HOKIES - HURRICANES GAME NOTES

- Redshirt senior Demetrius Taylor got his first collegiate start, filling in for injured John Graves at defensive tackle.
- Ryan Williams became just the second Tech freshman to rush for 100 yards or more in three-straight games. Kevin Jones did it in 2001 against Temple, Virginia and West Virginia.
- Jacob Sykes blocked his first collegiate punt in the second quarter, leading to a 1-yard return by Matt Reidy for his first collegiate touchdown.
- Tyrod Taylor rushed for 75 yards, passing Michael Vick for third place on the career rushing list for Tech quarterbacks in the process.

Defensive end Jason Worilds breaks up a pass in Duke's end zone to prevent a touchdown.

DURHAM, N.C. - No. 6 Virginia Tech fought off upset-minded Duke for a 34-26 ACC road win at Wallace Wade Stadium.

The determined Blue Devils struck early with quarterback Thaddeus Lewis hitting tight end Brandon King on a 48-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter for a 7-0 lead. Tech responded quickly, moving 60 yards in four plays to tie the score on a 36-yard strike from Tyrod Taylor to Danny Coale. The Hokies went on to take the lead for good with 10 second-quarter points, but Duke never let Tech out of its sights.

While Duke concentrated on stopping freshman tailback Ryan Williams and the Tech ground game, quarterback Tyrod Taylor went to the air, hitting 17 of 22 passes for 327 yards and two touchdowns.

The Hokies' ground attack finally showed itself in the final quarter with Williams and sophomore Josh Oglesby combining for 93 yards on a pair of scoring drives capped by Oglesby touchdown runs of 12 and 19 yards.

HOKIES - BLUE DEVILS GAME NOTES

- Redshirt sophomore Andrew Lanier made his first collegiate start, filling in for injured Blake DeChristopher at right tackle.
- Josh Oglesby, a Garner, N.C., native, scored his first collegiate touchdowns during the game in Durham. He scored the Hokies' last two TDs of the game, breaking tackles on the way to 12- and 19-yard scores.
- Jarrett Boykin, another North Carolinian, had a career-high 144 yards receiving.

Marcus Davis was on the receiving end of an 80-yard touchdown pass from Ju-Ju Clayton late in the game.

BLACKSBURG — Virginia Tech scored on its first four possessions on the way to a decisive 48-14 ACC home victory against nemesis Boston College. The win snapped a threegame losing streak to BC in regular season games and came by the second biggest margin in the series.

A Matt Waldron field goal, two Tyrod Taylor touchdown passes and a 1-yard TD plunge by tailback Ryan Williams put Tech on top 24-0 with nearly 12 minutes still remaining in the first half.

The Hokies failed to score on their fifth possession; but, on the first play after punting the ball back to the Eagles, Tech cornerback Rashad Carmichael intercepted a BC pass and returned it 22 yards for a score and a 31-0 advantage.

An 80-yard strike from Ju-Ju Clayton to Marcus Davis and a 1-yard run by freshman David Wilson capped the scoring.

Tech's offense posted over 200 yards rushing and 200 yards passing, while the defense limited the Eagles to 163 total yards, including just three yards in the first half.

HOKIES - EAGLES GAME NOTES

- · Virginia Tech rushed for 235 yards and passed for 206 yards during the win over BC. The last time the Hokies had 200 yards or more both rushing and passing in the same game was against BC in 2005.
- · Backup quarterback Ju-Ju Clayton posted his first collegiate completion in the game, an 80-yard scoring toss to Marcus Davis, who was making his first collegiate reception. It was the longest pass play in Tech history involving two freshmen.
- Between the first and second quarter, Virginia Tech's Darren Evans presented Boston College's Mark Herzlich with a check for $9,494.94 as the result of a fundraiser to help raise money for Ewing's Sarcoma research in honor of Herzlich.

Linebacker Barquell Rivers had a career-high 16 tackles against the Yellow Jackets.

ATLANTA, Ga. - Georgia Tech controlled the football for more than 22 minutes of the second half in grinding out a methodical 28-23 victory over the No. 4 Virginia Tech Hokies at Bobby Dodd Stadium. The loss snapped a five-game Hokie winning streak.

The Yellow Jackets attempted just two passes among their 44 second-half offensive plays, overwhelming the Hokies with 272 rushing yards. Georgia Tech quarterback Josh Nesbitt scored three touchdown and led his team to 360 total yards, with 309 of those coming on the ground.

Virginia Tech, which managed just 19 offensive plays in the second half, missed out on some early chances and never managed to catch up. Tailback Ryan Williams contributed a 100-yard rushing game and two TDs, highlighted by a 66-yard run, despite missing some time during the week.

The Yellow Jackets, who ran the ball on 33 of their final 34 plays, ran for 309 yards, the most against the Hokies since allowing 308 yards to Clemson - head coach Frank Beamer's first game - in 1987. Georgia Tech also completed just one pass, a new record low for a Tech opponent under Beamer.

HOKIES - YELLOW JACKETS GAME NOTES

- Redshirt sophomore offensive guard Greg Nosal made his first career start in place of regular starting left guard Sergio Render, who had a tender shoulder. Nosal and Render ended up splitting time during the game.
- Linebacker Barquell Rivers posted a career-best 16 tackles against the Jackets. Rivers was credited with four solo tackles and 12 assists. He had one tackle behind the line.
- Ryan Williams rushed for 100 yards in the game. It was Williams' fifth 100-yard rushing performance of the season, which set a new school record for a freshman.
- Georgia Tech's 38:22 time of possession marked the fourth-most by an opponent under head coach Frank Beamer.

BLACKSBURG – North Carolina's Casey Barth booted a 21-yard field goal as time expired to boost the Tar Heels to a 20-17 Thursday night victory over No. 14 Virginia Tech at Lane Stadium/ Worsham Field. It was just the fifth loss in a Thursday night ESPN game for the Hokies and marked Tech's first loss to UNC since joining the ACC in Barth tied the game at 17-17 with a 19-yard field goal with just 2:52 remaining. The Tar Heel kicker got the chance to win the contest when the Hokies lost a fumble deep in their own territory just 50 seconds later. North Carolina, which had lost its first three ACC games of the season, controlled the game for much of the evening. The Tar Heels controlled the ball for over 36 minutes and converted on 10 of 19 third downs.

Tech led just once in the game, taking a 17-14 advantage on quarterback Tyrod Taylor's second 1-yard TD run of the game with 11:51 showing on the clock. North Carolina responded by eating up nearly nine minutes on a game-tying 16-play, 78-yard drive that resulted in a field goal.

The Hokies failed to score in the first half despite driving inside the UNC 40 yard-line on three of their first four possessions. Tech finished with just 95 yards on the ground and 256 total yards.

HOKIES - TAR HEELS GAME NOTES

- The loss to UNC snapped the Hokies' 12-game home winning streak. The last team to beat Tech at home was Boston College in 2007.
- Quarterback Tyrod Taylor has 16 career rushing touchdowns after running for two TDs against the Tar Heels. That total ties him with Michael Vick for the second-most career rushing TDs by a Tech quarterback. Bob Schweickert holds the Tech mark with 22 career rushing touchdowns.
- Tech failed to score in the first half for the first time this season. The last time the Hokies were held scoreless in the first half was at LSU in 2007.
- The last time Tech lost on the last play of the game was in the 2003 Insight Bowl against Cal, when Tyler Fredrickson hit a 33-yard field goal to lift the Golden Bears to a 52-49 win.

Tech's defense held the high-powered Pirate offense to just 277 yards of total offense.

GREENVILLE, N.C. - Quarterback Tyrod Taylor ran for a touchdown, and Matt Waldron kicked three field goals as No. 22 Virginia Tech snapped a twogame losing streak with a 16-3 nonconference Thursday night victory at East Carolina University.

Taylor's 13-yard touchdown run with 2:06 remaining in the second quarter gave Tech a 13-3 halftime advantage. The Hokies then spent the second half doing something they had not been able to do their previous two games — controlling the football. With redshirt freshman tailback Ryan Williams rushing for a career-best 179 yards, Tech managed to own the football for over 18 minutes of the second half, including all but 4:30 of the fourth quarter.

The Hokies churned out 379 total yards of offense, including 242 on the ground. Taylor aided the ground attack with 61 yards rushing to go with 137 yards on 17 pass completions.

Tech's defense got 12 tackles, a sack, a fumble caused and a fumble recovered from linebacker Cody Grimm. The Hokies forced three turnovers and limited the Pirates to 110 yards rushing and 277 yards overall. ECU's only score came on the last play of the first half on a Ben Hartman field goal.

HOKIES - PIRATES GAME NOTES

- Redshirt freshman Michael Via made his first collegiate start, replacing injured starter Beau Warren at center. Lyndell Gibson, another redshirt freshman, picked up his first start at linebacker in place of Jake Johnson.
- Kicker Matt Waldron booted a career-long 41-yard field goal to open the Tech scoring in the first quarter. Waldron made three field goals in the victory, also a personal-best.
- \bullet Punter Brent Bowden boomed a career-best 60-yard punt in the second quarter against the Pirates.
- With his sixth 100-yard rushing performance of the season, tailback Ryan Williams became just the second Tech freshman to rush for over 1,000 yards in a season, joining Darren Evans who accomplished the feat last season.

Jarrett Boykin had 118 yards receiving and a touchdown against the Terps.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -

Tyrod Taylor passed for 200 yards and three touchdowns in the first half as Virginia Tech jumped on top of the University of Maryland early on the way to a 36-9 ACC road win at Capital One Field at Byrd Stadium.

Taylor drove the Hokies 71 yards in 10 plays on their opening drive, hitting Jarrett Boykin with a 30-yard pass to the Maryland 1-yard line to set up a Ryan Williams touchdown run. Taylor capped a 72-yard march later in the quarter with a 3-yard TD toss to tight end Andre Smith.

Touchdown catches by Boykin and Dyrell Roberts during the second quarter staked Tech to a 27-3 lead. Matt Waldron finished out the Hokies' scoring with three second-half field goals.

Tech piled up 484 total yards of offense in the game. The Hokies defense registered six sacks and limited the Terrapins to 236 total yards. The Terps' only TD came on the recovery of a Taylor fumble in the end zone.

HOKIES - TERRAPINS GAME NOTES

- \bullet Tailback Ryan Williams rushed for 126 yards, his seventh 100-yard rushing game of the 2009 season.
- The Hokies had 10 tackles for loss in the game, including a season-best six quarterback sacks. Linebacker Jake Johnson contributed two of the sacks, while outside linebacker Cam Martin had two tackles for loss, including one sack. Neither player started the game.
- Receiver Jarrett Boykin turned in his second 100-yard receiving game of the season, catching three passes for 118 yards. His 64-yard touchdown catch was a career long reception.

Cody Grimm tied an NCAA record with three forced fumbles against the Wolfpack.

BLACKSBURG - Ryan Williams ran for four touchdowns and Virginia Tech's defense posted six sacks for the second straight week as the Hokies closed out their home schedule with a sound 38-10 victory over NC State at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

Tech used a balanced offensive attack that produced 200 yards on the ground and 197 through the air. Williams continued to run the football at a record-setting pace, picking up 126 yards on 34 carries. He scored on runs of 4, 1, 1 and 19 yards. Quarterback Tyrod Taylor added a 38-yard TD pass to Jarrett Boykin.

Defensively, linebacker Cody Grimm forced three fumbles on the Wolfpack's first four plays, with Tech recovering two of them and converting them into a quick 10-0 lead. NC State, which had averaged 35.9 points a game over its previous nine games, managed just 10 first-half points against the Hokies.

The Pack ran just seven plays in Tech territory during the second half, including two that ended in sacks, two that ended with incomplete passes and one that resulted in an interception. NCSU mustered just 14 yards rushing and 259 overall for the game.

HOKIES - WOLFPACK GAME NOTES

- \bullet The win gave the Hokies eight wins in a season for the 12th consecutive year.
- Ryan Williams became the top freshman rusher in Tech and ACC history during the game. His 120 yards increased his season total to 1,355 yards, surpassing the school and conference season marks for a freshman established last season by the Hokies' Darren Evans (1,265 yards).
- Williams tied a Tech freshman mark with four touchdowns in a game. Tommy Edwards had four against Pittsburgh during his freshman season in 1993.
- Cody Grimm's three forced fumbles tied an NCAA FBS record for fumbles forced by a player in a game. Grimm now shares the mark with seven other players.

Danny Coale had a career-high 135 yards receiving against Virginia.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. - Virginia Tech took control in the second half and marched to a 42-13 ACC road win against in-state rival Virginia to end regular-season play with a four-game winning streak.

Tech led just 14-13 at the half before powering for 222 rushing yards and 28 unanswered points over the final 30 minutes of play. Redshirt freshman Ryan Williams led the charge with a career-high 183 yards on the ground and scored four touchdowns for the second straight week.

Quarterback Tyrod Taylor and sophomore flanker Danny Coale hooked up on six passes, four of which provided key yards during three of Tech's touchdown drives.

Virginia started quickly, driving 73 yards on 10 plays for a touchdown on its first possession. The Cavaliers led 10-7 until a 20-yard touchdown burst by Williams gave the Hokies the lead for good with 9:43 showing in the second quarter.

It took Tech just two plays to capitalize on a third-quarter Virginia fumble for a 21-13 advantage. From that point on, the Cavs managed just 77 yards of offense. The Hokies outgained their rivals 483 yards to 295.

HOKIES - CAVALIERS GAME NOTES

- Receiver Danny Coale equaled a personal best in pass receptions with six against the Cavaliers. His 135 yards receiving were a new career high.
- Tailback Ryan Williams became just the second Tech back on record to score four or more touchdowns in consecutive games. Williams also had four TDs the previous week against NC State. Lee Suggs scored five TDs in a 2000 game at Central Florida and followed the next game with four against Virginia. Suggs also had four touchdowns against Rutgers earlier in the 2000 season.
- Williams posted his ninth 100-yard rushing performance of the season, tying the Tech single-season mark established by Kevin Jones in 2003.

ATLANTA — Virginia Tech owned the second half of the Chick-fil-A Bowl by using Ryan Williams' rushing and yet another powerful second-half defensive performance to roll past Tennessee 37-14 in front of 73,777 fans at the Georgia Dome.

The Hokies got outstanding performances all the way around, led by a dominating defense that allowed no points in the second half for the fifth straight game. Tech gave up just 112 yards in the second half – with 43 of that coming in the Vols final drive with the outcome well in hand.

For the game, the Hokies held Tennessee to just 240 yards of offense and sacked Vols quarterback Jonathan Crompton six times. He had been sacked 12 times all season.

Williams, rushed for 117 yards on 25 carries and scored two touchdowns before leaving in the third quarter with an ankle injury. He also broke Tech's single-season rushing record of 1,647 yards set by former tailback Kevin Jones in 2003. Williams finished the season with 1,655 yards and was named offensive player of the game.

The redshirt freshman from Manassas, Va., spearheaded Tech's second-half effort. With the Hokies clinging to a 17-14 lead, Williams carried the ball eight straight times on the Hokies' first possession of the second half, including runs of 21 and 32 yards. On the ninth play of the drive, Tech quarterback Tyrod Taylor gave the Hokies some breathing room, scoring on a 1-yard quarterback sneak that gave Tech a 24-14 lead with 8:42 left in the third quarter.

The Hokies went on to score on their next three offensive possessions. Their only offensive possession in the second half that didn't result in a score was the final one in which Taylor took a knee to run out the clock.

On Tech's second possession, kicker Matt Waldron boomed a career-long 46-yard field goal to give Tech a 27-14 lead. The Hokies then put the game away on their third possession of the second half, driving 80 yards in eight plays. David Wilson, who split carries with Josh Oglesby once Williams went down, scored on a 4-yard run to give Tech a commanding 34-14 lead.

Waldron's 22-yard field goal with 2:38 left in the game accounted for the final score.

Oglesby and Wilson accounted for 67 yards of Tech's 229-yard rushing day. Tech's offense showed excellent balance, as Taylor completed 10-of-17 for 209 yards, with an interception. Jarrett Boykin caught four passes for 120 yards, including a 63-yarder at the end of the first half that set up a Waldron field goal at the buzzer.

Crompton paced the Tennessee attack by throwing for 235 yards, with a touchdown and an interception. Montario Hardesty rushed for just 39 yards, and the Vols, as a team, finished with just five yards rushing, thanks to those six sacks.

HOKIES - VOLS GAME NOTES

- Ryan Williams' single season rushing record-breaking carry came midway through the third quarter. He carried the ball eight straight times on a nine-play drive that ended when Tyrod Taylor scored on a 1-yard run on a quarterback sneak. Williams had 78 yards rushing alone on the drive.
- Tech receiver Jarrett Boykin made arguably the biggest play in the game when he slipped behind Tennessee's defense, for a 63-yard gain to the Tennessee 3 in the final seconds of the first half. In fact, the clock ran out on the play, and Tennessee's players and coaches headed to the locker room. But the officials reviewed the play and correctly gave the Hokies two seconds. That enabled Matt Waldron to boot a 21-yard field goal to give the Hokies a 17-14 lead at halftime.
- Senior kicker Matt Waldron capped a great season by nailing three field goals, including a career long of 46 yards. That set the Tech record for most field goals in a bowl game. Waldron booted field goals of 21, 46 and 22 yards in the game. His 46-yarder tied for the longest kick ever by a Hokie in a bowl game. Chris Kinzer booted a 46-yard in the Hokies' win over N.C. State in the 1986 Peach Bowl.

FOOTBALL GRANTS-IN-AID

Five All-Americans highlight group of 19 student-athletes

Five prep All-Americans highlight a football recruiting class composed of 19 student-athletes, as announced by Virginia Tech on Wednesday.

With such a small senior class from this past season, Tech announced just 19 players total Wednesday, including 12 players from Virginia. In all, Tech signed seven of the top 13 players in the state and 10 of the top 25 according to The Roanoke Times. Highlighting this year's in-state group are five talented players - Brookville High defensive end Zack McCray (#5 by Roanoke Times), Fork Union Military Academy offensive lineman Mark Shuman (#7 by Roanoke Times), First Colonial High outside linebacker Nick Dew (#8 by Roanoke Times), Fork Union Military Academy offensive lineman Nick Acree (#9 by Roanoke Times) and Loudoun County High linebacker Chase Williams (#11 by Roanoke Times) - who all earned SuperPrep All-America honors. Acree and McCray were also named All-Americans by PrepStar.

"I think it is another really good recruiting class," said head coach Frank Beamer. "I think it falls along the lines of our recent years of being very athletic, very solid academically and very strong from a character standpoint. I think we have really done well."

Seven players from six different states and one from the District of Columbia joined the Hokies. Offensive lineman Laurence Gibson. from Sierra Vista, Ariz., via Hargrave, is listed as the No. 2 prep school player in the country by Rivals. The Hokies got a rare signing from a New York product in Rochester tight end Jerome Lewis, who is ranked as the No. 21 tight end in the country and the No. 3 player in the state by Rivals. Defensive back Kyle Fuller, from Baltimore, Md., is rated the No. 42 cornerback in the country by ESPN/ Scouts Inc., while cornerback Detrick Bonner, from McDonough, Ga., is ranked the No. 88 cornerback in the country by Scout.com. Defensive end Justin Taylor, who is from Norwood, N.C., is ranked the No. 30 defensive end in the country and the No. 16 player in the state by Rivals, while quarterback Ricardo Young (Washington, D.C.) is rated the No. 21 dual-threat quarterback in the country by Rivals and was the Gatorade State Football Player of the Year for D.C. Quarterback Mark Leal (Greenacres, Fla.) is the fourth player from Atlantic High to sign with Tech in the past decade. He is ranked the No. 28 dual-threat quarterback in the country by Rivals and threw 25 touchdown passes as a senior. With his signing, it marks the 20th year since 1988 that Tech has signed a player from Florida.

Seven other players from the state of Virginia are ranked in the top 25 in the state by The Roanoke Times. They are: Highland Springs High defensive end Derrick Hopkins (#12), Robinson High linebacker Brian Laiti (#13), Midlothian High offensive lineman Matt Arkema (#18), King's Fork High free safety Dominique Patterson (#21) and Brooke Pointe High wide receiver E.L. Smiling (#25). Hopkins, who is listed as a defensive end by the Tech staff, is ranked as the No. 53 defensive tackle in the country by Scout.com and Laiti is rated the No. 34 outside linebacker in the country by Rivals. Arkema is listed as the No. 28 offensive guard in the country by Rivals, Patterson (listed as a free safety by the Tech staff) is ranked the No. 40 outside linebacker in the country by ESPN/Scouts, Inc., and Smiling is rated as the No. 115 wide receiver in the country by the same service.

The in-state class also features two others ranked in the top 40 by The Roanoke Times: Pulaski County High linebacker Tahrick Peak (#30) and Rockbridge County High offensive lineman Caleb Farris (#39). Both Peak and Farris missed portions of their senior seasons, but Rivals still ranks Peak as the No. 32 outside linebacker in the country, while also ranking Farris as the No. 25 offensive guard in the nation.

"In all, 16 members of our class [including January enrollees] played in the state of Virginia," Beamer said. "We like to make sure we take care of our home state first, and I believe these are certainly some of the better players in the state. And then, the ones we got from out of state are really quality players, which you always want to be the case, too."

Of the 19 players in the class, 11 are projected to play on the defensive side of the ball (four on the line, four linebackers, three defensive backs). Of the eight players slated for offense, five are coming in as offensive linemen.

"We went in with the idea that we would take so many at certain positions and in the end we hit the number for the most part," Beamer said. "We have some guys that can play two or three different positions, and I think the more you can get versatility in there, the better your class is.'

Some familiar last names abound as four brothers - and one cousin - of current or former Hokie football players signed Wednesday. Fuller is the brother of former Hokie Vincent Fuller, who now plays for the Tennessee Titans, and Shuman is the brother of former Hokie offensive lineman Ryan Shuman. Hopkins (Antoine Hopkins) and Peak (Nubian Peak) both have brothers on Tech's team and McCray is the first cousin of Logan Thomas.

"When we get brothers coming, like Tahrick Peak, Mark Shuman, Kyle Fuller and Derrick Hopkins, and a cousin, like Zack McCray, you like the statement that it makes about your program and how you treat people," Beamer

Three of the 19 players in this year's recruiting class - Gibson, Williams and Young - enrolled at Tech in January, thus did not sign NLIs on Wednesday and are already participating in offseason workouts. Three other Virginians who were part of last year's signing class - Liberty High offensive lineman Kory Gough, Hermitage High safety Theron Norman and Hermitage High defensive end Duan Perez-Means – also enrolled in January. Seventeen players signed with Tech on Signing Day.
