Media Information

ITINERARY: Spring practice is scheduled to run from March 23 through April 16. The annual Spring Game is scheduled for Saturday, April 16, at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field, beginning at approximately 2 p.m. Due to construction, media accomodations for the game are to be announced.

PRACTICE COVERAGE: Media representatives are welcome to cover Tech football practice, but they must notify the Virginia Tech Sports Information Office in advance for proper clearance. All practices, except for the Spring Game, are closed to the general public. The Hokies will workout at the football practice fields behind the Merryman Center, or in the event of inclement weather, in Rector Field House. Scrimmages are scheduled to be held at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field. Dates and times, listed on this page, are subject to change. Please note that the schedule does not include meeting and conditioning assignments.

INTERVIEWS: Interviews with coaches, players and staff are arranged through the Virginia Tech Sports Information Office (540) 231-6726. Player interviews are not allowed during practice.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Cameramen and photographers may shoot only from the sidelines at practice. Please refrain from edging onto the playing field to avoid any injury to players and/or photographers.

2005 Spring Outlook Hokies Looking To Build on 2004 Success

This spring will be no more difficult that any other for 2004 Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year Frank Beamer and his staff, but he will have to find a new offensive field general and heart for its defense after the departures of ACC Player of the Year, quarterback Bryan Randall, and second team All-ACC defensive tackle Jim Davis.

"We are starting over like any year and we need to understand what is possible but realize nothing is guaranteed," said Beamer. "A lot of great things happened last year, but that does not mean everything will be handed to you next year. We have to start over and find the personality and chemistry of this team."

The other needs are simple, veteran departures to the defensive secondary will require finding new safeties to be the eyes for the defense; the offensive line has been depleted and will need reinforcements; young talent will need to emerge on the defensive line; and a new punter and long snapper will have to found to shore up Beamer's unique brand of special teams.

The Hokies will return 14 starters this off-season, eight on offense and six on defense, from a squad that finished 10-3, ranked No. 10 in the country, won the ACC title in its inaugural season and made a trip to the Sugar Bowl. The 16-13 loss at the hands of the Auburn Tigers on Jan. 3, has the Hokies looking to rekindle their late season momentum.

"We are going to work this spring on getting our best personnel on the field," said Beamer. "It takes some time, but we need to get our personnel right. There are a couple situations where we need to know who is going to be the go-to player we need as the starter and who is going to be the backup."

On offense, much of the focus will be on the guarterback position and finding who will pick up where Randall left off. Redshirt junior Marcus Vick will return to the field this spring with hopes of carrying the torch, as will sophomore Sean Glennon and redshirt freshman Cory Holt.

A solid running game and a solid corps of offensive linemen, led by All-ACC tackle Jimmy Martin, will help whoever takes the lead. Replacements for departing seniors Jon Dunn and > James Miller will need to be found, but a young group of players are eager for the challenge.

"Our second group of offensive linemen's development will really be important this spring," said Beamer. "We are going to see who wants to step up and be a good player for us. We are going to try a few new faces at guard and look at Will Montgomery back at quard."

The defense will again be guick and aggressive, led by All-ACC defensive end Darryl Tapp. Gone are three out of four defensive secondary members from last season, including free safety Vincent Fuller. Returning is boundary corner Jimmy Williams, who decided to stay for his senior season instead of testing the professional ranks.

"We made some position changes because of our need at safety and it's going to show this spring," said Beamer. "We feel strongly about the abilities of players like Justin Hamilton and Robert Parker to be able to move and adapt quickly. We will need them to in order for us to be successful."

The linebacking corps could be one of defensive coordinator Bud Foster's fastest in recent years, led by a cadre of talented and youthful performers like redshirt sophomores Vince Hall and Xavier Adibi. Both have big play potential and will need to live up to their billing in their third spring in Blacksburg in order for the defense to maintain the blue-collar style Beamer enjoys seeing cause havoc on opposing offenses.

Tech will have to find replacements for departed seniors Vinnie Burns, the Hokies' sure-footed, four-year starter at punter and long snapper Travis Conway.

Most of the kicking duties are strong with the return of starting place-kicker Brandon Pace and kickoff man Jared Develli. Both currently hold the No. 1 spots on the depth chart, but will be challenged by a talented group of reserves, which would like to get their names involved in the legendary schemes of BeamerBall.

The Offense

The loss of three starters may not seem like much, but when that includes your player of the year and arguably one of the toughest leaders ever to touch the Hokie stone at the gate of Lane Stadium, it takes on a new meaning.

Last season's offense finished fourth in the ACC in total offense with 365.5 yards per game. It totaled 400 points in 13 games for 30.8 points per game average, eighth best all-time at Tech, and compiled the sixth highest total for touchdowns ever in a single season with 48.

Quarterback Bryan Randall became the all-time total offense leader in Virginia Tech history with 8,034 yards from scrimmage and 1,242 plays.

Still, the cupboard is not empty for offense coordinator and offensive line coach Bryan Stinespring who, for the second time in four years, has to replace a premier quarterback from a prolific offense, and do it quickly.

Stinespring does benefit from having three strong candidates in Vick and Glennon, who have both seen in-game action during their brief careers, and Holt, who is eager to prove his worth after spending the last season as a redshirt.

"I have been really impressed with the level of competition of our quarterbacks so far this off-season," said Beamer. "Several individuals tested very well and are showing the work ethic we expect and develops trust from their teammates."

At running back, Stinespring returns his two top rushers from last season, as well as All-ACC tight end Jeff King and a group of talented wide receivers led by sophomore Eddie Royal and redshirt sophomore Josh Hyman.

Each veteran group adds a layer of security that allows Stinespring to remove a lot of pressure from his new quarterback, but he will need the young offensive line to improve through repetition this coming spring season.

Offensive Line

Graduated seniors Jon Dunn and James Miller flanked the right side of the line of scrimmage last year and key replacements need to be found this spring.

Stinespring, Tech's offensive line coach, will look to a number of reserves to fill the hole left by the consistent duo. Moving redshirt senior Will Montgomery back to guard from center is the first move that will be tested this spring.

"With Dunn and Miller leaving it is a substantial change to make, but I feel we have the youth and talent to do so this spring season," said Stinespring. "We are going to make some changes and shuffle some players around to give us an idea of who fits where and how to proceed."

As an honorable mention All-ACC center last season, Montgomery held together an offensive line that lost a big piece with the departure of Jake Grove in 2004. Montgomery's stoic work helped the Hokies to rush for 178 yards per game and pass for 187 per game.

Also returning this season is fellow honorable mention All-ACC honoree Jimmy Martin at left tackle and redshirt junior Jason Murphy at right guard. Both Martin and Murphy will give the Hokies a strong foundation to work with this spring and should help if Stinespring needs to shuffle players in order to maintain balance. Senior Reggie Butler could also play into the mix on the right side. The 6-6, 344-pound Butler was listed as the No. 2 guard and tackle for the Hokies and will look to use his knowledge of both positions to crack the starting line-up at right tackle.

Still, look for a youth movement to be the overwhelming theme this spring with redshirt juniors Brandon Gore (left guard) and Danny McGrath (center) both battling for playing time.

At 6-5 and 340 pounds, Gore possesses the physical attributes to protect from the inside, while McGrath at 6-2, 283 pounds is a little more mobile and would serve well against the aggressive style ACC defensive lines.

"We will need for some of these younger players to come out and show they are ready to play," said Stinespring. "In order for us to continue to improve, our depth has to increase at the No. 2 spots. We have the players, this is the time they need to show they are ready to take the next step forward."

At tackle, redshirt freshman Nick Marshman and redshirt junior Brandon Frye are both tall and athletic, but unproven.

With some of the best defensive ends in the country at the same camp, it will be up to them to prove they have what it takes to sustain their blocks against relentless rushers like Darryl Tapp and Noland Burchette.

"You are going to get better when you go against talented players," said Stinespring. "We have a talented, fast defense that gives us the ability to test our players on a day-to-day basis, which will only make them better as individuals."

Redshirt freshman Ryan Shuman could give McGrath some competition at center as well. The 6-3, 290-pound Fork Union product was impressive in fall workouts and will look to carry that success into the spring. Mike Parham will also get a look at both center and right guard.

The Hokies will be without the services of redshirt sophomore Tripp Carroll who will be unable to participate in spring drills due to off-season surgery.

Tight Ends

Last season, the tight ends entered camp with the hope of creating a viable offensive threat and opening the passing game. The mission was accomplished, but now it becomes that much harder to maintain. Luckily for position coach Danny Pearman, he has some solid depth to maintain the level of play.

No longer just a decoy, the tight ends in Stinespring's offense now pose a significant threat to opposing defenses. Led by senior and All-Atlantic Coast Conference honoree Jeff King, the tight ends will play a significant role in transitioning this year's offense to a new quarterback's leadership.

"We have two solid tight ends coming back and now we pick up John Kinzer, so we should be solid, but we can't allow a drop off of our production," said Pearman. "The spring is all about getting as many repetitions as possible and it helps to have Jeff, who can work with Kinzer to move him along quicker."

Last season, King finished the year third on the team with 25 catches for 304 total yards and four touchdowns, all career highs, while starting all 13 games. He was second on the team in 2004 with 22 money plays, resulting in four touchdowns and 16 first downs, seven for clutch third-down conversions.

King will also be called upon to fill a larger leadership role in his final season in Blacksburg, following in the footsteps of Randall, Fuller and Davis from 2004.

Redshirt sophomore Duane Brown will move up from the No. 3 tight end to No. 2 after the departure of graduated senior Jared Mazetta. A powerful blocker with play-making ability, Brown could give the Hokies one of the best tight end tandems in the ACC.

Brown had three grabs for 64 yards and one touchdown in 13 games worth of action. He also saw time on special teams and had a season long 33-yard touchdown pass from sophomore Sean Glennon against Western Michigan for his first collegiate TD.

"This will be a big spring for Duane," said Pearman. "He is going to get a lot of work in spring drills and needs to continue to develop and work on playing at a high level consistently at high speed."

Moving to tight end this season will be redshirt sophomore Kinzer who played fullback last season. He started four games in the offensive backfield for Tech and played in all 13 games.

"There is a big difference between blocking in space and blocking someone right on top of you at the line," said Pearman. "We need to take advantage of his speed and running ability, while developing his blocking technique and working on getting off the ball."

Kinzer totaled 26 yards on seven catches with two touchdowns as a fullback and will look to use his hands and blocking skills this spring at the line, filling the hole at the No. 3 tight end.

Quarterbacks

Replacing a player like Bryan Randall is not done overnight. The goal this spring season for guarterbacks coach Kevin Rogers is not to find the next Randall, but the next Virginia Tech guarterback.

He is in luck to have three strong-armed and athletic youths who are willing and able to step up to the challenge of taking over one of the ACC's most prolific offenses.

"There are three very talented and young players we need to evaluate coming into this spring that each want their shot," said Rogers. "This will be as tight a competition as any other position and I think all three have shown the level of commitment necessary."

Among the three candidates, redshirt junior Marcus Vick has the most ingame experience, after playing in 11 games as a redshirt sophomore in 2003. Vick enters spring as the No. 3 quarterback after missing last season.

Vick will join sophomore Sean Glennon and redshirt freshman Cory Holt. Both enter spring with all the credentials necessary to guide the Hokie attack, but neither has significant playing time. "Sean has really put forth the effort to get better this offseason and it shows," said Rogers. "We all know the athletic ability all these kids have, but putting the extra time on film, in the weight room and at practice will be important for their development."

Glennon has the upper hand, playing in four games as a true freshman last year as the No. 2 quarterback. He passed for 137 yards, while connecting on 8-of-11 attempts, with two touchdowns.

Holt follows the same mold as Glennon with a 6-4, 216pound frame. He should push for snaps with the No. 1 and 2 offensive groups this spring.

Although the three players are talented and each with their own unique abilities, it will be Randall's grasp of the offense and ability to teach the younger players which could be missed the most by Coach Rogers.

"Having Bryan here was like having a second coach at practice," said Rogers. "He was the best example we could have for these players on how to be a college quarterback. I am glad they got a year with him, because I think all three are better for it."

Running Backs

The offensive backs could be one of the deepest and most advanced groups on the team this spring. Position coach Billy Hite returns senior Mike Imoh and redshirt senior Cedric Humes, after both had career years in 2004. Switching to his third position in four years, will be redshirt senior Justin Hamilton, who moves to the other side of the line of scrimmage to play safety in the Hokies depleted secondary.

While Imoh and Humes will both get their fair share of snaps in the preseason, it could be redshirt freshmen George Bell and Brandon Ore that steal the spotlight at tailback during spring workouts and scrimmages.

Both Bell and Ore spent last season on the sidelines developing their skills and improving their abilities under the watchful eyes of Hite, who hopes the four-man race for playing time will keep all four hungry.

"I am looking forward to getting Bell and Ore onto the field again this spring," said Hite. "You could see them getting better every day at fall practice, and from that standpoint we have some good young talent."

Imoh had a spectacular season in 2004 setting a new career-high with 720 total rushing yards and six touchdowns last season. He also set a new Tech single-season record with 243 yards against North Carolina.

Humes came into spring practice a year ago as the heir apparent until an injury sidelined him until fall of 2004. After a rough start, he was able to get on track during the final games of the season, finishing with 605 total yards and five rushing touchdowns. He also grabbed eight passes for 46 yards.

While Ore could be considered more of an elusive back than the powerful, bruising style of Bell, both will add different elements to the Hokie ground attack as well as give Hite options in two-back sets or catching balls out of the backfield.

Both Bell and Ore could also see time as fullback while Hite tries to surround the next Hokie quarterback with solid weapons and protection.

Also in the mix will be senior John Candelas. The Blacksburg native saw action in five games last season, finishing with 166 yards on 32 carries. He had a career-high 84 yards on 14 carries against Florida A&M.

While not a big concern to the coaching staff, fullback does remain a question and a position still up for grabs. Last season, Hite experimented with redshirt sophomore John Kinzer, who has since been moved back to tight end, his position in high school.

Redshirt junior Jesse Allen returns, and is penciled in as the starting fullback, but there will be competition with Ore, Bell or redshirt sophomore Carlton Weatherford.

Allen saw action on special teams and in the backfield in 10 games, starting two. He rushed for four yards on two attempts, but caught three passes for 24 yards and his first collegiate touchdown, a 9-yard strike by Randall during the 62-0 romp over Florida A&M.

Wide Receivers

At the wide receivers position, Coach Tony Ball returns some eager veterans and talented youth, as he tries to mold his unit with a focus on the fundamentals.

"There is a lot of competitiveness and they are young, young players and talented players and that's what you like," said Ball. "Competition breeds winners and you like that. It's a fact."

This year's group will be called on to help bridge the gap with the departure of Bryan Randall to graduation. The 2005 spring will be critical to work on timing and chemistry with a new quarterback behind center.

The group will also be without the services of sophomore flanker Eddie Royal, who will miss spring camp after having surgery this past winter.

Royal started 11 out of 13 games last season for the Hokies. He led the team with 28 catches, was second in receiving yards with 470, and finished third with three touchdowns. His 80-yard touchdown grab against Georgia Tech was a season-long for the Hokies.

In Royal's absence, junior David Clowney and sophomore Justin Harper will get the majority of repetitions during spring practice, while redshirt freshman Jeremy Gilchrist waits in the wings.

Clowney started one game last season, but saw action in 12 out of 13 games, catching 20 balls for 263 yards and two touchdowns.

Harper saw action in 11 of Tech's 13 games in 2004, totaling 84 yards on five receptions and one touchdown off a 34-yard strike against Western Michigan from sophomore Sean Glennon.

At split end, redshirt sophomore Josh Hyman and sophomore Josh Morgan will contend for the starting nod from Coach Ball.

"There's a lot of competition among all our players this spring," said Ball. "We will be finding out who is putting in the work to get better, who makes the most improvement and who can help us win going into preseason."

Hyman had a spectacular rookie campaign, finishing second on the team with 27 catches for a team-high 491 yards. He played in all 13 of Tech's games, starting 12. Hyman also caught a teamhigh five touchdown passes, including a 12-yard TD reception to put the Hokies up 10-7 at halftime of the BCA Football Classic against eventual national champion Southern California.

Morgan tied with Royal for the season long with an 80-yard strike against Auburn in the 2005 Sugar Bowl. On the year, Morgan totaled 15 receptions for 346 yards and three touchdowns.

In all, the rookie quartet of Royal, Hyman, Harper and Morgan totaled 1,309 of Tech's 2,435 receiving yards and 12 of the Hokies' 24 receiving touchdown's last season.

"We will be looking a lot at fundamentals, it's something that can't be overlooked," said Ball. "As a group we need to focus on our objectives. For the spring you set your guidelines and objectives as a group and then look at the individual. They are talented players, but not yet great football players so you have to find the way to get them where they need to be."

"I think they are still trying to find themselves," said Ball. "They have a way to go, but they are trying to find their roles. If that develops into a leadership role it will only make us better as a team."

The Defense

In what could be called a renaissance, the Hokie defense recaptured its past glory in 2004, once again establishing itself as one of the premier defenses in the country, headlined by an attacking and punishing style.

"As a defense, I would like to see us pick up where we left off," said defensive coordinator and linebackers coach Bud Foster. "I think we have a good mix of youth and veterans on this squad who could continue to improve this spring."

The Hokies finished the season second in the Atlantic Coast Conference in total defense by allowing only 268 yards per game. They led the conference in scoring defense with only 12.8 points allowed per game.

This spring, only six out of 11 starters return. Biggest among the departures were the senior leaders who were the heart and soul of last season's defense. Tackle Jim Davis, defensive backs Eric Green, Vincent Fuller and rover James Griffin have all departed. They leave behind a strong legacy for this year's leaders.

"We have some holes to fill this spring and we need to find some playmakers in those spots," said coach Bud Foster. "The holes will basically be in the secondary, but I feel we have some young players with some experience who will have to be counted on."

Spearheaded by a relentless pass rusher in Darryl Tapp, a shutdown corner in Williams and athletic linebackers Hall and Adibi, this team has all the makings of another potent Foster defense.

Adibi and Hall are both proven ball-hawks, disrupting passers and tailbacks last season as rookies. When grouped with redshirt senior James Anderson at whip linebacker and redshirt junior Cary Wade at rover, they make up one of the most talented crews in the ACC.

A majority of the eight platooned defensive linemen from last season return for the Hokies, as well as a group of talented underclassmen, which will be important to support a new-look secondary that includes redshirt freshman Kent Hicks and redshirt senior Justin Hamilton, who will transfer his football knowledge to the defensive side of the ball.

There will be talent around the ball, but it will be young, with just over ten players in the two-deep with two or less years of playing experience. Redshirt sophomores Roland Minor at defensive back and Carlton Powell at defensive tackle headline the younger group.

Both played key roles in their rookie campaigns and will challenge this spring for more time with the No. 1 squad.

"I am really excited to see how these players who made big plays last year develop this spring," said Foster. "We need guys like Chris Ellis, Carlton Powell and Vince Hall to not be satisfied with last year, but keep working for a new season."

Defensive Line

The departure of graduated seniors Jim Davis, Kevin Lewis and Jason Lallis have position coach Charley Wiles looking to a deep group of underclassmen to fill the holes on the defensive line.

"We have some holes to fill with the seniors that left," said Wiles. "Losing this senior class is more difficult from the standpoint that they all were consistent and gave us good snaps in tough games to help give other players rest. We need to find guys this spring to step into those roles."

The Hokies return three out of four starters from last year's defensive line, including All-ACC performers Tapp and senior defensive tackle Jonathan Lewis, both of whom will be called on to take over leadership roles on this year's squad. The two complements each other well and combined for 37 quarterback hurries and two pass breakups in 2004.

Tapp had a breakout year in his third season on the field and was named All-ACC first team. He finished the year with 60 total tackles, 16.5 tackles for a loss and team-high 8.5 sacks.

He also had one interception against Florida A&M.

For Lewis, it was his year to shine. He was named honorable mention All-ACC and, with his brother by his side at tackle, he finished with 40 tackles, 11 for a loss and five sacks.

"We are going to be working hard on the team concept again this spring," said Wiles. "In order for all of our guys to be successful, we have to be able to develop our depth, get everyone up to speed and get the younger players experience." In 2004, Wiles utilized the amount of talent on the Hokie bench by platooning eight players on a regular basis, in order to keep players fresh and able to play at their peak levels more consistently. It will take some new faces in 2005 to maintain this style but with redshirt sophomores Carlton Powell and Kory Robertson, the future looks bright.

Powell finished the season No. 2 on the defensive tackle depth chart despite his 17 total tackles, six sacks and six quarterback hurries. Robertson finished with four tackles in five games played last year, but should improve with repetitions in spring drills.

Also at tackle, look for redshirt senior Tim Sandidge to finish strong while working towards his final season in 2005. He totaled seven tackles in nine appearances, adding 1.5 tackles for a loss and three quarterback hurries.

"Our tackles have all the potential in the world," said Wiles. "Someone is going to have to step up and make a move this spring for us to maintain what we accomplished last season. These younger players are going to have to contribute, and quickly."

Redshirt sophomore Barry Booker and redshirt junior Chris Burnettboth are over 6-2 and should give the Hokies some added size.

At the end position, redshirt junior Noland Burchette is one of two returning starters at end with Tapp on the opposite side. The bookends combined for 22.5 tackles for a loss last season and 11.5 sacks.

Burchette totaled 27 total tackles, 15 solo, in 12 games last season. He also had six tackles for a loss, an interception and two forced fumbles. Also look for redshirt sophomore Chris Ellis to build on his 33-tackle, three-sack season in 2004. He will look to push Burchette and Tapp for starting time this spring. A tremendous athlete with a solid motor, he will give Wiles a potential three-way rotation at the starting slots.

Along the same lines, Wiles will look to get production from redshirt senior Jordon, sophomore Matt Tilley and transfer Orion Martin.

The group will need to focus on the team concept to be as successful as last season's team. This will be one of the critical things Wiles will be stressing this spring.

"Our seniors were great for us last year on and off the field, but we need that production this year as well," said Wiles. "Last year, guys like Kevin Lewis and Jason Lallis gave us great efforts in their final years, even as reserves. We need to get that from this class too."

Linebackers

Linebacker coach Foster will return mid-season starter Vince Hall and No. 2 inside linebacker Xavier Adibi this spring and hopes to solidify the linebacking corps before the end of spring camp.

"I am very excited about Hall and Adibi because of what they have done, but truly because they can be a lot better," said Foster. "They each have different things they can improve on, but we are working on getting them towards their potential and being complete linebackers like they can be."

While he does have to replace three-year starter Mikal Baaqee, who was lost to graduation, he will be able to mix in some veteran returnees and talented youth to help bridge the gap of the familiarity with his style of defense.

Hall picked up some valuable experience and finished second on the team with 64 tackles, last season. He also totaled 4.5 tackles behind the line of scrimmage, one sack and three pass break-ups.

For his efforts he was named a third-team freshman All-American by The Sporting News, ACC Defensive Freshman of the Year by The Sporting News and to the Freshman All-ACC defensive team by The Sporting News.

Adibi played in only seven games last season due to a bicep injury suffered in the BCA Classic versus Southern California. He returned miraculously by mid-season and finished with 25 tackles, 21 of them solo. A natural playmaker, he had 4.5 tackles for a loss, two sacks, an interception and one forced fumble in limited action. He was also named to the All-ACC freshman defensive team by The Sporting News.

Coach Foster will need his reserves to step up to the challenge this season and maintain the level of intensity and blue-collar work ethic that helped the Hokies succeed last season. Redshirt senior Blake Warren and junior Chad Grimm are the elder statesmen of the group and should help provide stability through consistency.

Warren played in all 13 games on special teams and as a back-up linebacker. He totaled 28 tackles, 2 of them solo, and intercepted two passes, including a 46-yard scamper against Florida A&M.

"Blake can help us in a lot of ways," said Foster. "He has great game instincts and can be a playmaker for us. He is a guy I am counting on to give us great depth, along with his brother Brett."

Led by redshirt freshman Andrew Bowman and redshirt sophomore Stevie Ray Lloyd, the talented younger group will try to push for time. Lloyd spent time as a reserve last season and on special teams. He totaled 11 tackles while playing in 12 out of 13 games last season.

Also in the mix are sophomores Brett Warren and D.J. Preston, and redshirt freshman Purnell Sturdivant. They all should improve with repetitions this spring.

Rovers and Whips

With the departure of seniors Mike Daniels and James Griffin to graduation, rovers and whips coach Jim Cavanaugh will have two large holes to fill.

"We have to replace some solid seniors with unseasoned players and this spring will help us to determine who wants the opportunity to play," said Cavanaugh. "We are going to see if players like Rouse can play both positions, and hopefully take advantage of his speed."

Ready to step in to fill the void are a talented and speedy group of sophomores and juniors eager to prove they have what it takes to play for one of the nation's premier defenses.

At the rover spot, redshirt junior Cary Wade and redshirt senior D.J. Walton have waited in the wings for their time and will have that chance this spring.

Wade played in all 13 games for the Hokies last season recording six total tackles and one quarterback hurry as a reserve. Last season, Walton saw action in only two games, but totaled eight total tackles, five solo, off the bench.

Look for redshirt sophomore Corey Gordon, the 6-2 Gainesville, Fla., product, to add depth to the Hokie defense. Last season, Gordon saw spot time at free safety, recording four tackles in 10 games, including a half-tackle for loss.

At the whip spot, redshirt senior James Anderson and redshirt junior Aaron Rouse return after seeing the majority of the snaps last season.

"I would like to think this is one of our stronger spots on the defense this season," said Cavanaugh. "Both players were solid players last season. It could be a real strength."

Anderson made the move to starter last year during spring practice and should help to solidify one of the most experienced positions on the Hokie two-deep. The Chesapeake native finished the year seventh on the team with 48 total tackles, while starting 12 out of the Hokies' 13 games. One of the Hokies most versatile players, he led the Hokies with two forced fumbles, had 2.5 sacks, was fourth on the team with 6.5 tackles for a loss and grabbed his second career interception last season.

Rouse remained at the No. 2 whip spot most of the season, but saw significant time in all 13 games for Tech. He finished ninth on the team with 37 total tackles and one forced fumble. Rouse may also see time at rover as Cavanaugh looks to find how best to utilize the talented group to help the Hokies succeed. Redshirt junior Robert Parker, moving from wide receiver to whip, is also expected to add his unique blend of size and speed to the rover position. A raw athletic specimen at 6-1, 212 pounds, the defensive coaching staff will try to capitalize on his mix of size and speed to disrupt opponent offenses.

"With Parker, we are trying to see if we can find a spot where he would fit," said Cavanaugh. "He is a very athletic kid and we are trying to see if his physical skills will lend him more to the defensive side of the ball."

Defensive Backs

Secondary coach Lorenzo Ward will have the difficult task of replacing graduated seniors Eric Green and Vincent Fuller, who helped Tech to hold offenses to only eight passing touchdowns all of last season.

"We have a lot of youth compared to this time last spring," said Ward. "We are not worried about our corners as much as we need to identify a safety this spring and work to develop them as guickly as possible."

Senior boundary corner Jimmy Williams returns for his final season after receiving All-ACC accolades last fall. He will be counted upon for his leadership on and off the field as well as helping to develop Tech's young cache of talented safeties and corners.

Last season, Williams led the ACC with 14 pass breakups and was fourth on the Hokie defense with 60 tackles, 37 of them solo. He also had a team-high five interceptions for 81 yards, returning one for a score against Maryland on Nov. 18.

Solidifying the corner spot will be redshirt sophomore Roland Minor and a redshirt freshman out of Delray Beach, Fla., Brandon Flowers.

Minor saw action in all 13 games last season, starting one, but was listed as the No. 2 corner most of the 2004 season. He totaled two interceptions last season, one for 64 yards and a touchdown against Georgia Tech on Oct. 28. He had 15 tackles, seven solo, and was second on the team with five passes broken up.

Sophomore D.J. Parker will also get some time at corner and possibly safety, after seeing most of last season as the No. 2 corner behind Green. He did see action in 12 out of Tech's 13 games, with 10 tackles and one forced fumble.

Ready to push for some time on the field this spring will be redshirt freshman Theodore Miller from Washington, D.C., and redshirt junior Brian McPherson. Both will be looking to get significant repetitions this spring with hopes of impressing the coaching staff enough for time next fall.

Coach Ward will have bigger shoes to fill at safety, but the future is bright with Parker, redshirt freshman Kent Hicks and offensive defectors Justin Hamilton and Brenden Hill all entering the mix.

Parker and Hicks have a leg up as far as experience, but if both Hamilton and Hill can become productive cogs in Foster's defense, safety could become an asset quickly.

"I like to see how they grasp the mental part of the position," said Ward. "If we can get the mental part across, I think any one of the four can handle the physical side of the position. Each of them has something different to work on or improve, but we feel they can all do the job."

Special Teams

In a place where special teams are always a priority, losing a four-year starter at punter and long snapper serves as a viable concern for Coach Frank Beamer.

Tech will look to replace graduated seniors Vinnie Burns and Travis Conway, who both leave Tech after setting a new standard for consistency the past four seasons. The Hokies do return redshirt junior placekicker Brandon Pace, sophomore kickoff man Jared Develli and kick returners Royal and Imoh.

Waiting for their chance are a talented and competitive group of kickers and utility men, each hoping the increased number of opportunities this spring could open a door to more opportunities in games next fall.

Replacing Burns could be the toughest, if only from a consistency and experience point of view. Ready to take the challenge head on is redshirt junior Nic Schmitt. He only had one punt last season, a 43-yard rainbow against Maryland. He could also serve as the holder this spring.

"Nic is going to get some time this spring to work on our kicking game," said Beamer. "Our whole kicking game will be looked at this spring and tweaked. We need a few players to step in and we will be having Nic spend a lot of time punting in practice."

Pace will enter spring as the No. 1 field goal and extra point kicker after a successful campaign in 2004. He hit 21of-27 field goals, with a long of 46-yards. He also finished 43of-44 on extra points, earning first-team All-ACC honors.

Develli served as the main kickoff man in 2004, averaging 62-yards per attempt and recording 29 touchbacks. Nearly half of his kicks ended in the opposing team's end zone.

"We have some pretty good kickers on this team and they are working to try and knock Pace and Develli out of the No. 1 spots," said Beamer. "Although it isn't a given, we have a lot of confidence in our kickers and their abilities."

Snappers redshirt junior Nick Leeson and redshirt sophomore Bart McMillin will battle to get on the field. Both will get a fair number of snaps during practice and scrimmages to determine who is better suited for the job.

Royal and Imoh both returned kick-offs and punt returns last season. With Royal out, however, Jimmy Williams, Hyman or Clowney could all get shots on returns.

In his rookie year, Royal finished the year with 25 punt returns for 274 yards and an 11-yard per attempt average. On kick-offs, he returned 12 for 346 yards and a 29-yard average.

Imoh returned only seven punts for 50 yards, but had 12 kickoff returns for 256 yards and a 21-yard per attempt average.

Coach Frank Beamer

Tech Alum Leads Hokies to 12th Straight Bowl, ACC Crown

Virginia Tech couldn't have asked for anyone better than Frank Beamer to guide its football program into the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Beamer, who was the consensus national coach of the year in 1999, may have done his best coaching job in 2004, guiding a young Tech team that was picked to finish sixth in the ACC to a league title and a BCS Bowl. The Hokies' first-year showing in their new conference earned Beamer ACC Coach of the Year honors. The team also won the league's 2004 Fall Sportsmanship Award for football, yet another tribute to the program Beamer and his staff have built.

When Beamer accepted the job as head football coach at his alma mater in 1987, his goal was for the Virginia Tech football program to reach a consistent level of excellence. The Hokies have come a long way since that day, and along the way, Beamer has become one of the most respected and successful coaches on the college football scene.

Beamer finished his 18th season at Virginia Tech and his 24th year as a collegiate head coach ranked fourth among active Division I-A coaches in victories with 177. His Tech teams have posted a 111-37 record over the past 12 seasons and appeared in bowl games each year during that span, a feat equaled by just four other schools. Prior to winning the ACC championship, he guided the Hokies to three BIG EAST Conference championships and in 1999 helped direct Tech to the national championship game. Beamer's Hokies have earned the highest national rankings in the program's history, spending 61 weeks in the Top 10 of The Associated Press poll over the past six seasons. During one stretch that ended last season, Tech was ranked in 84 consecutive AP polls.

Winning has been just part of Frank Beamer's success story. He and his staff have earned a reputation for getting the most out of their players.

In 2000, Beamer and his staff directed Tech to an 11-1 record after opening the season with eight new starters on defense and an all new lineup in the kicking game. During the 2001 season, the Hokies posted an 8-4 record and appeared in the Top 20 every week despite having to fill four offensive line spots, the quarterback job vacated by sensational underclassman Michael Vick and the tailback spot left open when All-America running back Lee Suggs was lost for the season with an injury. In 2002, the Hokies were 10-4 despite attacking one of their toughest schedules ever with a young team that featured all-new starters at the defensive tackle, inside linebacker and rover positions, as well as major questions at quarterback and wide receiver. This past season, the Hokies earned 10 wins, an ACC title, a Top 10 ranking and a Sugar Bowl bid despite having to replace 14 starters.

A spot in the Nokia Sugar Bowl to play No. 1 Florida State for the national championship focused widespread attention on Virginia Tech and its football program following the 1999 season. And although the Hokies fell short in their bid for the national title, they proved that they belong among the top teams in the college ranks.

For his part in the Hokies' magical 1999 season, Beamer earned eight national coach of the year awards. He was named the Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year, the GTE Coach of the Year, the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year, the Paul 'Bear' Bryant Coach of the Year, The Associated Press Coach of the Year, the Walter Camp Football Foundation/Street & Smith's Coach of the Year, the Maxwell Football Club Coach of the Year and the Woody Hayes Coach of the Year. He also was named the BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year for the third time.

There have been plenty of

In January 2001, Beamer was honored as the NCAA Coach of the Year by The Pigskin Club of Washington, D.C. In May of that year, an on-line newspaper named him the best coach currently in the college football ranks because of his ability to place Tech among the nation's elite year in and year out.

Following consecutive 10-2 seasons in 1995 and 1996, Beamer was voted BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year by the league coaches. He was one of five finalists in the voting for the 1995 National Coach of the Year. In 1996, The Sporting News queried writers from around the country and asked them to rate the coaches in various conferences. In the BIG EAST, those writers rated Frank Beamer the best coach on game day, the best in game preparation, the best as a motivator, the best as a teacher, the best in big games and the best overall.

In 1999, The Sporting News ranked the nation's top coaches in terms of their ability to get the most out of their players. Beamer was picked No. 9 in Division I-A. Four of the last six years TSN has rated the Tech coach tops among BIG EAST head coaches. The publication has also ranked the Hokies' football coaching staff as the best in the conference four times during that span. Street & Smith's College Football 2002 rated Beamer as the top recruiter in the BIG EAST.

The rise of the Tech football program has made Beamer a man in demand. It has opened doors to places he may never have dreamed of as a youngster growing up in Southwest Virginia.

In September 2000, Beamer was invited to the White House where he joined a select group that stood in the Rose Garden behind then-President Bill Clinton as he made remarks on the Conservation and Reinvestment Act. Beamer was one of the keynote speakers at the American Football Coaches Association Convention in 2000, and in April, 2001, he joined former Prime Minister of Great Britain, Lady Margaret Thatcher, as one of the featured speakers at SUCCESS 2001, one of the nation's most popular business seminars. Last April, he was presented a Humanitarian Award by the National Conference for Community and Justice for his contributions to fostering justice, equity and community in the Roanoke Valley.

Beamer's success has also made him a much sought-after coach. In recent years, he has been pursued by numerous other schools and has drawn interest from professional football teams. But in the end, his loyalty has remained with the Hokies.

Beamer has always put Virginia Tech first — ever since he starred as a defensive back for the Hokies in his undergraduate days in the late 1960s, and surely throughout his 18 years as head coach of the Hokies. He has given the Tech program a sense of stability enjoyed by just a handful of other Division I-A schools. Only three other active Division I-A head coaches have been at their current school as long as Beamer.

In 1990, Beamer received a new contract and a substantial pay raise. He refused the raise, however, until such time that all classified and faculty employees of the university could have the same opportunity for pay raises. Most state salaries had been frozen at the time.

Another indication of Beamer's love for the university came on the night he was inducted into The Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 1997. He called it the biggest honor of his entire career. With the induction, he became the first active coach at the university to be honored in that fashion. Beamer's overall record at Tech now stands at 135-77-2. He became Tech's winningest football coach during the 1997 campaign. Counting six years as head coach at Murray State prior to joining the Hokies, Beamer's overall 24-year record is 177-100-4. That record places him fourth among active Division I-A coaches in wins.

The 58-year-old Beamer, the first alumnus to guide the Hokies since the 1940s, took over the Tech reins from Bill Dooley in January 1987. He began work a few days after the Hokies had beaten North Carolina State in the Peach Bowl. It took a while for him to aet the Hokies moving in the right direction because the football program was hit with NCAA sanctions at the time.

But everything came together in the 1990s. The Techmen finished 9-3 in 1993 after beating Indiana, 45-20, in a wild Independence Bowl game. Tech followed up with an 8-4 season in 1994, losing to Tennessee, 45-23, in the Gator Bowl.

The Tech teams in 1995 and 1996 were among the best in school history. The 1995 team swept the BIG EAST Conference championship outright and the 1996 club tied for the title with Syracuse and Miami.

The 1995 team was 9-2 during the regular season and then came up with a stirring 28-10 victory over Texas in the Sugar Bowl. The 1996 team went 10-1 during the regular season and lost to powerful Nebraska, 41-21, in the Orange Bowl after giving the Cornhuskers a fierce battle for three quarters.

The Hokies fell to 7-5 in 1997 and were beaten badly by North Carolina in the Gator Bowl, 42-3. But they came right back with a 9-3 mark in 1998 that included an impressive 38-7 victory over Alabama in the inaugural Music City Bowl in Nashville, Tenn.

The two winningest seasons in school history followed in 1999 and 2000 with the Hokies posting back-to-back 11-1 records. Tech registered its first-ever 11-0 regular-season record in '99 before losing its national championship battle with FSU.

In 2000, the Hokies' only blemish was a loss at Miami in the ninth game of the season. Both seasons, Tech climbed as high as No. 2 in The Associated Press poll, finishing No. 2 in '99 and No. 6 in 2000. The Hokies climbed as high as No. 5 in the 2001 AP poll and finished 18th. In 2002, Tech was ranked as high as No. 3 in the AP poll after posting consecutive wins over nationally ranked LSU (14th), Marshall (16th) and Texas A&M (19th). The Hokies' youthful team finished the season 18th.

Last season, the Hokies ended No. 2 Miami's 39-game regularseason winning streak with a 31-7 victory. The Canes were the highest-ranked opponent Tech had ever beaten on the gridiron. The Hokies climbed as high as No. 3 in the polls before falling victim to inconsistent play during the final month of the season. Still, Tech earned eight wins for the 10th time in 11 seasons.

The 2004 season saw the Hokies bounce back to win their last eight games of the regular season, including victories against three nationally ranked teams — No. 6 West Virginia, No. 16 Virginia and No. 9 Miami.

Beamer's early Tech teams also registered many exciting victories. One of the most impressive came in 1990 when the Hokies capped the year with a 38-13 victory over arch-rival Virginia before a crowd of 54,157, which at the time was the largest ever to see a college football game in the Commonwealth of Virginia. During the 1989 season, Tech knocked off ninth-ranked West Virginia and star quarterback Major Harris, 12-10, in Morgantown.

During his undergraduate days at Tech, Beamer started three years as a cornerback and played on the Hokies' 1966 and 1968 Liberty Bowl teams. He received a B.S. in distributive education from Tech in 1969 and a master's in guidance from Radford in 1972. Then came the start of the Beamer coaching career.

He began as an assistant at Radford High School from 1969 through 1971. Then, after one season as a graduate assistant at the University of Maryland, he went to The Citadel where he worked five seasons under Bobby Ross and one year under Art Baker. His last two years at The Citadel, Beamer was the defensive coordinator.

In 1979, Beamer went to Murray State as the defensive coordinator under Mike Gottfried. He was named head coach at Murray State in 1981 and went on to compile a six-year record of 42 wins, 23 losses and two ties.

The Tech coach was born in Mt. Airy, N.C., and grew up in Hillsville, Va. At Hillsville High, he earned 11 varsity letters as a three-sport athlete in football, basketball and baseball.

Beamer is married to the former Cheryl Oakley of Richmond, Va. They have two children, Shane, a former member of his dad's football team at Tech and now an assistant at Mississippi State; and daughter Casey, a 2003 graduate of Virginia Tech.

Accomplishments Under Coach Beamer

Under the direction of Frank Beamer and his staff, the Hokies have ...

- earned a chance to play for the national championship for the first time in school football history.
- become one of only five Division I schools to go to bowl games each of the last 12 seasons.
- earned four conference titles and four BCS bids in a 10-year span.
- compiled a school-record streak in the Associated Press Top 25 Poll at 84 consecutive weeks.
- posted 11 wins in a season for the first time.
- registered the program's first back-to-back 11-win seasons.
- produced the school's first 11-0 regular-season record in football.
- averaged nine wins a season over the last 12 seasons.
- won an Atlantic Coast Conference Championship in their first season of competition.
- produced the ACC Coach of the Year and Player of the Year during their inaugural season.
- become the first team in BIG EAST history to win all the league's major awards in the same season.
- earned the highest national rankings in school football history, including three Top 10 finishes and back-to-back Top 6 finishes.
- finished in a final Top 25 poll nine times in the last 11 seasons.
- won more games (135) than under any other coaching staff.
- been to three times as many bowl games (12) than under any other coaching staff.
- won more bowl games (5) than under any other coaching staff.
- posted 12 straight seasons of seven or more wins for the first time in school history.
- had 90 of their last 111 games televised (81%).
- compiled a 72-25 record in televised games since the start of the 1995 season.
- blocked more kicks in the 1990s than any other Division I-A team.
- become one of only eight Division I-A schools ever to lead the nation in both scoring offense and defense in the same season.
- had at least one player from every defensive position score a touchdown.
- produced a No. 1 pick in the National Football League draft.
- had over 100 players sign with NFL teams.
- had two players who entered the program as walk-ons drafted in the top four rounds of the NFL draft.
- produced nine Associated Press All-Americans over the last five seasons.
- had players win 10 major conference individual awards in the last seven years.

2004 Season in Review Hokies Unite for Championship Season

The Virginia Tech football team entered the 2004 season looking to recapture the blue collar work ethic that had gotten it to the top of college football. The end to the 2003 season had left a bitter taste in the mouths of the 19 seniors set to play their final season in Chicago maroon and burnt orange. During spring conditioning, a wave of change came over the team spurred by the seniors. The goal was to rekindle the fire of the team by bringing it together.

The mission was simple: to unite the Hokies into an unselfish and disciplined unit, and guide the team through its inaugural season in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The proud Hokies had hopes of a league title and a trip to a Bowl Championship Series postseason game.

The task would be a tough one, as the Hokies were picked to finish sixth in the ACC preseason media poll and were missing from the preseason Associated Press poll for the first time in six years. To add to the challenge, the Hokies would face preseason No. 1 Southern California in the Black Coaches Association Classic to open the college football season.

The senior class and head coach Frank Beamer's staff felt this team still had something special. Led by quarterback Bryan Randall on offense and lineman Jim Davis on defense, the team had all the makings of a classic Hokie squad. And if the leadership could overcome the losses of running back Kevin Jones, defensive back DeAngelo Hall and center Jake Grove to the professional ranks, their chances for success appeared good.

The first game would be a rough one, as the Hokies entered their opener at FedEx Field in Landover, Md., home of the NFL's Washington Redskins, as underdogs to the top-ranked Trojans. USC withstood a spirited effort from the Hokies to notch a hard-fought 24-13 win over Tech. The game was played in front of more than 91,000 fans, the largest crowd to ever watch the Hokies. The same USC team that had to rally to beat the scrappy Hokies will now play in the BCS National Championship against Oklahoma.

Tech stayed in the game and actually led for a large portion of it until USC scored late in the third quarter to take a lead it would never relinquish. Randall provided most of the offense for the Hokies in this one. He completed 14-of-24 passes for 153 yards, with one touchdown, and rushed for 82 yards.

After a week off to refocus, the Hokies were eager to return to the confines of familiar Lane Stadium/Worsham Field for a match-up with the Broncos of Western Michigan. Tech would dominate the Broncos in all phases of the game on the way to a 63-0 victory.

The Hokies pounced early in this game and were never challenged. Promising freshman Eddie Royal showed a glimpse of things to come with an 11yard touchdown run in the first quarter to open the scoring. Royal took a reverse pitch from Randall and streaked around the right side for his first collegiate score. He would add a touchdown reception later in the game.

The Broncos had a couple of scoring opportunities in the first half but could not convert. Trailing the Hokies 21-0, WMU drove 79 yards to the Tech 5-yard line before being forced to attempt a field goal. Tech's Jim Davis broke through and deflected the attempt.

Defensive lineman Jason Lallis also made the highlight reel in a bizarre play when Western Michigan quarterback Ryan Cubit threw a pass that was deflected and landed in the arms of offensive guard Mark Ottney. Ottney tried to advance up the field, but Lallis stripped him of the ball and strolled into the end zone from 28 yards away.

Tech and the Hokie faithful had waited over 50 years for their next game: their first as a member of the ACC against the Blue Devils of Duke. Despite the threat of rain and cold weather in the wake of Hurricane Ivan, Virginia Tech's tilt with Duke on Sept. 18 had the feel of one big party. The Hokies celebrated with 65,115 of their closest friends and some fireworks in a 41-17 victory over the Blue Devils.

The biggest crowd-pleaser of the day came in the second quarter with the Hokies holding a 10-7 lead and five minutes remaining in the half. Tech's defense had just held Duke to its third straight three-and-out series and took over at the Blue Devil 34 after Duke's punt. On first down, Randall pitched the ball to receiver Richard Johnson on a reverse. Johnson, a former high school guarterback, looked downfield and lofted a perfect pass to freshman Josh Hyman in the end zone. Hyman got behind his man and made a leaping catch for the score.

With the momentum recaptured after a tough loss to the Trojans, the Hokies were riding a two-game winning streak entering a match-up with the Wolfpack of North Carolina State and its top-ranked defensive unit.

A series of special team letdowns and Brandon Pace's missed 43-yard field goal as time expired, left Tech behind 17-16 at the end of the game. The Hokies began their last drive at their own 5-yard line with no timeouts and 2:44 left on the clock. Tech was able to move 69 yards in 10 plays, converting a crucial 4th-and-3 along the way. With three seconds left on the clock, the field goal unit took the field. The snap and hold were fine, but the kick floated just inches to the right of the post. The tough loss gave the Hokie faithful a glimpse of how difficult the new ACC schedule would be every week.

N.C. State came into the game as the nation's top-rated defense and showed it against the Hokies. The Wolfpack registered 10 sacks, taking 78 yards away from Tech in the process.

After the difficult loss to the Wolfpack, Beamer rallied the troops for the Black Diamond Trophy game against neighboring rival West Virginia. Last season's 28-7 loss at Morgantown festered with the Hokies all year and the seniors had marked the game as a must-win in order for the season to be successful. It would be one of the most physical games the Hokies would play all season, but in the end, the No. 6-ranked Mountaineers would fall, as would their national title hopes, 19-13.

The tight contest was not decided until WVU's final drive. Starting at their own 11 with 41 seconds on the clock, the Mountaineers completed a 33-yard pass to their 44 and got 15 yards added on thanks to a penalty. But just moments later, WVU quarterback Rasheed Marshall was intercepted by Tech's Vincent Fuller to end the threat and the game.

Defense was the name of the game throughout as the two rivals squared off. The Hokies held the Mountaineers to threeand-out on each of their first four possessions. On the fourth of those, the Mountaineers opted to go for it on fourthand-one from the Tech 46. WVU tailback Kay-Jay Harris took the hand off and was drilled by Fuller. Fuller's hit jarred the ball loose and linebacker Mikal Baagee recovered.

Tech's lone touchdown came when Davis blocked a field goal and Fuller picked up the loose ball and sprinted 74 yards for the score. Tailback Mike Imoh was the sparkplug for Tech, getting the first start of his career and finishing with 115 yards rushing on 30 carries.

The junior running back was just hitting his stride, and carried the momentum of his first career 100-yard rushing game into the Hokies' matchup with the Demon Deacons of Wake Forest. His 7-yard touchdown run with 2:10 left in that game, followed by the Hokies' goal line stand in the final seconds, enabled Virginia Tech to escape with a 17-10 victory over Wake Forest at Groves Stadium in Winston-Salem, N.C.

The Hokies led the game 10-7 going into the fourth quarter, but Wake Forest kicker Ryan Plackemeier tied the game with a 20-yard field goal with 6:15 left. After that, Tech's offense put together its best drive of the second half, led by Randall. The senior hit tight end Jeff King for a 24-yard gain to the Tech 48. He then ran the ball on three of the Hokies' next five plays, getting Tech to the Wake Forest 11 on a 21-yard run off a quarterback draw. Imoh ran for four yards on the next play, and then scored to end the drive. His 7-yard touchdown run pushed him to the 100-yard mark for the second consecutive week.

The Hokies were beginning to find chemistry on offense, and stalwart Randall had a big game, throwing for four touchdowns, in a 62-0 win over the Florida A&M Rattlers on Oct. 16. Nine different Hokies scored as a sold out Homecoming crowd of 65,115 braved the 38mph winds to watch the Hokies improve to 5-2 on the year.

Randall completed 9-of-14 for 115 yards before being lifted late in the second quarter with the Hokies up 41-0. He completed touchdown passes to David Clowney, King, Hyman and Jesse Allen before taking a seat so that backup quarterback Sean Glennon could get some work.

Next, Tech traveled to Atlanta, Ga., to face the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech in an ESPN Thursday night game that would not be a pleaser for the home crowd. The Hokies scored 22 points in the final six minutes of the game to rally from a 14-0 deficit and stun the other Tech, 34-20. The 25 points in the fourth quarter marked the most fourthquarter points ever scored by a Beamer team, surpassing the 23 points the Hokies scored against Miami in the fourth quarter in 1999. The comeback was Tech's first fourth-quarter comeback since 2000 when then-reserve quarterback Dave Meyer rallied the Hokies from a 34-27 deficit to a 37-34 win over Pittsburgh.

Georgia Tech took a 20-12 lead with 5:28 left in the game thanks to a 34-yard field goal by kicker Travis Bell. That lead was short-lived as the Hokies' offense finally got the spark it needed on its ensuing possession. On first-and-10 from the 20, Bryan Randall tossed a pass to Eddie Roval and the rookie cut across the field, sprinting 80 vards for the touchdown, marking the season's longest play by the offense. The Hokies tied the game when Randall found Richard Johnson all alone in the end zone for a two-point conversion.

Tech's defense forced Georgia Tech to go three-and-out on the Yellow Jackets' next possession, and the Hokies wasted little time in scoring again. On the third play of the drive, Randall read a Georgia Tech blitz and found a wide-open Josh Morgan, who went 51 yards for what turned out to be the gamewinning touchdown.

Virginia Tech was now in serious contention for an ACC title, but would have to finish the season with four tough opponents, three nationallyranked foes and unranked North Carolina, which was fresh off an upset of then No. 4-ranked Miami.

Big games, however, were bringing out the best in the Hokies. At UNC, it was Jim Davis who made the play of the game when the Hokies needed it most. His critical quarterback sack late in the fourth quarter forced North Carolina to attempt a 54yard field goal that fell short, allowing the Hokies to escape with a 27-24 victory at Kenan Stadium in Chapel Hill, N.C.

The victory, the Hokies fifth straight since the loss to N.C. State, made Tech bowl eligible with a 7-2 overall record on the season. The Hokies also moved to 4-1 in the ACC and were tied for first place in the league standings.

Tech's stats against the Tar Heels were highlighted by tailback Mike Imoh's recordbreaking performance. The 5-7, 196-pounder from Fairfax, Va., finished with a school record 243 yards on 32 carries and scored two touchdowns. He also caught one pass for three yards and returned three kickoffs for 48 yards, accounting for 287 allpurpose yards.

With the offense and defense clicking on all cylinders as the Hokies got a week off to prepare for the final three games of the season against conference foes, Maryland, Virginia and Miami.

The Terrapins of Maryland took the brunt of a rested and hungry Tech defensive unit that forced four first-half turnovers, allowing the Hokies to score early and often. Tech rolled to a 55-6 victory in another Thursday night ESPN game, this time at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

Tech's defense contributed four interceptions and a fumble recovery while holding the Terps to 197 yards of total offense. Meanwhile, Randall threw for two touchdowns and ran for another.

The win set up a game with the Virginia Cavaliers for more than just in-state bragging rights. It was also for a guaranteed share of the ACC Championship. The Cavaliers had been highly touted all year, and would be the Hokies' biggest challenge of the season since facing No. 1-ranked Trojans.

It was the Hokies who kept their ACC hopes alive with a 24-10 victory over the Cavaliers in Blacksburg. Tech's defense dominated for most of the game and the offense finally came around in the second half as the Hokies improved to 9-2 and 6-1 in front of 65,115 fans.

As expected, the game was tight, with the teams playing to a scoreless tie in the first half. Virginia finally broke through with a 32-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter. After a field goal by Pace, Tech held Virginia to three-and-out on its next possession. The Hokies took advantage of a 27-yard punt and started at the Virginia 45-yard line. On the first play, Randall found Hyman streaking down the left sideline and hit him in stride for the 45-yard touchdown, giving the Hokies a 10-7 lead.

Tied at 10, the Hokies went ahead for good in the fourth quarter when Randall hooked up with Hyman again, this time for a 32-yard score. Tailback Cedric Humes sealed the victory with a 37-yard TD run with 5:08 remaining.

Randall completed 16-of-22 passes and finished with an even 200 yards passing. He surpassed Don Strock as Tech's all-time leading passer with a 12-yard completion to Jeff King in the fourth quarter.

Riding a seven-game winning streak, the Hokies traveled to Miami to face a talented and speedy Hurricane squad that had its sites set on a share of the conference crown and a trip to a BCS Bowl. Despite the fact that UM had suffered two unexpected losses, the Hokies never dismissed the challenge they were facing.

Miami remembered a 31-7 loss at the hands of the Hokies last season. This 'Canes team was looking for revenge, but they were left empty handed. Thanks to a dominating defensive performance and a couple of touchdown passes by Randall, Virginia Tech completed its first trip through the ACC by knocking off No. 9 Miami 16-10 to claim the conference championship and earn the league's automatic berth into the Bowl Championship Series. The win gave the Hokies a 10-2 overall record and 7-1 conference mark.

Tech took the lead for good in the fourth quarter and then used its defense to slam the door on the Hurricanes. Early in the fourth, Royal returned a punt 18 yards to the Miami 39-yard line, giving the Hokies terrific field position. On the next play, Randall hit Royal slanting across the middle and the shifty freshman found his way to the end zone for the deciding touchdown.

Miami's last hopes were dashed by the signature series for Tech's defense. The Hurricanes took over at their own 12-yard line for what would to be their final drive with 1:14 to go. Miami quarterback Brock Berlin completed an 8-yard pass to Sinorice Moss on first down, but Tech's Davis batted down Berlin's next two passes and Tapp swatted away the final attempt to seal the Hurricanes' fate. Randall took a knee twice as the Hokies ran out the final 57 seconds.

Tech got a huge game from Humes. The redshirt junior took over for Imoh early in the game and rushed for 110 yards on 27 carries to help give the Hokies a 297-190 edge in total offense.

With the Miami win, Tech secured the ACC title and the right to play No. 3 Auburn in the Nokia Sugar Bowl. While the outcome wasn't what Tech fans had hoped for, the Hokies showed they belonged, dropping a tight 16-13 contest. Randall threw two long scoring passes to Morgan and the Hokies held a high-powered Auburn offense to three field goals and a score.

LANDOVER, Md. - No. 1 USC rallied behind the big plays of tailback Reggie Bush to hold off Virginia Tech 24-13 in the season-opening Black Coaches Association Football Classic at sold out FedEx Field.

The crowd of 91,665 was predominately Tech fans and provided a boost as the Hokies took a 10-7 lead in the second guarter and made it stand until the final two minutes of the third guarter. USC, which earned a share of the national championship in 2003, finally regained the lead when Bush hauled in a 53-yard scoring pass.

Tech trimmed the Trojans' margin to 14-13 on a 42-yard field goal by Brandon Pace with just under eight minutes remaining, but the Hokies' upset bid was cut short by another big play from Bush. The sophomore USC tailback, who was limited to 27 yards on the ground, did major damage in the passing game, grabbing five passes for 127 yards and three TDs, the last of which came with 5:35 left.

Tech quarterback Bryan Randall led a Tech team that dominated the first half of the contest. Randall rushed for 82 yards in the game and had the Hokies headed in the right direction again in the second half until an offensive pass interference call changed the momentum of the game. USC took advantage of the shift, scoring in just two plays on its next possession to gain the lead for good.

Josh Hyman scored on a 12-yard touchdown pass to put the Hokies up 10-7 over the defending national champions in front of 91,665 fans.

Game Notes

• The sell-out crowd of 91,665 was the largest ever to see a game at FedEx Field and the largest ever to see Virginia Tech play football. Previously, the largest crowd Tech had played in front of was a turnout of 83,746 at Texas A&M's Kyle Field in 2002.

• Tech quarterback Bryan Randall (Williamsburg, Va.) passed for 153 yards against USC. His performance moved him up two spots on the Hokies' career passing list. Randall, who now has 4,397 career passing yards at Tech, passed Steve Casey (4,299) and Jim Druckenmiller (4,383) on the list and now stands in fourth place.

• All four touchdowns in the Tech-USC game were scored on passing plays. The last time Tech played a game in which all the touchdowns came on passing plays was in 1992 against Southern Mississippi. During that game, each team had a passing TD in a 13-12 USM victory at Blacksburg. There were four field goals in that game.

Freshmen Help Hokies Tame Broncos in 63-0 Roundup

BLACKSBURG, Va. — Virginia Tech showed its youth in its home opener against Western Michigan, and in this case it was good. Five freshmen combined for six touchdowns as the Hokies snapped a four-game losing streak with a 63-0 victory against the visiting Broncos.

Tech put together a solid game in all phases. The offense piled up 487 total yards, while the defense contributed two touchdowns and kept WMU out of the end zone for the third time in three meetings. Tech's special teams added two blocked kicks to go with kicker Brandon Pace's nine successful extra points and punter Vinnie Burns' 48.5-yard average. Quarterback Bryan Randall passed for 253 yards and two touchdowns, while his freshman backup Sean Glennon went 4-for-4 for 79 yards and two TDs in his first college action. Freshman Eddie Royal rushed for Freshman Eddie Royal scored a touchdown on a 35-yard reception and another on an 11-yard reverse in Tech's 63-0 victory over WMU.

Game Notes

• The 63-0 win against WMU marked the largest margin of victory for a Tech football team since 1922 when the Hokies defeated Catholic University 73-0. Previously, Tech's widest margin of victory under Coach Frank Beamer was a 62-0 win against Syracuse in 1999.

• Linebacker Vince Hall (Chesapeake, Va.) made his first collegiate start in the WMU game and registered a team-leading 10 tackles. Eddie Royal (Herndon, Va.) was also a first-time starter for the Hokies. Royal opened at flanker and contributed two touchdowns in the first half, one on an 11-yard reverse and the other on a 35-yard pass reception.

• Local product John Candelas, a junior tailback from Blacksburg High School, led Tech in rushing against the Broncos with a personal-best 52 yards on 10 carries.

Senior defensive end Jason Lallis sneaked out of a scrum with a loose ball to score on a 28-yard fumble return.

a touchdown and hauled in a 35-yard scoring pass to help Tech take a 28-0 lead at the half.

Tech's last two touchdowns came from players who were touching the football for the first time in a college game. True freshman cornerback Brandon Flowers picked off a pass and returned it 38 yards to the end zone, while redshirt freshman Duane Brown caught a 33-yard TD pass on his first Tech reception.

Virginia Tech Wins Its First ACC Football Game 41-17

BLACKSBURG, Va. — Virginia Tech football entered a new era as the Hokies knocked off Duke 41-17 in their first league game as a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

It took Tech awhile to get going, but once it did, the injury-riddled Blue Devils had trouble slowing the Hokies down. After falling behind 7-0 in the first guarter, Tech ran off 34 unanswered points, including 24 in the second quarter.

Quarterback Bryan Randall and flanker Richard Johnson sparked the offense. Randall ran for a team-high 93 yards, with 30 coming on a touchdown run that put Tech up 24-7 at the half. Johnson threw a touchdown pass during the second quarter and hauled in TD toss from Randall in the third quarter. Tech finished with 422 yards of offense.

> Darryl Tapp's 2.5 sacks helped the Hokies overpower Duke.

battle despite being successful on just one of 15 third-down conversions.

Richard Johnson threw and caught TD passes against the Blue Devils.

Game Notes

• Redshirt freshman fullback John Kinzer (Fairfax, Va.) made his first collegiate start in the Duke game. Tech started its first two games in a twotight end set that did not include a fullback.

• Flanker Richard Johnson's (Baltimore, Md.) 34-yard touchdown pass to split end Josh Hyman (Baltimore, Md.) marked Johnson's first collegiate pass completion. The pass was the first touchdown pass by a non-quarterback at Tech since tailback André Kendrick connected with André Davis for a 35-yard score against UAB in 1999. When Johnson caught an 11-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter of the Duke game, he became the first Tech player to throw a touchdown pass and catch a TD pass in the same game since 1981 when fullback Tony Paige accomplished the feat against Wake Forest.

• None of the Hokies' seven scoring drives lasted longer than 3:10 on the clock. Tech came away with points on each of its five trips inside the redzone.

• The game marked the first time Tech had beaten Duke in a conference game. Tech was previously 0-6 against Duke in the old Southern Conference.

Hokies Fall Just Short in 17-16 Defensive Struggle

BLACKSBURG, Va. — North Carolina State stymied Virginia Tech with an attacking defense that registered 10 quarterback sacks, but the Wolfpack's 17-16 victory wasn't assured until a 43-yard game-winning field goal attempt by the Hokies' Brandon Pace sailed just wide on the final play of the game.

In a game dominated by defensive play, the Hokies scratched their way to a 10-3 lead before State used three straight tackles behind the line to force a Tech punt from the 1 late in the second quarter. Boosted by good field position, the Pack moved 34 yards for a game-tying touchdown with less than two minutes left in the half.

NCSU took advantage of a critical turnover by the Hokies at their own 5-yard line to grab a 17-10 advantage in the third quarter. The State defense, meanwhile, limited Tech to just 35 yards of total offense over the first three quarters.

Tech battled back during the final quarter to pick up a pair of field goals, then mounted a final drive to the State 24 to set up Pace's attempt. The Hokies' defense gave Tech a chance to win by holding the Wolfpack to just one first down and 18 total yards during the final 10 minutes of the game.

Vince Hall puts pressure on the N.C. State quarterback.

Game Notes

• Tech's loss to N.C. State snapped a string of 28 consecutive wins during the month of September dating back to 1996.

• Virginia Tech's 192 yards of total offense was the lowest output by the Hokies since netting 185 yards against North Carolina in the 1998 Gator Bowl game, following the 1997 season. The 36 yards net rushing against the Wolfpack was Tech's lowest total since rushing for just 15 yards at Pittsburgh in 2001.

• Quarterback Bryan Randall (Williamsburg, Va.) started his 29th straight game, setting a school record for the most consecutive starts by a quarterback at Tech during the modern era (since 1950). Steve Casey set the previous record by starting 28 straight games from 1979-81.

• True freshman Eddie Royal (Herndon, Va.) returned three punts in the game for 107 yards. Royal had a long return of 58 yards.

Fullback John Kinzer scored Tech's first touchdown on a 4-yard reception.

Hokies Hand No. 6 Mountaineers First Loss, 19-13

BLACKSBURG, Va. — Virginia Tech went back to the basics in posting a 19-13 victory against nationally sixth-ranked West Virginia at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field. The Hokies used a stout defense, good special teams play and a solid ground game to hand the visiting Mountaineers their first loss of the season.

The key play in the contest came late in the second quarter when Tech defensive tackle Jim Davis blocked a WVU field goal attempt and safety Vincent Fuller picked up the loose ball

Vincent Fuller's 74-yard blocked FG return (above) and four field goals by Brandon Pace (right) were all the points Tech needed to beat WVU 19-13.

Game Notes

• The West Virginia win marked the first time the Hokies had won a game without scoring an offensive touchdown since 1994. That year, Tech defeated Boston College 12-7 thanks to a pair of field goals and a pass interception return for a TD.

• Mike Imoh (Fairfax, Va.) earned his first start at tailback and responded with the first 100-yard rushing game of his career. Imoh carried 30 times for 115 yards. He was the first Tech player to run for 100 yards or more in his first start since Kevin Jones in 2001. Imoh finished the game with 206 all-purpose yards.

• The Tech defense kept West Virginia from getting a successful third-down conversion. The Mountaineers were 0-for-13 on third-down attempts.

• Tech posted its first blocked field goal for a touchdown since 2001 at Pittsburgh. The block was the second blocked field goal of the year for tackle Jim Davis (Highland Springs, Va.).

and returned it 74 yards for a touchdown. The play came with just 1:14 remaining in the half and gave the Hokies a 13-0 advantage. Brandon Pace connected on four of his five field goal attempts to account for Tech's other scoring. Tech controlled the football for over 12 minutes of the third quarter, but West Virginia was still able to get on the board thanks to an interception return for a touchdown. The Mountaineers cut the Hokies' lead to 19-13 with 11:43 remaining, but managed just 36 yards of offense on its last three possessions. Still, the victory wasn't assured until Tech's Fuller intercepted a Rasheed Marshall pass with 18 seconds remaining in the game.

Team Effort Gives Tech 17-10 Win on First ACC Road Trip

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. — Signal-caller Bryan Randall engineered a 78-yard touchdown drive in the final minutes and the Virginia Tech defense stopped Wake Forest at the Tech 5 in the final seconds to cap a heartstopping 17-10 victory in the Hokies' first Atlantic Coast Conference road game.

Wake Forest trailed the entire game until mounting a 12-play drive midway through the fourth quarter that resulted in a game-tying field goal by Ryan Plackemeier.

The Deacons' were forced to settle for the field goal after three tries at the end zone from the Tech 8.

Tech began what proved to be the winning drive at its own 22 with 6:08 remaining in the game. Randall made four big plays on the drive, completing a 24-yard pass to tight end Jeff King on the second play and racing 12 yards for a first down on a third-and-seven two plays later. Randall added back-to-back runs of 12 and 21 yards to move the ball to the WFU 11.

Tailback Mike Imoh finished his second-straight 100vard rushing game with a 7-yard TD run.

Wake Forest got the ball back at its own 31 with 2:05 remaining. Eleven plays later, the Deacs were at the Hokies' 5 when Tech rover Mike Daniels broke up a fourth-down pass.

Game Notes

• Mike Imoh's (Fairfax, Va.) game-winning touchdown was the sixth TD of his career, but his first rushing touchdown. Imoh caught four passes for touchdowns during his first two seasons with the Hokies and also had a kickoff return for a TD.

• Tech's 18:09 time of possession in the first half of its game at Wake Forest was the most at the break in its first six games of the season.

 Cornerback Jimmy Williams (Hampton, Va.) recorded his second interception of the season in the second quarter. It was Williams' fifth career pick.

• Tight end Jeff King (Pulaski, Va.) caught his first touchdown pass of the year and the third of his career to put Tech ahead in the first guarter. Tech's tight ends caught four passes in the game, all for first downs.

Mikal Baagee (above) had 13 tackles, and Mike Imoh's 7-yard plunge into the end zone (left) provided the winning points against Wake Forest.

Randall went on to toss four first-half TD passes as Tech built a 48-0 lead by the intermission. The Tech offense piled up 483 total yards, including a season-high 310 yards on the ground. Defensively, the Hokies broke up 11 passes, intercepted three passes, recovered two fumbles and posted five quarterback sacks.

Tech held the Rattlers to 27 yards on 30 plays during the first half and finished the contest with 199 yards of total offense.

Game Notes

• When Bryan Randall (Williamsburg, Va.) connected with David Clowney (Delray Beach, Fla.) for a TD on Tech's first offensive play of the game, it marked the first time the Hokies had scored a TD on their first offensive play since 2000 when Michael Vick threw a touchdown pass against Clemson in the Gator Bowl.

• Jeff King (Pulaski, Va.) caught a touchdown pass against the Rattlers to become the first Tech tight end to grab TD pass in back-to-back games since Greg Daniels did it in 1990 against West Virginia and Temple.

• Defensive end Darryl Tapp (Chesapeake, Va.) had a quarterback sack, caused a fumble, recovered a fumble and intercepted a pass during the first eight minutes of the Tech-FAMU game.

• Defensive tackle Kevin Lewis (Richmond, Va.) posted his first collegiate pass interception against the Rattlers. Lewis becomes the seventh defensive tackle to pick off a pass during the Beamer era, joining his younger brother, Jonathan, who had an interception last season.

Tech Comeback Stuns Yellow Jackets in 34-20 Road Win

ATLANTA, Ga. — Virginia Tech erupted for 22 points in the final six minutes of play to complete its second-biggest comeback under Coach Frank Beamer with a 34-20 win at Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd Stadium.

The Hokies committed three turnovers during the first half and fell behind when the Yellow Jackets scored two touchdowns within a span of 46 seconds. Georgia Tech led 17-7 at the half and held a 20-12 advantage following a field goal with 5:44 remaining. Virginia Tech quarterback Bryan Randall engineered the Hokies' comeback with the help of freshman receivers Eddie Royal and Josh Morgan. Randall hit Royal for an 80-yard touchdown pass and tossed a two-point conversion to senior Richard Johnson to tie the game. A 51-yard TD pass to Morgan put the visitors ahead. An interception return for a touchdown by redshirt freshman Roland Minor with 56 seconds left completed a 25-point fourth-quarter scoring barrage by the Hokies.

Randall finished with 304 yards and three touchdowns through the air and 64 more yards on the ground. After being held to 153 yards of total offense in the first half, the Hokies piled up 311 yards during the final two quarters.

Game Notes

• Virginia Tech's win at Georgia Tech equaled the second-biggest comeback win for the Hokies during Coach Frank Beamer's tenure. The Hokies overcame a 14-point deficit in a 22-14 victory at Syracuse in 2000. The biggest deficit Tech has erased under Beamer was 15 points at Virginia in 1995. The Hokies won that game 36-29 after trailing 29-14.

• Virginia Tech's 25 fourth-quarter points were the most for the Hokies in the final quarter of a game since 1972 when Tech scored 27 points in the fourth quarter of a 44-9 win at Wake Forest. The most fourth-quarter points previously scored during Coach Frank Beamer's 18 seasons had been 23 points during a 43-10 win over Miami in 1999.

• The Georgia Tech game marked the first time since 1981 that Virginia Tech scored 30 or more points in a game without having at least one rushing touchdown. The Hokies had three passing touchdowns and an interception return for a TD against the Yellow Jackets. In 1981, the Hokies scored all three of their touchdowns on passes during a 30-14 victory against Wake Forest.

• Quarterback Bryan Randall (Williamsburg, Va.) registered a season-high 304 yards passing against the Yellow Jackets. It was his third career passing game of 300 or more yards. Randall passed for 504 yards against Syracuse in 2002 and had 398 yards versus Cal in last year's Insight Bowl.

David Clowney's diving catch (above) of a 34-yard Bryan Randall pass got the scoring started for the Hokies in Atlanta, and Xavier Adibi (left) and his teammates kept the Yellow Jackets out of the end zone in the second half to allow the Hokies to come back from 14 points down for the win.

Imoh Breaks Rushing Mark in 27-24 Win Over Tar Heels

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. — Virginia Tech used its running game to build a 13-point advantage and held on for a key 27-24 Atlantic Coast Conference victory over the University of North Carolina at Kenan Stadium. It marked the fifth time this season that a Tech game had not been decided until the final minutes of play.

Junior tailback Mike Imoh turned in the best single game rushing performance in school history and scored two touchdowns to help Tech to a 27-14 lead late in the third quarter. Even then, it took a clutch quarterback sack by senior Jim Davis and a first down run by Imoh during the final 90 seconds to secure the win.

Beating the Hokies at their own game, UNC cut the Tech margin to three with a field goal and a blocked punt for a touchdown. The Tar Heels got the ball with a chance to tie or win with 6:05 remaining. North Carolina moved all the way to the Tech 24 before Davis' sack on a third-down play forced UNC to attempt a 54-yard field goal. The field goal fell short, but the victory still wasn't assured until Imoh reeled off runs of 4 and 9 yards that gave the Hokies a first down that allowed them to run out the clock.

Game Notes

• Tailback Mike Imoh (Fairfax, Va.) ran for 243 yards on 32 carries against UNC. Imoh's yardage total was the highest in a game for a Tech player, surpassing the previous school record of 241 yards set last year by Kevin Jones at Pittsburgh. Imoh's 32 rushing carries were also a personal best. The junior posted two rushing touchdowns in a game for the first time. Last season, Imoh caught two touchdown passes in a game.

• During the UNC game, Tech had a punt blocked for a touchdown for the first time since the 2000 Sugar Bowl when Florida State's Tommy Polley blocked a punt and Jeff Chaney returned it for a TD.

• After posting 209 yards of total offense against Tech in the first half, UNC was held to just 87 total yards during the second half. Tar Heel tailback Chad Scott's 48-yard run during the first quarter was the longest run allowed by the Hokies' defense all season.

• Fullback Jesse Allen (Monson, Mass.) made his first collegiate start against the Heels.

Justin Hamilton scored on a 5-yard TD run.

Game Notes

• Tech's Thursday night win against Maryland on ESPN, improved the Hokies' record in Thursday night ESPN telecasts to 10-1. Tech has now won its last nine Thursday appearances on the network.

• Tight end Jeff King (Pulaski, Va.) hauled in a 35-yard touchdown pass during the game, the longest reception of his Tech career. King has three TD catches on the year, the most for a Tech tight end in a season since Greg Daniels had four in 1990.

• Another Tech tight end, Jared Mazzetta (Flemington, N.J.), joined King with a touchdown reception. It was Mazzetta's first TD catch as a Hokie. The last time Tech had two tight ends catch touchdown passes in the same game was in 1994, when Kevin Martin and Bryan Jennings accomplished the feat against Arkansas State.

• Rover James Griffin (Memphis, Tenn.) and linebackers Xavier Adibi (Hampton, Va.) and James Anderson (Chesapeake, Va.) each posted their first collegiate interceptions during the game with the Terps.

2005 VIRGINIA TECH FOOTBALL

Tech posted its ninth-straight win in an ESPN Thursday night game by forcing five turnovers and converting them into 31 points. The Hokies posted an interception and fumble recovery during the first four minutes of the game. Both led to touchdown runs by tailback Mike Imoh, who left the game with a strained hamstring following his second TD.

Imoh's departure didn't slow down the Hokies' running game, which accounted for 239 yards in the game. Quarterback Bryan Randall contributed two touchdown passes and added a 1-yard touchdown run, while tight ends Jeff King and Jared Mazzetta combined for five receptions, including two for TDs.

Tech's defense intercepted four passes, with cornerback Jimmy Williams returning one for a touchdown. The Hokies held the Terrapins to 56 yards on the ground and 197 yards overall.

Hokies Regain Commonwealth Cup with 24-10 Win

BLACKSBURG, Va. — Virginia Tech quarterback Bryan Randall tossed two second-half touchdown passes to Josh Hyman and the Tech defense contributed a key goal-line stand as the Hokies defeated state-rival Virginia 24-10 for their seventh straight victory.

Randall gave Tech a 10-7 lead with a 45-yard TD pass to Hyman

Game Notes

• Jim Davis (Highland Springs, Va.) picked up his third blocked field goal of the season on the opening drive, blocking a 45-yard attempt.

• With a 12-yard completion to Jeff King (Pulaski, Va.) in the fourth quarter, Bryan Randall (Williamsburg, Va.) passed Don Strock (6,009 yds., 1970-72) and broke a 32-year-old school record for career passing yards.

• The 0-0 halftime tie was the first game Tech had played where neither team scored in the first half since a 1990 game at Georgia Tech. The Yellow Jackets went on to win that game, 6-3, with all nine points scored coming in the fourth quarter.

• Josh Hyman's (Chesapeake, Va.) 45-yard catch for a touchdown was a career long, passing his 42-yarder against Western Michigan earlier this year. He finished with four catches for a career-high 93 yards and two touchdowns.

• Tech trailed 7-0 in the third quarter and came back for the win. It marked the fourth time this season Tech has trailed and come back to win. The Hokies also trailed 7-0 to Duke (41-17), 14-0 at Georgia Tech (34-20) and 10-7 at North Carolina (27-24).

with just over five minutes left in the third quarter. Virginia responded with a 17-play drive to the Tech one, but the Hokies' defense held the Cavs on three straight cracks at the end zone to force a game-tying field goal.

The Randall-Hyman connection clicked again in the fourth quarter — this time from 32 yards — to put Tech on top for good. Tailback Cedric Humes extended the lead with a 37-yard touchdown burst at the 5:08 mark and the defense sealed the victory by forcing a fumble on Virginia's final possession.

The Hokies also made some big plays during a scoreless first half. Senior defensive tackle Jim Davis blocked a Virginia field goal attempt on the Cavaliers' first possession, and later in the quarter, cornerback Jimmy Williams saved a touchdown when he caught UVa tailback Alvin Pearman from behind on a 78-yard run. Two plays later, Tech recovered a Virginia fumble at the 8-yard line.

Jim Davis (far left) blocked a FG attempt in the first quarter and Josh Hyman caught two TD passes to help lift the Hokies over the 'Hoos 24-10.

Tech Wins ACC Title with 16-10 Victory at Orange Bowl

MIAMI, Fla. — Quarterback Bryan Randall and a stout Virginia Tech defense proved to be too much for No. 9 Miami as the Hokies captured the Atlantic Coast Conference football championship and a BCS bid in their first year in the league with a 16-10 victory at the Orange Bowl.

Randall broke a 10-10 tie with a 39-yard touchdown strike to freshman receiver Eddie Royal with 11:29 remaining in the game. Tech left the door open for the Hurricanes when the extra point kick was blocked, but the Hokie defense slammed it shut. Miami managed just two first downs during its last three possessions. The Canes' hopes ended when Tech defensive linemen Jim Davis and Darryl Tapp combined to knock down three consecutive pass attempts. Davis got the first two on second and third down at the Miami 20, then Tapp deflected the final attempt to give the Hokies possession with 57 seconds left. Tailback Cedric Humes played a big role for the Tech offense, as did tight end Jeff King. Humes rushed for 110 yards on a career-high 27 carries, while King hauled in three catches, including one for a touchdown and another for a key first down with just over two minutes left. Randall completed 11-of-18 passes for 148 yards and added 34 yards rushing.

Miami, which converted just one of 12 third-down situations, was held to just 190 yards of offense and seven first downs during the game. Tech finished with 297 total yards.

Eric Green's interception in the first quarter (left) thwarted an early Hurricane scoring opportunity, and Cedric Humes (above) churned out 110 yards rushing to help the Hokies beat Miami and claim the ACC title.

Game Notes

• True freshman Josh Morgan (Baltimore, Md.) earned his first collegiate start Saturday, starting alongside true freshman Eddie Royal (Herndon, Va.). Morgan started at split end while Royal started at flanker. Morgan started in placed of the injured Josh Hyman (Chesapeake, Va.), who had started all 11 games this year.

• Eric Green (Clewiston, Fla.) picked up his first interception of the season and the eighth of his career in the first quarter, picking off a Brock Berlin pass on fourth down.

• With the 45-yard field goal by Brandon Pace (Virginia Beach, Va.), he now has made 21 field goals this season. The school record is 22 field goals in a season, set by Chris Kinzer in 1986 and tied by Shayne Graham in 1998. He also has 105 points on the season, three away from a new school record for points in a season by a kicker (107, Graham, 1999).

Football Grants-in-Aid Tech Signs Seven All-Americans, and Four of the State's Top Five

Four of the state's top five players, as well as seven 2005 prep All-Americans, highlight a football recruiting class composed of 25 student-athletes who signed grants-in-aid with Virginia Tech.

"I am really excited about the athletic ability of this class, but I am just as impressed with the quality of people that we have in this class," head coach Frank Beamer said.

Tech picked up one of its strongest in-state classes in recent years. Highlighting the class is Virginia's consensus No. 1 player Victor "Macho" Harris from Highland Springs, who was named a PARADE All-American, is ranked the No. 2 corner in the nation by collegefootballnews.com and is the No. 3 athlete in the nation by rivals.com. Tech also picked up the Nos. 2, 4 and 5 players in the state, according to The Roanoke Times. Elan Lewis comes in at No. 2 and is ranked the No. 12 running back in the nation by rivals.com. The Phoebus High product rushed for 4,795 yards and 75 touchdowns his final two seasons. Hard-hitting linebacker Deveon Simmons from Virginia Beach checks in at No. 4. The two-time Beach District Defensive Player of the Year and all-state selection led his team to the Virginia AAA Group 6 state championship this year and is ranked the No. 8 outside linebacker in the country by rivals.com. Quarterback Greg Boone, from Chesapeake's Oscar Smith High, rounds out the state's top five. He is listed as the No. 15 quarterback in the nation after throwing for 1,285 yards and rushing for 949 yards his final season.

"Over the last few years, we have been able to get a lot of the top 10 players in the state, and this year we are especially pleased to get four of the top five," Beamer said. "I've always said if we get the best kids in the state of Virginia, we will always be able to compete at a high level."

Tech also got big commitments from several outof-state players. Northwest High star Ike Whitaker (Germantown, Md., 6-4, 200) is ranked the No. 3 dual-threat quarterback in the nation by rivals.com and the No.

4 player in the Mid-Atlantic region by SuperPrep. He was named The Washington Post's Offensive Player of the Year after completing 157of-262 passes for a school-record 2,586 yards and 28 touchdowns. He also ran for 432 yards and 10 scores his senior year. Tech also signed a standout from the Palmetto State in defensive end Hivera Green (pronounced Javier). Green, from Conway High in Conway, S.C., is ranked the No. 32 defensive lineman in the country and the No. 5 player in the state by SuperPrep.

Boone, Green, Harris, Lewis, Simmons and Whitaker are the six SuperPrep All-Americans to sign with Tech. Defensive end Steven Friday (6-4, 215), from Phoebus High, was also named an All-American by PrepStar. Friday is listed as the No. 9 weakside defensive end in the nation by rivals.com and the No. 11 player in the state by The Roanoke Times. Whitaker, Simmons and Harris were also named to PrepStar's postseason Dream Team - the top 100 players in the nation.

The Hokies signed a total of 13 players from the state of Virginia, 10 of whom are ranked among the state's top 20 players by The Roanoke Times. Tech's other signees from Virginia are tight end Ed Wang of Ashburn (#7); safety Cameron Martin of Danville (#13); offensive lineman Antonio North of Stafford (#15); defensive tackle Cordarrow Thompson of Stafford (#18); and linebacker Demetrius Taylor of Virginia Beach (#20). Additionally, Tech signed two big offensive tackles in Eric Davis (6-7, 305) from Springfield, who was named the Sleeper of the Year by The Roanoke Times, and 6-6 Richard Graham of Richmond (#66), who was named first-team all-state by VISCA. The Hokies also picked up the first-team all-state punter in Brent Bowden, from Westfield High.

Wang took home the Gatorade State Player of the Year award and is rated the No. 14 tight end in the nation by rivals.com. The Hokies also picked up three prep school players in defensive end William Wall from Washington, D.C., athlete Sam Wheeler from Blacksburg and offensive lineman Brandon Holland from Roanoke, Wall, who was a 2004 SuperPrep All-American before going to Hargrave this year, is ranked the No. 17 prep school player in the nation by rivals.com while Wheeler and Holland are ranked Nos. 24 and 25, respectively. Wheeler and Holland both signed with the Hokies in 2004 before going to Hargrave this year.

Martin (6-1, 180) attends George Washington High in Danville and is rated the No. 13 safety in the nation by collegefootballnews. com. North (6-4, 310) goes to North Stafford High and is ranked the No. 23 offensive quard in the nation by rivals.com. North's teammate, Thompson, was named the defensive player of the year by The Washington Post, as well as first-team all-state. Taylor (6-1, 220), from Kellam High, is ranked the No. 38 inside linebacker in the nation by rivals.com. All four were named to PrepStar's postseason All-Atlantic Region team.

"Before the season started, we put down a number that we planned to recruit at each position, and we came very close to matching numbers exactly," Beamer said. "So we feel like it was a great recruiting class from the standpoint of getting players at the positions we needed."

Virginia Tech also picked up three players from Maryland. In addition to Whitaker, Tech signed DeMatha Catholic teammates in fullback Kenneth Jefferson (5-10, 230) and offensive lineman Robert Norris (6-4, 300). Jefferson is rated the No. 6 fullback in the nation by collegefootballnews.com and the No. 12 player in Maryland by rivals.com. Norris was named to PrepStar's postseason All-Atlantic Region team and is ranked the No. 17 player in the Mid-Atlantic region by SuperPrep.

Tech also tapped into North Carolina's talent, signing Rocky Mount cornerback Stephan Virgil (5-11, 165), who is ranked the No. 45 safety in the nation by scout. com and the No. 25 player in the state by SuperPrep.

The Hokies also inked two players from the Peach State and one from the Garden State. Cornerback Dorian Porch (5-11, 180), from Gordon Central High in Calhoun, Ga., defensive tackle Sergio Render (6-4, 290) from Newnan High in Newnan, Ga., and athlete Jahre Cheeseman (pronounced Jah-ree, 5-9, 180) from Eastern High in Voorhees. N.J., all signed with the Hokies in February. Porch is ranked the No. 46 cornerback in the nation and the No. 36 player in Georgia by rivals.com, totaling 48 tackles and six interceptions his senior year. Render is listed as the No. 7 center in the nation by rivals.com and the No. 22 player in the state of Georgia by scout.com. Both Porch and Render were named to PrepStar's postseason All-Southeast Region team. Cheeseman is rated as the No. 9 all-purpose back in the nation and the No. 11 player in New Jersey by rivals.com. He was named to PrepStar's postseason All-East Region team.

"This is really the first year we have gone into North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. This is a good start, but it is an area we plan to work even harder in the future," Beamer said.
