HOKIES

The Series

• Virginia Tech and UCLA will be meeting for the first time on the football field when they meet in the 80th Sun Bowl.

• The Hokies are 0-3 all-time against teams currently in the Pac-12 Conference (0-1 against USC, Cal and Stanford), 0-3 against teams from California and are 3-6 all-time in games played in the state of Texas.

• Tech's softball team is the only Hokie sport to match up in a team setting against UCLA ever, falling 1-0 to the Bruins in 2008, but winning 2-1 last season.

Sun Bowl History

• Virginia Tech will be making its second appearance in the Sun Bowl, but its first in 67 seasons. The Hokies took on Cincinnati in the 1947 Sun Bowl played at the end of the 1946 season, falling 18-6.

El Paso Ties

• Offensive line coach Jeff Grimes will be returning to his old stomping grounds when the Hokies travel to El Paso for the Sun Bowl. Grimes began his coaching career in 1993 as a high school coach at Riverside High School in El Paso. Grimes earned four letters as an offensive tackle for UTEP between 1987 and 1990. He is from Garland, Texas, which is just outside of Dallas.

• Former Tech long snapper Collin Carroll now resides in El Paso and is a reporter for KVIA News Channel 7.

California Ties

• Virginia Tech has one player from California in long snapper Joe St. Germain, who hails from Los Alamitos, just outside of Los Angeles.

Tech at Neutral Sites

• Virginia Tech has a 149-129-19 record in football games played at neutral sites and is 13-20 in neutral site games during Coach Frank Beamer's 27 seasons.

Mr. Durability

• When Logan Thomas steps under center for the first play of the Sun Bowl, it will be his 40th start in a row. He already holds the records for total offense, passing yards, attempts, completions and passing scores.

• Thomas broke the school record for consecutive starts by a quarterback against Virginia when he made his 39th-straight start, passing Bryan Randall, who started 38 in a row from 2001-2004.

Countdown to Kickoff

10 Ten of Virginia Tech's 11 defensive starters from last year's Russell Athletic Bowl are on this year's Sun Bowl roster.
9 The Hokies have played a total of nine football games in the state of Texas.
8 Virginia Tech is ranked eighth nationally in both rushing defense (103.8 ypg) and scoring defense (17.4 ppg).
7 Tech has played bowl games in seven different states: Florida (10), Louisiana (6), Georgia (4), Tennessee (3), Texas (1), Arizona (1) and California (1).
6 Tech is one of just six programs in college football history to go to a bowl in at least 20 straight seasons.
5 Five Hokie defensive players have posted 10 or more tackles for loss this season.
4 Frank Beamer is one of just four coaches all-time to go to at least 20 consecutive bowls, along with Bobby Bowden (28), Tom Osborne (25) and Bear Bryant (24).
3 UCLA will be the third Pac-12 team that the Hokies have met in a bowl game, joining California (2003 Insight) and Stanford (2011 Orange).
2 Tech has not allowed an opponent to score more than two rushing or two passing TDs in a game this season.
1 Virginia Tech's first-ever bowl game was the 1947 Sun Bowl.

REMEMBERING THE PAST

More than six decades later, the 1947 Sun Bowl team remembers its historic accomplishment - one that many have forgotten

By: Jimmy Robertson, HokieSports - The Magazine

Published in May, 2009

The 1947 Sun Bowl team was the first Tech team to go to a bowl game and the first team from the state to do so as well.

Over the course of the decades, the memories have faded, becoming blurred images that only come into some semblance of focus when someone or something triggers a thought that brings that image forth through the channels of their minds. They struggled, at times, to provide sharp details, and then apologized for that, even though no apology was warranted and certainly when none was expected.

But they do remember the end result. In the end, that may be the only memory that matters.

Twelve members of the Virginia Tech football team who played during the 1946 season that led to a berth in the '47 Sun Bowl gathered at the Inn and Convention Center on the Tech campus for a two-day reunion the week before Tech's spring game to commemorate their spot in history.

Nineteen members remain from that team, with four others unaccounted for. The rest are presumably playing the game they love on that gridiron up above. The ones left readily admit that this will probably be their last huddle. After all, they are all in their mid-80s and in a hurry-up offense against Father Time, whom, as we all know, is undefeated.

Most have some sort of physical ailments. But, while some of the recollections are foggy, they certainly possess their mental faculties.

They clearly remember beating rival VMI that season and tying UVa. They remember vividly that they were the first Virginia Tech team to go to a bowl. They also remember distinctly that they were the first team from the commonwealth of Virginia to go to a bowl.

And they remember all this expressly today during a time when many current Virginia Tech fans and alums have forgotten.

In many ways, they – this 1947 Sun Bowl team – have become the forgotten team.

WORLD WAR II'S IMPACT

Nothing impacted college athletics in the 1940s more than World War II, a global conflict, sparked by a maniacal German dictator that ended up being played out on three continents. Of course, nothing impacted Tech athletics especially more than that world clash during that time period.

After all, the Corps of Cadets served as the foundation for the school, as all students were cadets in the early days. The United States' entry into World War II in 1941 resulted in many of Tech's finest being called to serve their country – athletes and coaches weren't excluded, including head football coach Jimmy Kitts, who joined the Navy and went to serve after the 1941 season.

The school shut down the athletics department after scores of cadets went off to fight. In fact, Tech did not field a football team in 1943 or 1944.

In 1945, with the war winding down, the school restarted the football program. The highlight of the season came when Tech beat a Bear Bryant-led Maryland squad, as a running back named Charlie Forbes rushed for more than 100 yards. Forbes, who came to Tech as a walk-on from Newport News, Va., was an 18-year-old freshman at the time.

"I doubt there was anyone else in the 1940s who ran for more than 100 yards in a game," said Ross Orr, a tackle and a kicker from Smyth County, Va., who played on that team and for the next two years.

Orr – who spearheaded this Sun Bowl team reunion – may be right. Tech's records only go back to 1950. No one kept them before then.

Like Forbes, Orr and a handful of other Tech players had not fought in the war. Their youthful, teenage exuberance made for an interesting dynamic when the war veterans – many of whom were married – returned to Blacksburg in 1946 to continue both their schooling and to play football.

Kitts returned in 1946 as well, and set about molding his football team. Only nine guys who played in 1945 actually played on the '46 team. The '46 team ended up being comprised of mostly freshmen or sophomores, most of whom were returning from the service.

Some were married at the time and lived with their wives, and in some cases, their children. Others lived in the dorms. Yet chemistry wasn't an issue with this bunch.

"Sure, there were some cliques," said Oren Hopkins, a freshman end from Norfolk, Va., who was drafted by the Army right out of high school and fought in the Battle of Bulge in Europe before coming to Tech. "We had a lot of married guys on the squad and they didn't always mingle socially with some of the others. We didn't always see each other much. But I never saw any animosity whatsoever."

"I thought the transition was easier coming back from the war," said Bob Taylor, a guard from Winchester, Va., who fought both in the European theater and the Pacific theater. "After the war, the veterans wanted a degree. It was either go to work or go to school and play football.

"I think most of those boys were mature. They were ready to get back and play ball and everyone pretty much fit right in."

Many of these players returned with hardware and honors pinned on their uniforms. Taylor actually earned a Bronze Star for his role in combat. Harry Walton, a back and now deceased, was awarded two Purple Hearts. John Kroehling, an end from Springfield, N.J., also received a Purple Heart and a Soldier's Medal after saving a man from drowning in the south Pacific. Floyd Bowles, a fullback from Richmond and the captain of the 1945 team, was a German prisoner of war. R.E. Johnson, an end from Tennessee who is now deceased, also was a German prisoner of war.

In all, 35 veterans formed the nucleus of the 1946 team, which, according to some counts, consisted of only 46 players.

"They never talked a lot about the war," Orr said of the veterans. "It's amazing. They just came back and played hard and tried hard."

"You didn't hear many stories," Forbes agreed.

It certainly was a transitional time, both nationally and at Virginia Tech. After all, there was the shadow of World War I and the Great Depression, and the recent horrors of World War II. At Tech, for the first time, civilians outnumbered cadets on campus, and some of the civilians resented the war. The school itself appeared to be in the throes of transitioning from an institution with a military background to primarily an educational school.

For these guys, the gridiron provided a much-needed escape from the outside world.

THE 1946 SEASON

Tech's road to a bowl game got off to a rather bumpy start. On Sept. 28, the Gobblers – as they were called back then – opened the season by traveling to Chapel Hill, N.C., to face North Carolina and found themselves down 14-0 at halftime. The Tar Heels featured one of the nation's best players in running back Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice, who would later go on to be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

But Tech flipped things around in the second half. Justice also doubled as the Tar Heels' punter and Tech managed to block two of his punts – the only two blocked punts of Justice's illustrious career. Both of those blocks led to Tech touchdowns, as the Gobblers scrambled to tie the game at 14.

Amazingly, Tech had a chance to pull the upset. But Orr, who doubled as the kicker, had a short field goal blocked late in the game and the game ended in a 14-14 tie. North Carolina would finish with an 8-1-1 record that season and a No. 8 ranking in the final Associated Press poll.

"I got the blame for that one," Taylor said. "I had two or three guys lined up over me and they came over my side."

Then he chuckled.

"I always told Ross that he kicked it too low. Then he sent me a note a while back, saying that, yes, he did kick it too low. I don't know if that was true. But that made me feel better anyway."

Blocking kicks turned out to be Tech's calling card for the '46 season. Again, information from those days is sparse, but a couple of sources credit the Gobblers with blocking at least 10 punts that season. That team actually started the kick-blocking tradition at Tech that continues to this day.

John Maskas, a strapping 6-foot, 210-pound tackle – strapping for those days anyway – blocked six himself. Now deceased, Maskas, a native of Pennsylvania with a Greek heritage, was an honorable mention All-American that season. He, Hopkins, Taylor and Jack Ittner accounted for most of the blocks.

"John was pretty good at blocking punts, but I believe he got credit for one or two he didn't block," Ittner joked.

By all accounts, Ittner, a 6-0, 200-pound tackle from Richmond, was an outstanding player. He earned honorable mention All-America honors the following season but served notice in 1946. In fact, most interviewed for this story mentioned Ittner as the best player on the team.

"He was the best player I ever saw in my life," Orr said.

"Jack was fast and tough," Forbes said. "I'll never forget in the Maryland game when he hit Lu Gambino [a running back who later played in the pros] so hard that it knocked both of them out."

Tech tied Virginia, but after four games, found itself at 0-2-2 on the season. The Gobblers, though, turned their season around in the following game when they took on N.C. State on Homecoming in Blacksburg. The Wolfpack came in unbeaten, but Ralph Beard threw a touchdown pass, and then a blocked kick late in the game led to a Beard touchdown run. Tech stunned the Wolfpack 14-6 – and the Wolfpack finished 8-2 and ranked 18th in the Associated Press poll.

The Gobblers went on to win or tie four of their final five games. A 20-7 win over VMI enabled them to finish the regular season with a 3-3-3 record.

Walking off the field after that victory, with smiles galore, they thought their season was over.

THE SUN BOWL

A 3-3-3 record might have made for a rather forgettable season if not for one thing – the Gobblers shockingly received an invitation to play in the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Texas, on New Year's Day.

Tech got the bid because of an alum who worked for a power company in El Paso. The alum – Marion Adams, Class of 1941 – also served on the Sun Bowl committee. Two other teams, Hardin Simmons and Texas Tech, declined bids, so Adams pitched Tech's name to the committee, something he had actually been doing since the N.C. State victory, and the Gobblers ultimately received the bid.

The team, of course, wanted to play in the game, and the athletics department was all for it, seeing a way to add $10,000 to the coffers – the payout for each team.

"It was a big surprise to us," Hopkins said. "Word spread before we had an actual formal team meeting about it, so most of us knew.

"It [the bowl selection process] was a lot more political back then. Today, the best teams pretty much go."

Tech was to take on Cincinnati, a team with an 8-2 record heading into the game. Like the Gobblers, the game marked the Bearcats' first official bowl game.

Because of injuries and attrition, only 32 players went for the game. Tech left for El Paso shortly after Christmas and found weather similar to that in Blacksburg – cold, snowy and icy.

"We had a rough ride out there out of Roanoke," Forbes said. "I remember I was sitting beside Dave Thomas, and Dave used to parachute out of planes for the Army. He got sick, and I joked with him, 'Dave, you should be used to this. You're used to jumping out of planes.'

"But we landed and there was snow on the ground. The people from the local Chamber of Commerce were apologizing all over the place. They said they hadn't seen snow there in 25 years."

In spite of the weather, the week turned out to be a fabulous one for the players and the coaches. They stayed at the Hotel Cortez, the nicest establishment in El Paso. They got to make a foray into Mexico, journeying across the border to Juarez, where they saw a live Mexican bullfight conducted by Manolete, the best bullfighter of all time. The team went to two Texas ranch breakfast parties, went on tours of the city, attended luncheons and received gifts, including watches with the words 'The Sun Bowl '47' engraved on them.

"I bought a ring and some jewelry when we were in Juarez, and by the time we got back to El Paso, it had turned green," Forbes laughed. "But the whole trip was a wonderful experience."

"The people there just treated us magnificently," Orr said.

Unfortunately, the week ended on a bit of a sour note, with Cincinnati beating the Gobblers 18-6 during extremely cold, snowy and icy conditions at 15,000-seat Kidd Field.

Tech blocked the three extra points and Maskas blocked his seventh punt of the season. But the Gobblers' only score came on a 3-yard run by Beard in the fourth quarter. Two interceptions by Harold Johnson and Cincy's 369 yards rushing were too much to overcome.

"They had a couple of good players," Ittner said. "And they just beat us soundly."

Though they lost the game, the team represented itself well. Perhaps Kitts put it best in the Jan. 15, 1947, Techgram:

"We just played a better team, and as a general rule, the best team always wins."

THEIR PLACE IN TECH HISTORY

The Gobblers of 1946 finished with a 3-4-3 record, a losing record only by the strict definition of that particular term.

Yet this bunch was anything but losers.

They served their country with honor and valor, and then came back and served their university with character and dignity. Of the 46 members of that team, 45 graduated from Tech, and Orr, who gathered the information for the reunion, wasn't sure about the other one.

They went on to distinguished careers, too. Orr became a surgeon and later developed the vascular program and the clinical vascular laboratory (which bears his name) at St. Luke's Hospital in Bethlehem, Pa. Taylor worked for the FBI, and his brother, Frank, worked for the CIA. Forbes worked for DuPont as an engineer for a while, but later came back to Tech and worked for President Bill Lavery as the first Vice President for Development and University Relations. He spent 14 years at Tech before leaving to become the vice president of the University of Delaware, where he stayed until retiring.

Hopkins worked for DuPont, Sharples Corp., and Envirotech, Inc., as an engineer before later founding his own company. Pat Denardo worked for NASA as a researcher of hypervelocity aerodynamics, while Sally Rand worked for the New Holland division of the Sperry Rand Corporation. Kroehling has retired twice, but formed his own company (J.H. Kroehling Associates) in 1991 – and still designs air pollution control equipment at the age of 85!

There are many, many other great stories. These and what they accomplished on the gridiron should be remembered. Without question, they cemented themselves in Virginia Tech athletics history.

Though sadly, many appear to have forgotten that. And for such a distinguished group, that stings.

"I felt a little sensitive about that," Taylor said. "We weren't the greatest team. But we were the first. I'm not sure a lot of people know that."

"I think most feel a little neglected," Orr said. "They didn't get the recognition they would have liked or deserved."

The athletics department recognizes the Sun Bowl team with a banner in Lane Stadium and also a banner in Legends Hall (in the Merryman Center). Orr's diligence in his pursuit of information on his former teammates and pictures of them has helped. Several of those pictures have been put in a display at the Tech Hall of Fame over at Lane Stadium. The athletics communications staff probably will use these newfound pictures in the bowl section of the annual media guide. Some of the other information and pictures may be put into a display.

This will help bring attention to their deserving accomplishments. After all, they were the first Tech bowl team and the first team from the commonwealth to play in a bowl game. They always will be. Everyone knows you cannot rewrite history.

As the final chapters of their lives are drawing to a close, they are proud of their place in that history.

Their only hope is that others will be as well.

1946 Sun Bowl Team Facts

- The 1947 Sun Bowl team was the first Virginia Tech team to go to a bowl game and the first team from the state of Virginia to do so as well.
- Of the 46 members of that team, 45 graduated from Virginia Tech.
- Thirty-five World War II veterans (25 Army, 6 Navy and 4 Marines) formed the nucleus of the team. Three of the players had been POWs.
- Tech got the bid because of an alum – Marion Adams, Class of 1941 – also served on the Sun Bowl committee.
- The payout for the 12th Sun Bowl was just under $10,00 for both Virginia Tech and Cincinnati.

SUN BOWL HISTORY
In most of its early history, the game pitted the champion of the Border Conference against an at-large opponent. Games are now played at Sun Bowl Stadium on the campus of the University of Texas at El Paso. The first three were played at El Paso High School Stadium (1935–1937), then switched to Kidd Field until the present stadium was ready in 1963. For its first 24 years of existence the game was played on Jan. 1 (New Year's Day) or Jan. 2; since then, with the exception of a Jan. 2 game in 1977, the game has been played in December with the last 17 games played on or near Dec. 31.

ON THIS DATE
Virginia Tech is 5-1 all-time when playing on New Year's Eve and the Hokies will play on this date for the first time since 2009 ... all six Tech games played on Dec. 31 have been bowl games.

Year	Bowl	Opponent	Result
2009	Chick-fil-A Bowl	vs. Tennessee	W, 37-14
2002	San Francisco Bowl	vs. Air Force	W, 20-13
1996	Orange Bowl	vs. Nebraska	L, 21-41
1995	Sugar Bowl	vs. Texas	W, 28-10
1993	Independence Bowl	vs. Indiana	W, 45-20
1986	Peach Bowl	vs. NC State	W, 25-24

ON TUESDAYS
Virginia Tech is 5-4 all-time in games played on Tuesdays as the Sun Bowl will be. The last time the Hokies played on a Tuesday was the 2012 Sugar Bowl against Michigan.

IN TEXAS
The Hokies are 3-6 all-time in the state of Texas, last playing in the Lone Star State in 2002, a 13-3 win at Texas A&M.

COACH FRANK BEAMER

Frank Beamer (Virginia Tech '69), whose Virginia Tech teams have posted a 200-68 record over the past 20+ seasons and have appeared in bowl games each year in that span, is in his 27th year as the head football coach at Tech and 33rd overall as he leads the Hokies to the Hyundai Sun Bowl. Beamer has guided the Hokies to a 224-108-2 record and sits with an overall record of 266-131-4.

Under Beamer, Tech football has enjoyed unprecedented success with 21 consecutive bowl appearances, four ACC titles, five ACC Coastal Division crowns, three BIG EAST Conference titles, two "major" bowl victories, six BCS appearances and a trip to the national championship game.

Tech won the BIG EAST title in 1995 and 1999, and shared it in '96. Beamer was voted BIG EAST Coach of the Year by the league's coaches each of those seasons and was tabbed the Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year in both 2004 and 2005.

In 1997, he was inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame, becoming the first active coach at the university to be honored in that fashion. Following the 1999 season, he earned eight national coach of the year honors.

During his undergraduate days at Tech, Beamer started three years as a cornerback and played on the Hokies' 1966 and 1968 Liberty Bowl teams.

taken from 2013 NCAA Football Record Book

The 67-year-old Hillsville, Va., native began as an assistant at Radford High School from 1969 through 1971. Then, after one season as a graduate assistant at the University of Maryland, he went to The Citadel where he worked five seasons under Bobby Ross and one year under Art Baker. His last two years at The Citadel, Beamer was the defensive coordinator. In 1979, he went to Murray State as the defensive coordinator under Mike Gottfried. He was named head coach at MSU in 1981 and went on to compile a six-year record of 42-23-2.

In 1990, Beamer received a new contract and a substantial pay raise. He refused the raise, however, until a time that all classified and faculty employees of the university could have the same opportunity for pay raises. Most state salaries had been frozen at the time. When offered a pay increase in 2006, he did not sign the agreement until his assistant coaches were taken care of.

He is married to the former Cheryl Oakley of Richmond, Va. They have two children, Shane, a former member of his dad's football team at Virginia Tech and now the associate head coach/running backs coach at Virginia Tech; and daughter Casey, a 2003 graduate of Tech. He has three grandchildren, Sutton, Olivia and Hunter, children of Shane and his wife, Emily. Casey was married in 2012 to former Virginia Tech wrestler Canaan Prater.

Beamer was born in Mt. Airy, N.C., and grew up in Hillsville, Va. At Hillsville High, he earned 11 varsity letters as a three-sport athlete in football, basketball and baseball.

An avid NASCAR fan, Beamer has been the official starter for races at Bristol Motor Speedway, Martinsville Speedway and Richmond International Raceway.

Beamer, who is the winningest active coach in the Football Bowl Subdivision with 266 victories, had his No. 25 jersey retired by Tech in a pregame ceremony before the Marshall game in 2002. He is sixth all-time among FBS coaches (min. 10 seasons at FBS school) in terms of all-time victories.

STABILITY AT THE TOP

• Frank Beamer, the first Tech alumnus to guide Virginia Tech's football program since the 1940s, has coached and won more football games at Tech than any other head coach.

• Not one of the 125 active Division I-A (FBS) head football coaches has been at his current school longer than Beamer.

A few game notes in 140 characters or less

The Sun Bowl football game between @VT_Football and @UCLAFootball will be the first gridiron meeting between the two schools.

Virginia Tech and UCLA have only met in one other sport in a team setting, coming twice in softball (1-1).

This will be the #Hokies' second appearance in the Sun Bowl as they also played in the 1947 Sun Bowl against Cincinnati.

#Hokies Offensive Line coach Jeff Grimes played collegiately at UTEP and in Sun Bowl Stadium, home of the Sun Bowl.

.@VT_Football will be making its 21st-straight bowl game appearance, the second-longest active streak in the FBS.

.@VT_Football has an all-time record of 0-3 against teams currently in the Pac-12, falling to Cal, Stanford and Southern Cal.

The #Hokies will be looking for their 1st win against a ranked non-conference foe since 2009 (No. 19 Nebraska) when they play No. 17 UCLA.

What's a Hokie?

That's the most frequently asked question regarding Virginia Tech athletics. The answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer and a contest for such a purpose was held by the student body. Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Old Hokie" yell which still is used today.

Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the words he used had no hidden or symbolic meaning, but had been thought up in an effort to get attention. Hokie soon became a nickname for all Tech teams and for those people loyal to Tech athletics.

Following is the "Old Hokie" yell in its original form:

Hoki, Hoki, Hoki Hy!
Tech! Tech! V.P.I.!
Sola-Rex Sola-Rah
Polytech-Vir-gin-i-a!!
Rae, Ri, V.P.I.

Just Virginia Tech, Please

While the full name of the school is Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, the school is commonly referred to as "Virginia Tech."

Founded in 1872, as Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College, the university changed its named to Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1896.

Fans of the athletic department, as well as media covering the Hokies, shortened the name to VPI, but it eventually became Virginia Tech.

The "State University" was added in 1970 to bring the official title to what it is today.

Those covering Hokie athletics are asked to refer to the university as simply "Virginia Tech."

Virginia Tech University, VPI and SU, VPI&SU, VT or VA Tech are not recognized names and should not be used.

Weaver to retire as Virginia Tech A.D.

Tech Athletic Director Jim Weaver will step down as department head of the university's intercollegiate athletics unit, announced President Charles Steger on Nov. 12, 2013.

During Weaver's tenure the university significantly expanded and improved athletic facilities and achieved a half-century long goal by joining the Atlantic Coast Conference in 2003, beginning play in 2004.

Ray Smoot, former chief executive officer of the Virginia Tech Foundation, will chair a national search for the next A.D. Smoot also chaired the director's search in 1997.

The university expects to name a replacement early in 2014. Sharon McCloskey, senior associate athletic director, will serve as interim athletic director effective Jan. 1, 2014.

Scoring Streak

• Tech has scored in a school- and ACC-record 242 straight football games, beginning with a win over Miami on Sept. 23, 1995. The streak began after a 16-0 loss to Cincinnati in 1995.

• The previous school record was 66 straight games (1970-76). During its current streak, Tech has scored 13 or more in all but 13 games.

Defensive Tradition

• Virginia Tech defensive coordinator Bud Foster is the architect of one of the nation's best defenses on an annual basis. Since the start of the 2000 season, Tech leads the nation in interceptions and in turnovers gained. Check out these numbers Foster's crew has put up:

Most Interceptions Forced (2000-current)

BY THE NUMBERS

1,310 … career rushing yards for Logan Thomas are the fourth most for a Tech quarterback. Tyrod Taylor leads the way with 2,196 rushing yards, while Bob Schweickert (1,723) stands second and Bryan Randall (1,526) third.

1,075 … career kickoff return yards for Demitri Knowles rank sixth-best among Tech players since 1954. Knowles needs 14 yards to pass Bob Thomas (1088) for fifth place.

269.6 … yards of offense allowed per game by the Tech defense ranks the Hokies fourth nationally in total defense.

169 … first downs allowed rank Virginia Tech No. 1 in first downs defense.

49 … receptions by junior Willie Byrn rank him seventh in most catches in a season by a Tech player. Byrn needs three more catches to move into fifth place, five more to take over fourth and seven to jump to third.

33:08 … average time of possession per game for the Hokies is 9th-best nationally.

30 … combined fourth quarter points allowed by the Hokies during their 12 games this season.

29 … percent third down conversion defense ranks Tech third nationally.

21 … players have contributed to Tech's season total of 82 tackles for loss.

20 … punts of 50 or more yards for sophomore All-ACC punter A.J. Hughes.

17 … expected graduates on the Hokies' Sun Bowl roster. Tech had 12 players that had already earned their undergraduate degrees on its regular season roster.

11.5 … tackles for loss by defensive tackle Luther Maddy are the most for a Tech tackle since David Pugh had 14 during the 2001 season.

11 … pass completions needed by Logan Thomas to break his own single-season school record for completions. Thomas had a record 234 completions in 2011.

10 … of Tech's 12 2013 regular-season opponents are in bowl games.

4 … total fumbles lost by Tech – one on a punt return, two on quarterback sacks and one on a QB run – rank the Hokies third nationally in fewest fumbles lost.

3 … pass receptions by Joshua Stanford would give the Hokies three players with 40 or more catches for the first time in program history. Willie Byrn already has 49 catches, while Demitri Knowles has 43. Stanford currently has 37.

1 … yard is the combined return yardage for true freshmen Kendall Fuller and Brandon Facyson on their 11 pass interceptions this season. Fuller has six picks for 1 yard and Facyson five picks with no return yards.

Game 1: No. 1 Alabama Tops Hokies in Chick-fil-A Kickoff

No. 1 Alabama	35
Virginia Tech	10

Georgia Dome • Atlanta, Ga.
Aug. 31, 2013 • Attendance: 73,114

ATLANTA – Mistakes on special teams and an untimely interception proved costly as Virginia Tech dropped its 2013 season opener to No. 1 Alabama, 35-10, in the Chick-fil-A Kickoff Game at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta.

The two-time, defending national champion Crimson Tide used a 72-yard punt return by Christion Jones and a 2-yard run by tailback T.J. Yeldon to build a 14-0 lead.

Tech trimmed that lead to 14-7 on a stunning 77-yard touchdown burst by redshirt freshman tailback Trey Edmunds. But just when Tech appeared to be gaining some steam after stopping Alabama on its next possession, Vinnie Sunseri quickly turned the momentum back to the Tide, picking off a Logan Thomas' pass and returning it 38 yards for a touchdown. The Hokies added a field goal before Jones contributed two more scores – one on a 77-yard kickoff return – to cap the Bama victory.

Tech's defense played well in the loss allowing just two scores and holding the powerful Alabama offense to just 206 total yards - the second-lowest total under Saban at Alabama. The Hokies had12 tackles for loss in the game, while holding the Crimson Tide to 96 yards on the ground.

Edmunds rushed for 132 yards on 20 carries in his first collegiate outing. Tech finished the game with 212 yards of offense.

Game Notes

• Redshirt freshman Trey Edmunds rushed for 132 yards in his first collegiate game. The last Tech freshman to rush for 100 yards or more in his first game was Shyrone Stith who ran for 119 yards against Akron as a true freshman in 1996.

• Tech gave up touchdowns on a punt return, a kickoff return and an interception in the same game for the first time in Coach Frank Beamer's 26-plus seasons at the helm (323 games).

• Nine true freshmen played against the Tide. Those nine were Woody Baron, Chuck Clark, Brandon Facyson, Kendall Fuller, Mitchell Ludwig, Jonathan McLaughlin, Carlis Parker, Sam Rogers and Jerome Wright. In all, 20 players saw their first collegiate action in the game.

• Punter A.J. Hughes' 586 yards punting was a Tech record for a single game, surpassing Jack Simscak's 564 yards in a 1968 game against Alabama.

Game 2: Tech Rolls Past Western Carolina in Home Opener

Western Carolina	3
Virginia Tech	45

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Sept. 7, 2013 • Attendance: 61,335

BLACKSBURG – Virginia Tech compiled 462 yards of total offense on the way to a 45-3 victory over Western Carolina University in its 2013 home opener at Lane Stadium/ Worsham Field.

After a slow start, the Hokies' offense picked up the pace and ended up with over 200 yards from both its ground game and its air attack.

Redshirt freshmen tailbacks Chris Mangus, Trey Edmunds and Joel Caleb combined for 188 of Tech's 237 rushing yards and accounted for four touchdowns.

Meanwhile, 10 different receivers caught balls as quarterbacks Logan Thomas and Mark Leal teamed up for 225 yards passing.

The defense held Western Carolina to 162 total yards and chipped in three interceptions, including two by junior free safety Detrick Bonner and one by freshman Brandon Facyson.

Tech's opening score came on a 37-yard return by Bonner, the first defensive touchdown for the unit since the 2010 ACC Championship Game against Florida State.

The Catamounts' only score came on a third-quarter field goal, following a muffed punt on the Tech 11. Western Carolina was successful on just two of 13 third-down conversions against the Hokies.

Game Notes

• Chris Mangus became the second redshirt freshman tailback to post a 75-yard or longer touchdown run for the Hokies this season. Mangus raced 76 yards for his first collegiate touchdown during the third quarter against Western Carolina. During Tech's opener against No. 1 Alabama, Trey Edmunds ripped off a 77-run for his first collegiate touchdown. It was the first time in the modern era that Tech has had a 75-yard or longer touchdown run in consecutive games.

• Western Carolina University was the seventh school from the state of North Carolina to play in Lane Stadium.

• The game marked the first time under head coach Frank Beamer that the Hokies had no negative rushing plays in a game (kneeldowns included).

• The win improved Frank Beamer's record in home openers at Tech to 24-3.

Game 3: Defense Stifles High-Powered ECU in Tough Road Win

Virginia Tech	15
East Carolina	10

Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium • Greenville, N.C.
Sept. 14, 2013 • Attendance: 50,096

GREENVILLE, N.C. – Virginia Tech survived another close call at Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium, using a smothering defense and two Logan Thomas' touchdown passes to fend off a feisty East Carolina University, 15-10.

Tech gave up a touchdown and 109 yards of offense to ECU in the first quarter before grounding the Pirates' potent offense. Over the last three periods, the home team was limited to just 95 yards and three points.

The Hokies tied the game at seven-all on a 30-yard touchdown pass by Thomas to Demitri Knowles at the 3:42 mark of the first quarter. Thomas then guided a 10-play, 75-yard drive late in the third period to give Tech its first lead on a 3-yard pass to D.J. Coles.

The Hokies controlled the football for nearly 12 minutes of the fourth quarter and forced a crucial safety with 1:31 remaining. ECU picked up just 13 yards of offense in the period and suffered a momentum-changing interception at its 49-yard line at the 6:42 mark.

The Tech defense picked off three passes in the game and added seven quarterback sacks and 11 total tackles for loss. True freshman Brandon Facyson had two of the picks, while senior Tariq Edwards contributed the diving interception that turned the game in Tech's favor.

Game Notes

• Senior defensive end James Gayle's sack of ECU quarterback Shane Garden forced a fumble that resulted in an East Carolina safety with just 1:31 remaining. The Hokies recovered the subsequent on-side kick and ran out the clock.

• East Carolina did not run a single play inside the red zone (inside the 20) during the game.

• Tech receivers Demitri Knowles and Willie Byrn both had career days catching the football. Knowles hauled in a career-best eight balls, while Byrn had seven grabs on the day.

• The Hokies intercepted three passes for the second consecutive game. Freshman Brandon Facyson picked up his second and third picks of the young season.

• This marked the sixth time in Tech's eight visits to ECU that the game has been decided by seven points or less.

• Senior Logan Thomas broke the school record for career completions, passing Tyrod Taylor (495).

Game 4: Hokies Battle Back For Wild Overtime Win Over Marshall

Marshall		21
Virginia Tech	3 OT	29

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Sept. 21, 2013 • Attendance: 64,060

BLACKSBURG – Virginia Tech became just the 15th school in NCAA FBS history to reach the 700-win plateau with a three-overtime, 29-21, victory over Marshall University. Quarterback Logan Thomas rushed for a touchdown and a two-point conversion during the third overtime period to give Tech the come-from-behind win in a rain-drenched game at Lane Stadium.

Thomas had staked the Hokies to a 14-7 first quarter lead with a 2-yard TD plunge, only to see the Thundering Herd post a 14-point second quarter for a 21-14 advantage that lasted deep into the fourth quarter. The senior quarterback finally pulled Tech even with a 14-play, 83-yard scoring drive that was capped by a 2-yard, fourth-down touchdown pass to Willie Byrn with 3:09 to go.

The Hokies' defense came up big in overtime, blocking a field goal in the first OT, then forcing and recovering a fumble in second. Tech missed field goals in each of the first two extra periods, before Thomas found the end zone. Marshall moved to the 14 on its last possession before missing on three consecutive passes.

The two teams combined for 174 plays, 743 yards of offense and 45 first downs. Tech redshirt freshman tailback Trey Edmunds posted his second career 100-yard rushing game with 110 yards on 22 carries. Meanwhile, Byrn, who made his first career start, grabbed his first collegiate touchdown pass.

Game Notes

• Virginia Tech's Kyle Fuller blocked Marshall's first punt of the game with linebacker Derek DiNardo scooping it up and returning it 11 yards for the Hokies' first touchdown of the game. It was the first career blocked kick for Fuller, and the first collegiate TD for DiNardo.

• Thomas picked up the 21st and 22nd rushing touchdowns of his career, moving past Bob Schweickert for second place all-time at Tech in rushing TDs by a quarterback. Tyrod Taylor currently holds the top spot with 23.

• The game marked the first three-overtime game in Lane Stadium history and the second for a Tech team. The Hokies lost a three-overtime contest at Syracuse in 2002.

• Defensive tackle Derrick Hopkins blocked his first career field goal in the first overtime.

• Marshall's rushing touchdown in the second quarter was only the second touchdown on the ground against the Hokies through four games.

Game 5: Thomas, Defense Lead Hokies to Big ACC Road Win at Georgia Tech

Virginia Tech	17
Georgia Tech	10

Bobby Dodd Stadium • Atlanta, Ga.
Sept. 26, 2013 • Attendance: 50,214

ATLANTA - Virginia Tech jumped to an early lead then turned to its defense to cement a physical 17-10 win in its Atlantic Coast Conference opener at previously unbeaten Georgia Tech.

True freshman cornerback Brandon Facyson set the Hokies' offense up with good field position when he recovered a fumble at the Georgia Tech 27 on the Yellow Jackets' first possession. It took quarterback Logan Thomas just two plays to get the Hokies in the end zone from there. Thomas hit Willie Byrn for 6 yards then fired a 21-yard TD strike across the middle to senior D.J. Coles.

Later in the quarter, Thomas started a season-best 10-play, 91-yard drive that would eat up 6:02 on the clock. The senior signal-caller completed all six of his pass attempts during the march before finishing it off with a 5-yard scoring run.

Georgia Tech booted a field goal in the second quarter and managed an 82-yard TD drive in the third to cut the lead to 14-10. From that point on, however, the Hokies' defense completely clamped down on the Yellow Jackets. During its final four possessions of the game, Georgia Tech managed just 35 yards rushing and nine yards passing. The Jackets' final play resulted in an interception by Hokie freshman Kendall Fuller.

Georgia Tech, which ranked fourth nationally in rushing with an average of 345.3 yards per game, was held to 129 yards. The Hokies had 221 yards passing to finish with a narrow 276-273 lead in total offense.

Game Notes

• Quarterback Logan Thomas totaled 279 yards of total offense during the game to move him past Bryan Randall (8,034) for second place in career total offense at Virginia Tech. Thomas now has 8,158 yards of offense for his Tech career, which trails only Tyrod Taylor (2007-10) whose Tech total is 9,213 yards.

• Thomas ran for his 23rd career rushing touchdown, tying him with Taylor for the most by a Virginia Tech quarterback.

• The Hokies intercepted two passes, giving them two or more picks in each of their last four games. Both interceptions against Georgia Tech were by true freshmen – Brandon Facyson and Kendall Fuller. That freshman duo has accounted for six of the Hokies' 11 picks this season.

• The win was the Hokies' fourth-straight against the Yellow Jackets and improved their record to 9-1 in ACC openers.

• The game marked Virginia Tech's 27th appearance on ESPN Thursday Night Football, where they are now 20-7.

Game 6: Hokies Take Down Tar Heels on Homecoming

North Carolina	17
Virginia Tech	27

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Oct. 5, 2013 • Attendance: 65,632

BLACKSBURG – Logan Thomas staked Virginia Tech to a 21-7 halftime lead with three touchdown passes, and the Hokies held on to defeat the University of North Carolina 27-17 on Homecoming at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

Thomas threw for 230 yards during the first two quarters of play, firing a 45-yard TD strike to Demetri Knowles and tossing a pair of short scoring passes to senior D.J. Coles. The senior signal caller set up a key touchdown right before the first half ended with an 83-yard completion to Willie Byrn out of his own end zone. Two plays later, Thomas rolled out and hit Coles for a 5-yard touchdown.

The Tar Heels had a chance to make up some ground in the third quarter when Tech picked up just 13 yards and failed to register a first down. But all the visitors could muster against the Tech defense during the period was a field goal.

The Hokies cemented the win in the fourth quarter, recovering a fumbled punt on the UNC 17 and grinding to the end zone on six runs by redshirt freshman tailback Trey Edmunds.

The Tar Heels outgained Tech 376 yards to 341, but the Hokies forced three turnovers – two interceptions and a fumble – while avoiding any on their own. Eighty-nine of North Carolina's yards came on a 13-play scoring drive during the last four minutes of the game.

Game Notes

• Senior quarterback Logan Thomas became Tech's all-time leader in passing yardage during the game. Thomas passed Tyrod Taylor (7,017 yds.) early in the first quarter and finished the game with a career total of 7,308 yards passing.

• Thomas' three touchdown passes moved him into third place all-time at Tech in TD passes with 45.

• Receiver Willie Byrn posted his first collegiate 100-yard receiving game. Byrn had four catches for 123 yards. His 83-yard reception in the second quarter was the seventh-longest catch at Tech during the modern era.

• Tech punter A.J. Hughes posted his highest single-game average since becoming a Hokie. Hughes averaged 46.1 yards on eight punts against the Tar Heels.

• Tech had multiple pass INTs for the fifth consecutive game.

• Both teams had nine different players catch passes.

Game 7: Defense Shuts Down Pitt as Hokies Become Bowl Eligible

	Pittsburgh	9
	No. 24 Virginia Tech	19

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Oct. 12, 2013 • Attendance: 64,954

BLACKSBURG – Cody Journell kicked four field goals, and Virginia Tech's nationally ranked defense hounded Pittsburgh quarterback Tom Savage all afternoon, as the Hokies improved to 6-1 with a 19-9 ACC victory over the Panthers at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

Tech scored its only touchdown of the day on its first drive of the game, capping a 71-yard march with a 27-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Logan Thomas to true freshman tight end Kalvin Cline.

Journell added a 48-yard field goal on the Hokies' second possession and the senior kicker added three more three-pointers in the second half to give Tech some breathing room.

The Panthers, who were riding a four-game winning streak against Tech, could never get on track against a swarming Tech defense that posted eight quarterback sacks. A field goal with 14 seconds left in the first half was all the visitor's could muster until a 9-yard touchdown run by Savage with 2:01 left in the game.

Thomas finished with 239 yards passing as Tech finished with a 315-210 edge in total offense. The Panthers, who were averaging 405 yards of total offense a game, managed just 23 yards on the ground. Tech's defense sacked Savage eight times on the day, a season-high.

Game Notes

• True freshman tight end Kalvin Cline hauled in a 27-yard pass from Logan Thomas to register his first collegiate touchdown. He had a career-high 65 yards receiving in the game.

• Cody Journell booted a career-long 48-yard field goal. His previous best was 42-yards on two occasions. His four field goals were a personal best for a single game, as were the five attempts.

• Defensive end Dadi Nicolas had a career-high seven tackles that included a personal-best three quarterback sacks.

• Tech failed to intercept a pass against the Panthers, ending a streak of 10 consecutive games with a least one pick.

• Punter A.J. Hughes had a career-best day with an average of 52.8 yards on four punts. Hughes has now registered a string of eight consecutive games with an average of 40 yards or more, tying the longest steak under Coach Frank Beamer.

Game 8: Duke Takes Down Hokies To End Long Losing Streak

	Duke	13
	No. 16 Virginia Tech	10

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Oct. 26, 2013 • Attendance: 63,326

BLACKSBURG – The Duke Blue Devils built a 13-0 lead during the first three quarters and made it stand up for a 13-10 ACC road win at No. 16 Virginia Tech. The win was the first-ever for Duke in Blacksburg and snapped a 12-game overall losing streak to the Hokies that dated back to 1982.

Kicker Ross Martin connected on field goals of 51 and 53 yards for the only scoring in the first half. Duke quarterback Anthony Boone capped a 63-yard drive with a 9-yard TD at the 6:14 mark of the third quarter.

Tech mounted a 16-play drive that reached the Blue Devils 1-yard line midway through the third quarter only to see an interception in the end zone stop its scoring bid. The Hokies finally got on the board with a 99-yard drive that ended with a 5-yard scoring run by Logan Thomas with 11 seconds left in the period. Tech added a field goal in the fourth but missed on a game-tying chance with 6:02 remaining.

The Hokies got the ball back at their 44-yard line with just under five minutes to go only to suffer their fourth interception of the game. The Blue Devils ran out the last 4:22 of the game for the victory. Duke, which also tossed four interceptions, won the game despite gaining just 91 yards on the ground and 198 yards overall, well below its season average of 452 yards per game.

Tech had 387 yards of offense in the game with Thomas accounting for 315, including 101 on the ground.

Game Notes

• The win was Duke's first win on the road against a top-25 team since 1971, when the Blue Devils won at No. 10 Stanford, 9-3.

• The last time Tech threw four interceptions in a game was against Miami in 2001. The last time the Hokies recorded four or more interceptions in a game and lost was in 1992 when Rutgers threw six picks but still won 50-49.

• The loss to unranked Duke broke a 20-game winning streak against unranked teams. The last loss was to James Madison in 2010.

• True freshman Kendall Fuller had three interceptions in the game, giving him a Tech freshman-record five for the season. The last time a Tech player had three interceptions in a game was Jayron Hosley in 2010 against Russell Wilson and NC State. He became the 13th Tech player in modern history to record three picks in a game.

• Logan Thomas set a new Tech career record for rushing touchdowns by a quarterback when he ran 5 yards for a score against the Blue Devils. It was his 24th career rushing TD, surpassing Tyrod Taylor's mark of 23.

Game 9: Turnovers Hurt Hokies On The Road

Virginia Tech	27
Boston College	34

Alumni Stadium • Chestnut Hill, Mass.
Nov. 2, 2013 • Attendance: 30,129

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. - Boston College snapped a five-game losing streak to Virginia Tech with a 34-27, come-from-behind, ACC victory at Alumni Stadium. The Eagles scored 27 second-half points, including 17 off turnovers, in handing the Hokies their second-straight league loss.

After falling behind early, Tech took a halftime lead thanks to a touchdown run by Trey Edmunds and a 56-yard field goal by Cody Journell.

Tech took a 20-17 lead with 13:08 remaining in the game, but Boston College ripped off 17 unanswered points in a span of 4 minutes and 10 seconds to take a 34-20 lead midway through the fourth quarter.

A game-tying field goal was followed by a 33-yard interception return for a touchdown by Kevin Pierre-Louis and a 62-yard scoring burst by tailback Andre Williams.

Tech pulled within seven on a touchdown pass by Logan Thomas to Edmunds with 2:54 left, but saw its hopes dashed when Thomas was hit and fumbled on a third-down scramble with 1:21 remaining.

Game Notes

• Logan Thomas became Virginia Tech's all-time leader in total offense during the game. His 429 yards of total offense, the third-highest single game total by a Tech player, pushed him by Tyrod Taylor (9, 213) for the all-time lead with 9,463 total yards.

• Receiver Joshua Stanford posted a career-high 171 yards receiving on six catches. His receiving yards tied him with Sidney Snell for the fifth-highest total in a single game at Tech. Snell had 171 yards against VMI in 1979.

• Cody Journell booted a 56-yard field goal in the game, the longest under Coach Frank Beamer. The kick tied Journell with Paul Engle for the third-longest field goal in Tech history.

• Junior rover Kyshoen Jarrett set a new career high with 11 tackles in the game.

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. - Virginia Tech piled up 549 yards of offense on the way to snapping a two-game ACC loosing streak with a stunning 42-24 road win over the No. 14 ranked Miami Hurricanes.

The Hokies gave up a touchdown in the first four minutes of the game before going on a scoring spree that saw tailback Trey Edmunds score three TDs in less than 10 minutes to give Tech a lead it would not relinquish. The redshirt freshman back finished the game with four rushing touchdowns to complement a 25-for-31 passing performance by quarterback Logan Thomas that produced two additional scores.

The Hokies controlled the football for 39:30 without a miscue after committing a total of eight turnovers during their previous two games. Tech forced a pair of UM fumbles on kick returns to set up its first two TDs, but its biggest recovery may have come in the third quarter when receiver Willie Byrn had a reception stripped at the Miami 2 only to be recovered by alert teammate Demitri Knowles in the end zone for a touchdown.

Game Notes

• Trey Edmunds rushed for four touchdowns in the win over the 'Canes. The last Tech player to run for four scores in a game was Ryan Williams against Virginia during the 2009 season.

• Quarterback Logan Thomas threw two touchdown passes in the game, becoming the Hokies all-time leader in touchdown passes with a total of 50. Bryan Randall held the previous mark with 48.

• The last time an unranked Virginia Tech team had beaten a top-15 team on the road was 1989, when Tech took a 12-10 win at No. 9 West Virginia.

• Joshua Stanford (107) and Willie Byrn (105) gave Tech two players with 100 yards receiving in the same game for the first time since a 2010 game against Wake Forest (Dyrell Roberts and Danny Coale).

Game 11: Tech Stumbles in Overtime on Senior Day

Maryland		27
Virginia Tech	OT	24

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Nov. 16, 2013 • Attendance: 64,686

BLACKSBURG – Maryland quarterback C.J. Brown rushed for 122 yards and two touchdowns, including the game-winner in overtime, as the Terrapins spoiled Virginia Tech's Senior Day with a 27-24 OT victory on Tech soil.

Tech gained an early lead on a 3-yard touchdown run by Trey Edmunds - his fifth in two games - but couldn't take advantage after that. Maryland tied the game up in the second quarter and took the lead right before the half on a 1-yard sneak by Brown.

After a Brown touchdown pass gave Maryland a 21-7 lead three minutes into the third quarter, Tech was able to regroup and gain enough momentum to tie the contest thanks to a pair of Logan Thomas touchdown tosses. Tech began drives at its 40 and 45 late in the fourth quarter but failed to register a first down.

The Hokies had to settle for a field goal in overtime, after having a first down at the UM 9. The visitors then used four consecutive running plays, capped by a 3-yard scoring scramble by Brown, to nail down the win.

The Terps outgained the Hokies 319 yards to 264 and got seven sacks from their defense. The loss was the first on Senior Day for the Hokies since a loss to Boston College in the final home game of the 2003 season.

Game Notes

• The loss to Maryland gave the Hokies two ACC losses at Lane Stadium in the same year for the first time since Tech joined the conference in 2004. Tech dropped a 13-10 loss to Duke in Blacksburg on Oct. 26.

• Freshman walk-on kicker Eric Kristensen was pressed into duty for the first time and responded by making all three of his extra point attempts and one of two field goal attempts. He missed on a 34-yard FG, before making a 31-yarder during overtime. He became the 11th true freshman to see action for Tech this season.

• The game marked the first time in Tech quarterback Logan Thomas' 38 games as a starter that the Hokies lost when he didn't throw an interception. Tech had been 15-0 prior to the loss to Maryland.

• The loss snapped a five-game Tech winning streak against the Terrapins.

Game 12: Tech Beats UVa For 10th-Straight Time

Virginia Tech		16
Virginia		6

Scott Stadium • Charlottesville, Va.
Nov. 30, 2013 • Attendance: 52,069

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. - Virginia Tech scored 10 points in the final three minutes of the first half to break a 6-6 tie and provide the winning margin in a 16-6 victory at in-state rival Virginia. The win was Tech's 10th straight against the Cavaliers and capped an 8-4 regular season.

The turning point came late in the second quarter after Virginia sacked Tech quarterback Logan Thomas, forcing and recovering a fumble at the Hokies' 34. Trailing 9-6, the Cavs lost a yard on their first three plays and failed on a fourth-down aerial after passing up a field goal try. Tech took over at its 35 with 1:04 remaining and quickly moved to the Virginia 26 on three Thomas completions. After missing two throws, Thomas connected with tailback Trey Edmunds, who weaved his way to the end zone with 21 seconds to go.

Virginia ran just seven offensive plays in Tech territory during the second half and controlled the ball for just 5:17 of the fourth quarter. The Hokies' offense failed to produce points but used its running game to eat up minutes. Tech attempted just three passes during the final two quarters.

The Tech defense held UVa to 285 total yards and just 17 completions on 40 passing attempts, while freshman walk-on kicker Eric Kristensen connected on all three of his field goal attempts.

Game Notes

• Quarterback Logan Thomas started for the 39th straight game, setting a school record for consecutive starts by a quarterback. Bryan Randall held the previous record of 38 straight starts.

• The Hokies attempted just their 19th onside kick under Coach Frank Beamer, successfully recovering it for the seventh time. The last time Tech recovered an onside kick of its own was 2007 at Georgia Tech.

• Redshirt sophomore Demitri Knowles posted a career-high 101 yards receiving in the game. His previous high was 99 yards against East Carolina earlier in the season.

• Freshman fullback Sam Rogers, who was a quarterback in high school, completed his first collegiate pass on a first-quarter toss to quarterback Logan Thomas. It was the second career reception for Thomas, who had a touchdown catch against Wake Forest as a redshirt freshman in 2010.

1947 Sun Bowl Recap

Cincinnati	18
Virginia Tech	6

Kidd Field • El Paso, Texas
Jan. 1, 1947 • Attendance: 10,000

EL PASO, Texas - The University of Cincinnati Bearcats swept to three second-half touchdowns to defeat Virginia Tech, 18-6, in the Sun Bowl's 12th annual football game. The game marked Tech's first-ever bowl appearance and the first bowl game in which a football team from the commonwealth of Virginia had participated.

Tech had a chance to take an early lead on the heavily favored Bearcats, but stalled two yards short of the goal. Quarterback Harry Walton set up the early threat with a 25-yard run to the Cincinnati 23. Walton then caught a pass from halfback Ralph Beard to move the ball to the Bearcats' 2 yard line. From there, the big Cincinnati line held on four straight running plays.

The game remained scoreless until the third quarter when quick-opening plays from the T-formation began clicking for the Bearcats. Cincinnati halfback Hal Johnson spun through the center of the line for a 13-yard touchdown run midway through the third quarter. Keyed by a 19-yard run by All-American halfback Roger Stephens, UC scored again on its next possession. Fullback Al Sabato plunged the final yard for the touchdown.

Tech mounted another threat late in the third quarter, marching to the UC 23 before having a pass intercepted in the end zone. The Hokies held the Bearcats and bounced right back. Aided by a pair of costly Cincinnati penalties, Tech marched inside the UC 5 and Beard scored on a fourth-down run from the 1-yard line.

An interception return by Johnson to the Tech 25 helped Cincinnati put the game away in the fourth quarter. The Bearcats promptly moved the ball to the Tech 3 where Don McMillan carried it in for the final touchdown. The Hokies blocked all three UC extra point kicks during the game.

Cincinnati's vaunted running attack produced a total of 369 yards as the Bearcats piled up 463 yards of total offense. Tech managed 13 first downs - just three less than UC - despite gaining only 34 yards on the ground and 85 through the air. The Hokies' defense contributed three interceptions in the game and lineman John Maskas blocked his seventh punt of the season.

The bowl week was marked by "unusual" weather. Three-inches of snow fell atop frozen rain the day before the game, and when kickoff time rolled around, the teams took the field under cloudy skies and below-freezing temperatures. According to one newspaper account, "blankets, fur caps, galoshes, ski suits, stocking caps and all types of winter wear were much in evidence"

• Of the 74 players who were active members of the weekly dress squad, 62 will have eligibility to return next year. Twelve seniors could dress for the bowl game.

• Of those 74 players on the dress squad, 29 are freshmen, 12 are sophomores and 23 are seniors, eligibility-wise.

A Win in the Sun Bowl Would Mean ...

• The Hokies pick up their ninth win of the season, marking the 15th time in 16 seasons - and the 18th time in 21 seasons - they'd reach that plateau.

Against Ranked Teams

• Tech has an all-time record of 49-82-1 against teams ranked in the AP poll. However, since the start of the 1995 season, the Hokies are 39-28 against ranked teams.

Bowl Bits

• Sixteen players who started against Rutgers last season in the Russell Athletic Bowl are on this year's roster with 14 of them projected to or who could start against UCLA.

• Twelve players who started against Michigan two seasons ago in the Sugar Bowl are on this year's roster, all of whom are projected to or who could start against UCLA.

• There is just one player still on this year's team who started against Stanford three seasons ago in the Orange Bowl - Jack Tyler. He will start his fourth bowl game when the Hokies tee it up against UCLA on Dec. 31.

Trio Racing up the Receptions List

• Willie Byrn (49 rec.), Demitri Knowles (43 rec.) and Joshua Stanford (37 rec.) are on pace to be the most productice trio of receivers in a single season . . . and they'll all be back next season. Byrn is already seventh on the school's single-season list for receptions while Knowles is tied for 10th. With two more catches, Stanford would be tied for 17th and that would mark the first time in school history that three receivers caught 39 or more passes in a single season.

Thomas the Tank

• Senior quarterback Logan Thomas may be the tallest starting signal caller in school history, but he certainly had some shoes to fill in replacing four-year starter and 2010 ACC Player of the Year Tyrod Taylor. All Taylor did in four years was lead Tech to three ACC titles, set a school record for wins by a quarterback (34), and set career marks in total offense, passing yards and many more.

• Thomas has shown he is more than capable, breaking Taylor's school record for total offense in a season with 3,482 yards as a sophomore and then breaking his own record last year with 3,500 yards.

• The redshirt senior, who earned second-team All-ACC honors as a sophomore, was recruited as a tight end, but was moved to quarterback just before his first preseason camp and began the process of being groomed for the position.

• Thomas was a standout basketball player at Brookville High and received scholarship offers to play basketball at JMU, Duquesne, Liberty, Akron, Richmond and Tulane, but he decided to focus on football. He's also an avid golfer who likes to hit the links whenever he has free time.

Young Faces in the Backfield

• While the Tech offense lost Ryan Williams and Darren Evans (2010) and David Wilson (2011) to the NFL over the past three years, it still boasts a talented, but young, arsenal under running backs coach Shane Beamer.

• Sophomore J.C. Coleman, at only 5-7, took over as Tech's starting tailback midway through last season and led the tailbacks with 492 yards rushing and had two rushing scores. He also had 21 receptions for 132 yards and a score and averaged 21.6 yards per kick return. He has rushed for 262 yards this year.

• Trey Edmunds was impressive last preseason as a true freshman and almost earned a spot on the dress squad, but coaches ultimately felt they would be better off with him redshirting. He used the year to get bigger and after a breakout spring session, he earned the starting spot. The son of NFL Pro Bowler Ferrell Edmunds, the younger Edmunds posted a 4.37 in the 40 and had a 375-pound front squat this past offseason.

• In the opener against No. 1 Alabama, he broke off a 77-yard run for a touchdown and finished with 132 yards for the game, becoming the first freshman to break 100 yards in his collegiate debut since Shyrone Stith gained 119 yards against Akron in 1996. It was also the most rushing yards in a college debut in school history.

• For the season, he's rushed for 675 yards on 166 carries with 10 touchdowns, plus two receiving scores. He scored four touchdowns on the ground against Miami to help pace a big offensive performance by the Hokies but will miss the bowl game after suffering a fractured right tibia in the win at Virginia.

• Chris Mangus is a speedy player from North Carolina who redshirted last year. He was moved to wide receiver in preseason, but was moved back after an injury to Coleman. A big-play threat, he broke off a 76-yard touchdown run against Western Carolina.

• Joel Caleb was recruited as an athlete coming out of Clover Hill High after playing six different positions. The prep All-American spent last year as a wide receiver, but made the move to tailback during the first week of this year's preseason camp. At 6-feet-2, 205 pounds, Caleb gives the Hokies another big body at the position to complement Edmunds and picked up the position quickly.

The Leader of the D-Line

• Senior defensive end James Gayle had a breakout season in 2011, earning All-ACC honors. He had 38 tackles, including 12.5 tackles for loss and seven sacks, along with 20 quarterback hurries that year. For his career, he has 133 tackles, including 40.0 for loss and 21.5 sacks, earning All-ACC honors three years in a row.

• A physical monster, the 255-pound Hampton, Va., product has posted a 39.5-inch vertical and a 4.44 40-time. Gayle didn't seriously take up the sport of football until his sophomore year at Bethel High in Hampton. And he didn't play that season because of a hamstring injury.

• But his late start hasn't hurt thanks to the good genes passed down to him. Gayle's dad, Jimmy, played running back at Ohio State from 1979-82, and was named the 1981 Liberty Bowl most outstanding player.

• His uncle, Shaun Gayle, played 12 seasons in the NFL (1984-95) and was a member of the Chicago Bears squad that won Super Bowl XX in 1985. He also owns the distinction of returning the shortest punt for a touchdown in NFL history, when he returned a punt 5 yards for a touchdown against the New York Giants in a 1985 divisional playoff victory.

A Family Atmosphere

• Defensive players Ronny and Devin Vandyke are just two of numerous Hokies on the roster to have family ties to the Tech football program. There are seven players on the team with brothers who either are playing or did play at Virginia Tech. Derrick Hopkins lined up next to his brother Antoine for three seasons along the defensive line. David Wang is the younger brother of former offensive tackle Ed Wang and redshirt junior lineman Mark Shuman is the younger brother of former starting center and current weight room assistant director Ryan Shuman.

• Kyle Fuller is a senior defensive back who started the past two years for the Hokies. He is joined on the team by his brother, Kendall Fuller, Both are younger brothers of former Hokie players Vincent Fuller, who played six seasons with the Tennessee Titans, and Corey Fuller, now with the Detroit Lions' practice squad:

• Quarterback Logan Thomas and tight end Zack McCray are first cousins as their mothers are sisters.

• Linebacker Tariq Edwards is the son of former Hokie football player Bo Campbell, who lettered from 1989-92. Redshirt freshman Alston Smith is the son of former Hokie and NFL Hall of Famer Bruce Smith.

• Redshirt freshman Zach Snell is the son of former Hokie wide receiver Donald Wayne Snell (1984-86) and the nephew of former Hokie receiver Sidney Snell (1977-80). He is also the cousin of Tech redshirt freshman quarterback Brendan Motley. Redshirt freshman punter Hunter Windmuller is the nephew of the late Denny Windmuller, a defensive back for Tech who lettered in 1978 and 1979.

• Freshman Deon Newsome is the son of Myron Newsome, who lettered in 1995 and 1996 and freshman Kyle Chung is the son of former Hokie lineman and current NFL assistant coach Eugene Chung while freshman Woody Baron is the nephew of former Tech player Jim Baron (1994-95).

• Over 20 sets of brothers have played for head coach Frank Beamer in his 27 years at Virginia Tech.

Working His Way Back

• After moving from safety to cornerback last season, redshirt senior Antone Exum is still looking to make a full-time move back to the field this season. Last year, Exum made a move to cornerback and played so well in his first action at corner that defensive secondary coach Torrian Gray made the move permanent. The move paid off as he led the team in interceptions, was MVP of the Russell Athletic Bowl and earned All-ACC honors.

• After deciding to come back for his senior year, Exum tore the ACL and lateral meniscus in his right knee in January playing pick-up basketball on campus. Dr. James Andrews repaired the knee, but Exum missed all of spring practice. Exum was cleared by Dr. James Andrews on Sept. 30, and made his 2013 debut against Duke, but injured his ankle at Miami and missed the last two games.

• Exum has already graduated from Tech with a degree in finance and is working on a second undergraduate degree in marketing.

Taking Care Of Walk-Ons

• Virginia Tech has had a lot of success with walk-on players. John Engelberger was a starter for the San Francisco 49ers and Denver Broncos, while John Burke played in the Super Bowl with the New England Patriots in 1987. Cody Grimm went from a walk-on, to an All-American, to an NFL Draft pick of Tampa Bay in 2009.

• Current Tech walk-ons who have earned scholarships include Michael Branthover, Charley Meyer, Josh Trimble, Griffin Hite, A.J. Hughes, Joe St. Germain, Jack Tyler, Derek DiNardo, Willie Byrn and Trey Gresh.

• Will Montgomery (C, Washington Redskins) and Grimm are former Hokie walk-on who have seen starting action in the NFL recently.

Gettin' It Done In The Classroom

• Of the 13 seniors on the 2013 roster, there are nine Hokie graduates, with three others slated to graduate in December or January.

• Here's how the current seniors, listed alphabetically, stand: graduated: D.J. Coles, J.R. Collins, Tariq Edwards, Antone Exum, James Gayle, Tony Gregory, Andrew Miller, Logan Thomas and Tyrel Wilson. Derrick Hopkins and Jack Tyler are expected to graduate in December and Kyle Fuller is expected to graduate the new Winter Term in January.

• Additionally, juniors David Wang (two degrees) and E.L. Smiling have already graduated with Detrick Bonner, Laurence Gibson, Zack McCray and Chase Williams expected to graduate in December. If all goes right, Tech could have 17 graduates on its roster for the Hyundai Sun Bowl.

• In 10 of the past 12 years, Tech has graduated at least 70 percent of its class.

• Since 2001, there have been 228 senior Tech football players on the roster with 213 earning their degree. That is over 93 percent.

Making the Move

• Senior Andrew Miller took over as the center two years ago and had a solid season in the middle of the line, but had his season cut short last year due to a broken foot he suffered against Duke. He was asked to move to guard for his final season, a move that new line coach Jeff Grimes thought would benefit him and the team. It's paid off as Miller has graded out at 85 percent on the season with a team-high 115 knockdown blocks.

• The Bassett, Va., native was a standout wrestler in high school and has competed for the Hokies' nationally ranked wrestling squad. Miller was a two-time Virginia Group AA state champion and was the No. 3-ranked heavyweight by W.I.N. Magazine following his senior year. He was also a first-team all-state selection in football.

• Miller has already graduated from Tech with a degree in agribusiness.

Playing Through the Pain

• Linebacker Tariq Edwards played through immense pain most of the second half of the 2011 season before undergoing surgery after the season to put a rod in his left tibia to relieve pain from a stress fracture in his shin.

• Even in pain, Edwards made a career-best 71 tackles that season, including 11.5 tackles for a loss and 3.5 sacks, along with two interceptions as he started all 14 games at linebacker. He suffered the stress fracture late in the season, but played through it in the Sugar Bowl. He had

This Is Virginia Tech Football

• Head coach Frank Beamer is the winningest active coach in the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) with 266 victories and is sixth all-time among FBS coaches in terms of career victories - ahead of such legends as Woody Hayes, Bo Schembechler, Tom Osborne, LaVell Edwards, Hayden Fry and Lou Holtz.

• No coach among the 125 active Division I-A head football coaches has been at his current school longer for more consecutive years than Coach Beamer, as he is in his 27th season at the helm of the Hokies' program.

• Coach Beamer is one of 10 all-time coaches in Division I/FBS to win 200 or more games at one college. Currently, only 36 coaches at all levels are in this group.

• In 10 of the past 12 years, Virginia Tech has graduated at least 70 percent of its football class and had two Academic All-Americans in 2011. Since 2001, there have been 228 senior Tech football players on the roster with 215 earning their degree.

• During a 10-year span from (2002-2011), Virginia Tech had the ninth-most players taken in the NFL Draft of any school, according to DraftMetrics.

• Virginia Tech won 10 or more games in every year from 2004-2011, tied for the third-longest streak in the modern era. Tech has won 10 or more games 11 times over the past 15 seasons, and 13 of the past 18 seasons.

• With its trip to the Hyundai Sun Bowl this year, Virginia Tech is now one of only two teams to go to 21 bowls in the past 21 seasons. The other one is Florida State (32) after Florida had its 22-year streak broken this season.

• Tech is one of only six programs in college football history to go to a bowl in at least 20 straight years, Nebraska (35), Michigan (33), Florida State (32; active), Alabama (25), Florida (22) and Tech (21; active).

• Head coach Frank Beamer (21) is one of only four coaches all-time to lead a program to 20 or more straight bowl games, joining Bobby Bowden (Florida State, 28), Tom Osborne (Nebraska, 25) and Paul "Bear" Bryant (Alabama, 24).

• Virginia Tech has been a consistent winner since the mid-90s, winning an average of 9.2 games per year during the current streak of 21 straight seasons capped by bowl appearances.

• Since joining the ACC prior to the 2004 season, Virginia Tech has compiled an 99-34 overall record, the best mark of any school in the conference. Tech's 62-18 league record (65-20 if you count the title game outcomes) and four league crowns are also the best among league teams during that span.

• Since 1980, Tech is one of just eight schools to produce a No. 1 overall pick in the NFL at least twice. The other schools are Miami (2), Ohio State (2), Auburn (3), Southern Cal (2), Penn State (2), Stanford (2) and Oklahoma (2).

• Virginia Tech has 18 players on 53-man NFL rosters (nine starters), three on the practice squad and two on the injured reserve in 2013.

• During Coach Beamer's time in Blacksburg, the other 13 ACC football programs have employed a combined 64 head coaches. Jim Mora, Jr. will be the 125th different head coach Beamer has faced during his time in Blacksburg.

another procedure done in last year's preseason, which set him back, but he played sparingly on kickoff coverage.

• The senior has played at full strength all season and posted 66 tackles this season, including 10.5 for loss and 3.5 sacks, to go along with an interception he picked up against East Carolina.

• Edwards has already graduated from Tech with a degree in psychology and is working on a second undergraduate degree in human development.

Trimble Takes Over

• Josh Trimble is the fourth brother in his family to play football at the FBS level, but the first to take a different path. Older brothers Jeremy, Jordan and Justin all played or play for Army. Jeremy is currently stationed in South Korea while Jordan just returned from a tour in Afghanistan. Justin is a senior at West Point. The four brothers are the son of former Bishop O'Connell football coach Steve Trimble, a Maryland defensive back who played four years in the NFL, who died of a heart attack in his school office in 2011. The elder Trimble was a member of the NFL's Broncos and Bears in the early '80s.

• Trimble has gone from a walk-on to now the starting outside linebacker for the Hokies and earned a scholarship this preseason. For the year, he has 18 tackles and a sack as he's started five games.

Impressive Genes

• Center David Wang comes from athletic parents, both of whom were members of the Chinese Olympic team. Wang has already graduated with a pair of degrees from Tech, one in 2011 in management and another this past summer in marketing.

• He is the brother of former Hokie Ed Wang, who made history in April of 2010 by becoming the first Chinese American to be drafted by an NFL team when Buffalo took him in the fourth round. Ed and David were featured on NFL China in 2010 as a crew came over from Beijing to do a story on American football.

• Wang made the move to center this year and has been a stalwart inside, making all the calls for the line. Wang had a career-high 16 knockdown blocks in Tech's win at No. 14 Miami, earning ACC Offensive Back of the Week honors.

• Tech also holds the distinction of having the first Korean American drafted by an NFL team as Eugene Chung was taken by New England in the first round of the 1992 Draft. His son, Kyle, is a freshman offensive lineman for the Hokies this season.

Hokie Pride

• Virginia Tech football has always prided itself on taking care of its players before, during and after their time in Blacksburg. A testament to the family atmosphere created is the roster of former Hokie players serving in some capacity with the football team in the athletic department.

Frank Beamer (head coach)
Shane Beamer (assoc. head coach)
Cornell Brown (asst. coach)
Mike Burnop (radio color commentator)
Cory Byrd (SAASS coordinator)
David Everett (Hokie Club)
Jarrett Ferguson (strength & conditioning coach)
John Graves (G.A.; weight room)
Torrian Gray (asst. coach)
Jermaine Holmes (director, SAASS)
James Hopper (G.A. coach)
John Moody (Hokie Club)
Mark Muncey (G.A.; weight room)
Greg Nosal (G.A. coach)
Keith Short (strength & conditioning coach)

• During Beamer's time in Blacksburg, the other 13 ACC programs have employed a combined 65 full-time head coaches.

• Five of his nine assistant coaches, plus two of the four GAs, played for him either at Murray State (Bud Foster, Charley Wiles) or Tech (Shane Beamer, Cornell Brown, Torrian Gray, plus GAs Greg Nosal and James Hopper).

The Fabulous Fullers

• Virginia Tech has had plenty of success recruiting the household of Vincent and Nina Fuller up in Baltimore. There was Vincent, who went on to be drafted in the fourth round of the NFL Draft by Tennessee and spent eight years in the league. He played at Tech from 2001-04, recording eight career interceptions.

• In 2010, Kyle signed with the Hokies and has had a big impact on the program. For his career, he has 173 tackles, including 23.5 for loss and 4.5 sacks, six interceptions, four forced fumbles and a fumble recovery. He was a Second-Team All-American by Walter Camp, but had surgery in November to repair a core muscle injury and is quaestionable for the bowl game.

• The second-oldest Fuller, Corey, took a different route to Blacksburg. He signed to run track at Kansas and competed for two years in Lawrence. He decided to give football a try and transferred to Tech in 2010, sitting out a year as required by the NCAA. He had a break-out year last season at receiver and ended up being drafted in the sixth round by the Detroit Lions.

• This past February, the youngest and final Fuller - Kendall - signed with the Hokies. He is a true freshman defensive back who is Tech's starting cornerback opposite Kyle and is Tech's nickel back, taking the spot of the outside linebacker, when teams go with three receivers.

• If Corey, Kyle and Kendall go on to have careers that afford them playing time in the NFL, the four of them will become just the second group of four brothers to play in the NFL and the first group of four brothers to be drafted to the NFL out of the same college. Jim (Notre Dame), Joey (USC), Keith (USC) and Ross (Notre Dame) Browner are four brothers who played in the NFL in the late 1970s and 1980s, but went to different schools.

• Other notable brother combinations starting together on the same side of the ball for Tech were: Derrick and Antoine Hopkins at defensive tackle from 2010-12; Orion and Cam Martin (defensive end and whip linebacker, respectively) in the late 2000s; Kevin and Jonathan Lewis, starting defensive tackles side-by-side in 2002, and offensive linemen T.J. (RT) and Todd (LG) Washington in 1996.

Jack in the Box

• Linebacker Jack Tyler has proven to be quite the find for defensive coordinator Bud Foster, who had a heavy hand in recruiting Tyler as a recruited walk-on. Tyler has been invaluable for the Hokies, coming up big in several key games. In the 2010 ACC Championship game, he filled in for an injured Bruce Taylor in the second half against Florida State and contributed seven tackles – three of which went for losses.

• In 2011, Tyler earned first-team All-ACC honors from the coaches and second-team honors from ACSMA after the season. He had a team-high 119 tackles, including 13 for loss and 2.5 sacks, with three pass break ups and 13 quarterback hurries. Tyler has a team-leading 93 tackles on the season, including 10.5 for loss and four sacks, earning second-team All-ACC honors from the media again.

• He is the second linebacker from Oakton High to walk-on at Tech and go on to earn honors for the Hokies. Cody Grimm took the same route, earning All-America accolades his senior season, and played two years in the NFL for Tampa Bay.

Giving It One More Try

• Senior D.J. Coles had a personal-best 36 catches for 480 yards and three touchdowns in 2011, but had offseason knee surgery in 2012, which slowed him down. He tried to come back, but re-injured the knee in the first game against Georgia Tech last season and received a medical hardship waiver to return this season.

• A veteran in a young group, Coles has played in 49 games for his career (10 starts), catching 62 passes for 872 yards and nine touchdowns.

• In limited action this year, he has 23 catches for 365 yards, but has a team-leading six touchdown receptions and has a 15.9-yard-per-catch average.

Eric Who?

• When Virginia Tech trotted out a new kicker against Maryland, many wondered just who No. 22 was. That kicker was Eric Kristensen, a guy not even in the preseason media guide. That's because Kristensen is a guy who made it through student walk-on try-outs on Sept. 4 and was added to the roster on Sept. 24. The Ann Arbor, Mich., native had an offer to play at Siena Heights in Michigan, an NAIA school, but no scholarship offers.

• Kristensen has connected on all four PATs thus far and is 4-for-5 on field goals with a long of 38 yards.

Doing Good Deeds

• Head coach Frank Beamer is a strong believer in giving back to the community. He founded Herma's Readers in 2008 and last year, the team helped raise money for Wounded Warrior Project.

• The team has also raised money to help support Breast Cancer Awareness and Ewing's sarcoma cancer.

• Herma's Readers is a non-profit organization that promotes the power of reading and literacy to youngsters during their formative years, grades K-3. The organization was formed as a tribute to Tech head football coach Frank Beamer's late mother, Herma, a teacher for over 30 years in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Herma's Readers has delivered over 21,000 new and used books collected at Virginia Tech football games to youngsters throughout the Commonwealth.

More Important Things Than Football

• Junior Kyshoen Jarrett may be thriving at his rover position, but he knows there are way more important things in life than football.

• Jarrett's older brother, Daishawn Capers, has cerebral palsy and is legally blind. He is wheelchair-bound and needs help doing almost everything, relying on his brother and mother, Vinise Capers. In high school, Jarrett would often take care of Daishawn, either getting him ready for school in the morning or by watching him during the evenings when their mother was away.

• Though from Tannersville, Pa., Jarrett's mother and brother now live in North Carolina and come to almost every home game. Daishawn sits there waiting to hear his brother's name over the public address system, ready to cheer for his brother every time he makes a play.

• Jarrett is a converted cornerback who moved to the rover position in the spring of 2012 and now starts there while also seeing time as a punt returner.

• At Pittsburgh last season, he broke off a 94-yard punt return for a touchdown, the second-longest return in school history and the longest under head coach Frank Beamer. He averaged 13.9 yards per punt return last season, ninth-best in the FBS and was second on the team with 83 tackles.

International Receivers

• Two of Tech's main threats in its receiving corps aren't even from the United States. Sophomore Demitri Knowles hails from Freeport, Grand Bahamas in The Bahamas and redshirt freshman Joshua Stanford is from Mississauga, Ontario in Canada.

• Knowles was born and raised in The Bahamas and grew up competing in swimming and track before moving to Lynchburg, Va., to try his hand at football. After spending just two seasons at Liberty Christian Academy playing a sport he really knew nothing about before he was 14 years old, Knowles is making strides in the game.

• Knowles' only exposure to the game before his high school years – other than watching Miami Dolphins and Miami Hurricanes games on television – was playing it in his backyard.

• But then, Devard Darling, a native of The Bahamas and a former Florida State and Washington State receiver who was on NFL rosters for seven seasons with the Baltimore Ravens, Kansas City Chiefs and Houston Texans, brought a football camp to Freeport. Knowles attended the camp, and won Most Valuable Player honors. He was hooked and moved to Virginia for his final two years of high school, where his speed caught the eye of Virginia Tech coaches.

• Knowles caught a 42-yard touchdown midway through the fourth quarter of Virginia Tech's 20-17 overtime win against Georgia Tech in last year's season-opener. This year, he has 43 receptions for 619 yards and three touchdowns.

• Stanford, a Canadian born and bred, eschewed his first love, hockey, because it was too expensive, so he migrated toward football. Because of a situation back home in Canada, his parents decided it'd be best for him to move south to live with family friends in Georgia when he was 15. There is where his game really took off. Stanford's recruiting heated up late and Virginia Tech got a verbal from him late, right before the 2012 signing day.

• Stanford impressed in preseason camp and played early on, but got his knee rolled up on against Austin Peay in the second week, which ended his season. Tech applied for a medical hardship waiver for him to preserve his freshman season. He had 171 yards receiving - tied for the fifth-most in Tech history for a single game - at Boston College and followed that up with a seven-catch, 107-yard, one touchdown game at No. 14 Miami.

• For the year, he has 37 catches for 606 yards and a TD.

Playing for his Brother

• Every time offensive lineman Brent Benedict takes the field, he says he is playing for his brother, Heath, who died unexpectedly of an enlarged heart in March of 2008, just weeks before the NFL Draft.

• The older Benedict, also an offensive lineman, originally signed with the University of Tennessee, but transferred to Newberry (S.C.) College, where he was a two-time Little All-American. He was projected as a mid-rounder in the NFL Draft and was the first Division II player since 2004 to take part in the Senior Bowl.

Freshmen Making History

• Jonathan McLaughlin made history at Virginia Tech, becoming the first true freshman to start any game at left tackle under head coach Frank Beamer when he got the nod against top-ranked Alabama.

• The last true freshman to start in the opening game on the offensive line was Sergio Render in 2006 at right guard. He would go on to start 52 games during his career at Tech. Prior to McLaughlin, he was the last true freshman to start anywhere on the offensive line for the Hokies.

• The last true freshman to start any game at offensive tackle for Tech was Jimmy Martin, who started the last six games at right tackle during the 2002 season.

• McLaughlin is the first true freshman to start a game at left tackle under Beamer and the first true freshman to start an opening game at either tackle position under Beamer.

• No true freshman had ever started the opening game at cornerback under Coach Frank Beamer until Brandon Facyson got the nod against Alabama at field corner. Antonio Banks was the last true freshman to start a season opener in the secondary and that came at free safety in the 1993 season opener.

• Tech opened the Alabama game in a nickel package, meaning two true freshmen started in the secondary: Kendall Fuller as the nickel back and Facyson at the field corner spot. Fuller has started 11 games, recording 56 tackles, a Tech freshman-record six interceptions (including three against Duke) and 10 break ups.

• Facyson, who has aspirations to be a heart surgeon, enrolled in January after graduating high school early, while Fuller enrolled for Summer II. The Georgia native has been a playmaker thus far, recording five interceptions on the year.

• Sam Rogers entered camp as a walk-on fullback in the No. 4 position on the depth chart, but enters the season as the starter at the position. He chose to walk-on at Tech over scholarship offers at Bucknell and St. Francis, as well as walk-on opportunities at Virginia, Richmond and William & Mary. At 5-foot-10, 220 pounds, Rogers did it all for Hanover High in Mechanicsville (outside Richmond), playing quarterback, receiver, running back and multiple positions on defense, earning first-team all-state honors as a utility player. His brother, Ben, was an All-America center on the Division III level for Hampden-Sydney College.

• True freshman Kalvin Cline didn't sign with the Hokies in February and didn't accept a scholarship offer until May. The Florida native played just one year of high school after starring in basketball, but has caught on to the sport quickly. In his short time on campus, he has rocketed up the depth chart, catching 25 passes for 285 yards and two touchdowns.

The Lunch Pail D

During Bud Foster's 244-game tenure as defensive/co-defensive coordinator, Tech has . . .

• had 46 different defensive players score touchdowns.

• scored 72 touchdowns (49 on pass interceptions, 22 on fumble returns and one on a fumble recovery).

• held opponents to an average of 107.9 yards rushing and 16.8 points per game.

• been nationally ranked in the top five of a major defensive category 35 times. The Hokies finished No. 1 in total defense in 2005 and 2006, second in 2001 and third in 1999.

• pitched 28 shutouts.

• had at least one defensive player earn All-America honors from some publication in 16 of 18 seasons. Four players gained A-A recognition in 1999 and three were honored in 2001.

• produced six first-team All-Americans and 11 others who have earned second- or third-team All-America honors from one of the recognized groups.

• had 35 players drafted by NFL teams.

• produced its first Lombardi Award winner and its first Nagurski Trophy winner in Corey Moore.

• produced two BIG EAST defensive players of the year – Corey Moore, who earned the honor in both 1998 and 1999, and Cornell Brown, who won it in 1995.

• featured 10 players who have recorded nine or more interceptions in their career.

Rushing = Outcome?

• Under head coach Frank Beamer (334 games), the Hokies are 193-40-2 when outrushing their opponents, 30-68 when being outrushed and 1-0 when the rushing total is even.

• In Tech's current 20-year bowl run (since 1993), Tech is 173-25 when outrushing its opponents, 26-43 when being outrushed and 1-0 when the rushing total is even.

• In its current 21-year bowl run (since 1993), Tech is 112-8 when rushing for 200 yards or more.

• Since the start of the 1999 season, Tech is 128-18 when outrushing its opponent and 19-31 when being outrushed.

• His father, Mike, played football at Arkansas State before being drafted by the Green Bay Packers.

The Leader of The Defense ... And of His Family

• Junior free safety Detrick Bonner is the quiet quarterback of the Hokie defense as the leader in the secondary. He's also the leader of his family. The Georgia native has six siblings and was often in charge of the children while his mother worked long hours. One of his younger brothers, Alvin Hill plays, defensive back for the University of Maryland.

• Bonner picked off two passes against Western Carolina, returning one for a touchdown against the Catamounts.

The Paperboy Keeps Delivering

• Coming into the season, junior Willie Byrn had one career reception. This season alone, he leads the team with 49 catches, compiling 635 yards and two touchdowns. Nicknamed "The Paperboy" by offensive coordinator Scot Loeffler because "he always delivers," Byrn has been a steadying veteran on a young offense.

• The former walk-on earned a scholarship in the preseason and already has the seventh-most receptions in a single season at Tech with 49. The Virginia Beach native leads the squad in reception and yards.

Hopkins A Threat on Defense ... and Offense

• Senior defensive tackle Derrick Hopkins has already had one of the greatest careers for a defensive tackle at Virginia Tech, but is going out in style this season. Through 12 games, he has 49 tackles, including 7.5 for loss and four sacks, plus a 40-yard fumble return and a blocked kick.

• The Highland Springs native also added the role of fullback the latter part of this season in certain goal line situations. He's played six snaps at the position and has led the way for two touchdowns thus far.

• Hopkins was named the state's defensive lineman of the year for the second year in a row by The Richmond Touchdown Club and has started 39 straight games.

Cline Catching On

• With a catch in the finale against Virginia, true freshman tight end Kalvin Cline now has 25 receptions for 284 yards and two scores this season.

• The high school basketball star played just one year of high school football before committing to the Hokies in May … well after National Signing Day. After not even dressing for the opener against Alabama and being scheduled for a redshirt, he's taken over the position and giving the Hokies an added threat.

• Here's a list of tight ends under head coach Frank Beamer who have caught 20 or more passes in a season:

Rec.	Player	Year	Yds.	TD
38	Steve Johnson	1987	475	3
26	Jeff King	2005	292	6
25	Kalvin Cline	2013	284	2
25	Jeff King	2004	304	4
22	Greg Boone	2008	278	2
21	Greg Daniels	1991	205	1
20	Andre Smith	2010	195	5

•The Tech record for catches by a tight end in a season belongs to Hokie Hall of Famer and current Virginia Tech IMG Radio Network color analyst Mike Burnop, who had 46 receptions in 1971 for 558 yards and two scores, coming in just 11 games.

Maddy and Dadi

• Virginia Tech features a pair of Delray Beach products on its defensive line in tackle Luther Maddy and end Dadi Nicolas. Both of Haitian descent, the lightly recruited players from Atlantic High are both making a big impact for the Hokies. Maddy has 52 tackles, including 11.5 tackles for loss and 6.5 sacks, while Nicolas has 29 tackles, including seven tackles for loss and four sacks.

Scoring In Different Ways

• During Frank Beamer's time at Tech, a player at every position on the defensive unit has produced at least one touchdown, and 39 different players have scored touchdowns while playing on Tech's special teams.

• Altogether, the defense and special teams have combined for 134 TDs since Beamer arrived in 1987.

• Under Beamer, Tech's defense has scored 83 TDs (55 on interceptions, 26 on fumble returns, two on fumble recoveries). The special teams have added 51 TDs (18 on blocked punts, 19 on punt returns, nine on kickoff returns, four on blocked field goals, one on a fumble recovery).

• Under Beamer, 85 different players on defense and special teams have scored TDs. André Davis had four, Victor Harris had five and DeAngelo Hall led the way with seven.

The Game On Radio

• All Virginia Tech football games can be heard throughout Virginia and much of the mid-Atlantic region on the Virginia Tech IMG Sports Network. Ten-time Virginia Sportscaster of the Year Bill Roth (play-by-play), Hokies' Hall of Famer Mike Burnop (analyst) and Adam Witten (scoreboard anchor) comprise Virginia Tech football's on-air broadcast crew.

• The 2013 season marks Roth and Burnop's 26th season together in the Virginia Tech radio booth, making them one of the longest-tenured active duos in the FBS.

Virginia Tech's 242-Game Scoring Streak

Virginia Tech's current 242-game scoring streak from 1995 to present stands as tied for the 12th-longest in Division I-A college history. In the 242-game run, Tech scored on its first offensive possession 78 times, plus another four occasions where it scored on returns on its first touch of the game. The Hokies have scored in the first quarter 176 times during the streak, and have had it extended by halftime in 231 of the 242 games. Here's that list: (* — includes a blocked punt recovery in the end zone prior to the first offensive possession against Akron in 1995; an interception return prior to the first offensive possession at Clemson in 2007; an interception return prior to the first offensive possession against Boston College in 2008; and a blocked punt return prior to the first offensive possession against Marshall in 2013):

Virginia Tech has a 183-59 record during the scoring streak, averaging 34.1 points in the wins and 20.4 points in the losses. The Hokies had only four occasions where they were delayed extending the streak until the fourth quarter. The last time came in the 2012 Russell Athletic Bowl in a 13-10 overtime win against Rutgers. The latest Tech scored its first points in a game was with 6:58 left in the 2005 Sugar Bowl against Auburn, a game in which the Hokies went on to score another touchdown in the loss. Here's a look at those occasions.
(* — denotes in Sugar Bowl in New Orleans; ^ — denotes Russell Athletic Bowl in Orlando):

Date	Game	Opponent	Fourth Quarter Score (first if multiple scores)	Time Left (4Q)	Result
Nov. 4, 2000	67	at Miami	Lee Suggs 1 yd run	12:23	L, 21-41
Jan. 3, 2005	122	Auburn*	Josh Morgan 29 yd pass from Bryan Randall	6:58	L, 13-16
Nov. 5, 2005	131	Miami	Marcus Vick 2 yd run	8:06	L, 7-27
Dec. 28, 2012	230	Rutgers ^	Cody Journell 25 yd FG	12:14	W, 13-10 (ot)

There have been seven occasions where Virginia Tech scored just once to continue the streak, by seven different players. Only once did Tech's lone score come in the fourth quarter of a game and that came in 2005 when Marcus Vick scored on a 5-yard run with 8:06 left in a 27-7 loss. A look at these seven times with one score.
