Offensive Line

Headlines

• Key returnees: Left tackle Duane Brown and center Ryan Shuman – Both guys are being moved to new positions (Brown from right tackle and Shuman from left guard), but both are dependable veterans who will be looked to as leaders.

• Breakout candidate: Left guard Nick Marshman – The largest man on the roster heads into the spring as the starter, and could benefit from being back at his natural position after being shuffled around.

Left Tackle

DUANE BROWN (R-Sr.) – Is changing positions after starting for two years at right tackle ... Football is important to him, and he leads by example and practices very hard ... Coaches are excited about him leading the group, being the most valuable guy on the line and having a great season.

RICHARD GRAHAM (R-So.) -

Coaches feel good about him backing up Duane ... Has shown a lot of fight and gets after it ... Will also be in a battle for the right tackle position with Aaron Brown and Ed Wang.

Left Guard

NICK MARSHMAN (R-Jr.) – Is moving back inside where he is better suited ... Played tackle last year because of need ... Coaches felt he was the sixth-best lineman a year ago, and was a backup for each position.

ERIC DAVIS (R-So.) and MATT WELSH (R-Jr.) – Will both get reps and a look inside at both guard spots ... Welsh will also get some looks as a backup center.

- Is moving back to center after starting last year at left guard ... Coaches are comfortable with him there, as he's worked there in each of the last two springs ... Actually played a few snaps there in the bowl game ... Should be a vocal leader for the line.

BEAU WARREN (R-Fr.) - A converted tight end who has gained 30 pounds since arriving on campus ... Coaches are excited to see what he can do ... Will be a big spring for him.

Right Guard

SERGIO RENDER (So.) – A Freshman All-American who is recovering from knee surgery ... Will go through some drills, but will be held out of contact ... Coaches are very confident with him ... Has a great future and could be special. Ryan Shuman

BRANDON HOLLAND (So.)

- Will rep with the first team this spring in Render's absence ... Coaches think he's athletic enough, and he will also compete

Right Tackle

ED WANG (R-So.) – Began last season at tight end, but the move to tackle was in the works toward the end of the season ... Actually took as many snaps at tackle as he did at tight end leading up to the bowl game ... Has a lot of athletic ability, is working hard and is committed.

AARON BROWN (R-Fr.) – Needed to get bigger, faster and stronger, and is doing that ... It will be a huge spring for him to find out exactly where he is, but coaches think he's going in the right direction.

Other O-linemen HIVERA GREEN (R-So.), CLARK CRUM (R-Fr.), BARRETT MEARS (R-Fr.) AND NICK KAMINSKI (R-Fr.) – Will all get quality reps and be given a thorough evaluation this spring.

Coach Newsome On the offensive line

"I'm really excited about this spring. We need to get better as an offensive line and we realize that. I think we have a great attitude going into the spring. Based on what Coach Gentry's been getting out of them, he's been very positive about their work habits up to this point. I'm excited about it. I think we're going to have good leadership from Duane. He just practices and works so hard. I think there's a wantto factor. They want to improve. I can't wait to get started. I'm excited about their attitude. We just need to get back to being the old Virginia Tech offensive line, being physical and getting after people up front."

Headlines

• Key losses: Flanker David Clowney

• Key returnees: Flanker Eddie Royal and split end Josh Morgan – Each had very similar receiving stats in 2006, but Royal was more consistent, gets his number called in the running game (16 career carries for a 7.1 average), and even tossed a touchdown pass to Sam Wheeler in the Chick-fil-A Bowl.

• Battle to watch: Fifth receiver – The four seniors (Royal, Morgan, Harper and Hyman) will get the bulk of the looks, but a void left by Clowney will need to be filled by either Zach Luckett, Prince Parker, or Brandon Dillard.

• Breakout candidate: Tight end Andre Smith – A redshirt freshman who coaches are really excited about and were tempted to play last year, but decided not to because of the inexperience they were already dealing with at the position.

Josh Morgan

Receivers & Tight Ends

The Players

Split End

JOSH MORGAN (Sr.) – A big, strong and athletic player who wants to be great ... Can do a lot of good things and was very productive last fall ... If he masters the little things and does more after the catch, he can produce the great season that coaches are expecting from him.

JUSTIN HARPER (Sr.) – A tall, rangy guy who has shown flashes but needs to be more consistent on every play ... Has a world of talent and the potential to be one of the better receivers around ... Needs to get better at blocking, making plays and being a physical presence ... Will play both flanker and split end.

ZACH LUCKETT (R-Fr.) – Coaches considered playing him last year, but he needs to get better at the mental part of the game ... Has all

Coach Sherman On the Wide Receivers

"I think they all bring something different to the table, but they do it at different times. They've got to be productive and consistent all the time. The young guys haven't been in big games, so they need to learn from the older guys who have been on the big stage. I think all of the receivers have to be productive, but the word I will keep using is consistency. If we do that, we'll have a good season. They all have to make plays when they're called upon. Most of these guys are leaders by example with their effort and their play on the field. They give great effort and they play hard, and we want to continue that trend."

the physical tools and is similar to Morgan in stature ... Just needs more reps and to catch a lot of footballs this spring and summer.

PRINCE PARKER (R-Fr.) – Very tall and athletic, but needs to improve his strength and foot speed, in addition to his route running and learning the playbook ... His height (6-6) could get him on the field in jump-ball situations, as he resembles former Georgia Tech WR Calvin Johnson in that manner.

Flanker

EDDIE ROYAL (Sr.) – His productivity and consistency made the coaches proud last year, in addition to his performance on

Coach Stinespring On the tight ends

"For the whole group in general, last year was a learning experience for them. The inexperience hurt us at times during the course of the year, but as they got a better understanding of the game, they became more of a factor for us – especially in the passing game. I think the tight end position is hopefully going to be reflective of our offense. I think this position should be, can be and will be, better than it was in the fall. I think that's got to be the theme for our entire offense. I think that all of the guys who were inexperienced, or who were playing for the first time, will be better this year. The inexperience – and the learning that resulted from it – of a lot of guys who were forced to play last year is going to make us better across the board."

special teams ... Has the ability to run reverses, and has become a better route runner ... Can be an explosive player if he keeps improving.

JOSH HYMAN (R-Sr.) -

Productivity dropped last year due to some nagging injuries ... A physical player who can make the tough catch ... Has been in big games and made big plays, but needs to take advantage of opportunities ... Can play both flanker and split end.

BRANDON DILLARD (R-So.) -

Shows a lot of potential and can really run ... Needs to catch a lot of footballs this spring and summer, concentrate more, and get stronger.

Tight End SAM WHEELER (R-So.) – Progressed the quickest or Progressed the quickest of any tight end last year ... Can get down the field, has good hands and adjusts to the ball well ... Must get better at the point of attack in the blocking game in order to be trusted while running behind him.

GREG BOONE (R-So.) – Had a complete learning experience after playing QB and FS in high school ... Is good in the runblocking game, but dropped a lot of balls last year and needs to improve that ... Has gotten into better shape, and has unlimited potential.

ANDRE SMITH (R-Fr.) – Coaches are counting on him and are really excited about his potential ... They thought he was the most effective tight end in practices and drills, but was too far behind with the mental aspect ... Brings a lot to the table blocking-wise, but needs to become a viable passing option.

Headlines

• Key losses: Fullback Jesse Allen

• Key returnees: Tailback Branden Ore – His 2006 totals of 16 touchdowns and 1,137 yards rank fourth and sixth, respectively, in the Tech record books, and he became the first-ever Hokie to register a pair of 200-yard performances. He accomplished the feat in back-to-back games, and was the only player in the nation last year to do so.

• Battle to watch: Backup QB - Cory Holt vs. Ike Whitaker: Sean Glennon enters spring as the starter, and Holt became the default No. 2 when Whitaker entered rehab last December for alcohol abuse treatment. Whitaker will be back for spring practice, but must make up lost ground.

• Breakout candidate: Kenny Lewis, Jr. – Not that Ore's job is in danger, but Lewis filled in admirably when Ore was out briefly with a bum ankle late in the season, and Billy Hite says he might be the hardestworking kid he's coached.

Running Backs & Quarterbacks

The Players

Tailback

BRANDEN ORE (R-Jr.) – Is coming off a first-team All-ACC season ... Coaches are proud of the way he's grown up on and off the field ... A great competitor and outstanding player with a great shot at playing on the next level if he continues to perform.

KENNY LEWIS, JR. (So.) – Has gotten better every time he's been on the field ... Made outstanding progress last year after being away from the game as a baseball player ... Works hard on the field and in the film room, where his studies have helped him out a great deal.

ELAN LEWIS (R-So.) – Was hampered by a knee injury last year and needs to get lighter ... Has great vision and strength ... Has good speed and can break tackles ... Will be a critical spring for him.

GEORGE BELL (R-Jr.) – Took about 10 weeks off last year to deal with knee problems, which are feeling better ... A fighter and a competitor who is described as remarkable for the way he fights his injuries every day and doesn't give up.

DUSTIN PICKLE (Jr.) – A walk-on that played special teams last year ... Coaches like what he's all about, and he is working hard in the weight room.

JAHRE CHEESEMAN (R-So.) – Hurt his foot in a jayvee game and had surgery not long after moving from CB last year ... Will be back for spring ... A special talent with outstanding ability.

Coach O'Cain On the quarterbacks

"I feel like we've got three guys who we can win football games with. Sean is our No. 1 guy right now, but Cory and Ike will both be given a shot to compete, and will have a chance to take the job away from him. I think that will be a difficult task, but competition is what you want. You want guys out there competing, and if a guy is good enough to take it away from them, then so be it. To continue to improve is always your goal. At the end of spring practice, we want each of our guys to be better – mentally, physically and emotionally – than they were at the end of last season."

Fullback CARLTON WEATHERFORD (R-Sr.) – Has gotten bigger, stronger and faster since walking on, and will be the leader heading into spring ... An outstanding blocker who also does a good job of catching the football.

KENNY JEFFERSON (R-

So.) – Coming out of high school, coaches thought he was the best blocking fullback they'd seen in a long time ... An intelligent kid who has a chance to be an outstanding player.

DEVIN PEREZ (R-Jr.)

 A bowling ball-like blocker with great strength and a mean streak
 Played on the goal-line offense last year.

BILLY GORHAM (Sr.) – A walk-on who has done well on special teams, but nagging injuries have kept him from playing more.

Quarterback

SEAN GLENNON (R-Jr.) – Coaches thought he did a good job

Coach Hite On the running backs

"I really think that the success of this football team depends on how the running backs perform. They need to go out every day and get better. We don't have time to get better during the season – it's the offseason when you improve your game the most. I think we're a lot better heading into the spring this year than we were last year. I've got a group of kids that I really like. I think they all work very hard and they are all competing."

Carlton Weatherford

running the offense and managing the game ... They like his competitiveness, determination, work ethic and consistency ... Needs to work on ball-carrying and delivering the ball more quickly when he's on the move.

CORY HOLT (R-Jr.) – Coaches like his temperament and the way he competes, but needs to have more consistency and accuracy when throwing the ball ... Understands the offense, but didn't get a chance to display it in limited action.

IKE WHITAKER (R-So.) – Should be ready to go at the start of spring after leaving the team to undergo rehab for alcohol abuse last December and missing the bowl game ... Coaches think he's doing what he needs to do and has changed for the better ... A tremendous athlete who can make things happen, but needs to learn the offense better and be more consistent.

Defensive Line The Players Headlines

• Key losses: Defensive end Noland Burchette

• Key returnees: Chris Ellis, Carlton Powell and Barry Booker – Other than maybe the receiving corps, the defensive line is the most experienced group on the team. This trio of redshirt seniors has combined for a total of 247 tackles, 49.5 tackles for loss, and 18 sacks throughout their careers.

• Battle to watch: End -Orion Martin, Nekos Brown and Jason Adjepong will all compete for Burchette's old role. Martin is the most seasoned of the three, but Brown and Adjepong are high motor guys who could benefit from more reps.

• Breakout candidate: Kory Robertson - Has yet to reach his enormous potential, but Charley Wiles says his intangibles make him his best NFL prospect.

Defensive End

CHRIS ELLIS (R-Sr.) - Will not participate in spring practice following an offseason shoulder surgery, but will use the time to work out and make up the ground that he lost over the winter ... Is the most experienced player coming back ... A highly motivated guy who will be leaned on for leadership and playmaking ability ... Should be an impact player in the ACC.

ORION MARTIN (R-Jr.) - His playing experience gives him an advantage in the starting end spot vacated by Noland Burchette ... Has playmaking ability and plays extremely hard ... A player who is trusted and looks very solid on film ... Will rep in Ellis' spot during the spring.

NEKOS BROWN (So.) - A high motor, athletic quy who chases the football ... Was moved from linebacker early last season, and wound up playing almost 20 plays in the bowl game ... Effort is never an issue with him, just needs to get more reps and to learn techniques of the position.

Carlton Powell

JASON ADJEPONG (R-Fr.) - Had shoulder surgery after the UNC game last year and used a medical redshirt, but is 100 percent now ... An explosive, powerful prospect, but needs to play fast all of the time ... Can be a little bit tentative when making decisions, but can really go once everything gets processed.

DEMETRIUS TAYLOR (R-So.) - Is being moved from linebacker ... Has been inconsistent, but has good enough abilities.

CHAD CARLSON (Jr.) - A great kid who has struggled to stay healthy ... Has had two sports hernias repaired.

Defensive Tackle

CARLTON POWELL (R-Sr.) - A physical guy at the point of attack who always plays hard ... Is a lot more athletic than is sometimes given credit for, and is always running to the football ... Could increase his pass rush ability ... Will be leaned on as a senior.

BARRY BOOKER (R-Sr.)

- Surprised coaches with his stellar junior year ... Won the starting job in spring a year ago ... Can use an athletic, finesse approach, but has gotten a lot stronger at the point of attack ... Coaches like his work ethic and his dav-today approach ... Is great in space and can rush the passer.

KORY ROBERTSON (R-Sr.)

- Has the capability to be a starter, but needs to consistently step up and beat somebody out instead of being content as a backup ... A gifted athlete with great explosiveness, footwork, quickness and power ... Excites coaches because he keeps taking steps and improving, and has the ability to be a nationally known guy if he plays up to his potential.

JOHN GRAVES (R-Fr.) and CORDARROW THOMPSON (R-So.)

- Will have a big-time battle for the fourth spot behind the three seniors ... Thompson saw regular action last season, playing in every game and recording 14 tackles and two sacks ... Graves will rep at end in the spring simply to get on the field, as the tackle/ end ratio is imbalanced with Ellis being out ... Graves is a very good prospect whom coaches considered playing last year.

JOEY HALL (R-Fr.) and DARRYL ROBERTSON (R-Fr.) - Good prospects who redshirted and will see reps in the spring ... Coaches looked hard at Hall coming out of camp last year as a potential back-up.

Coach Wiles On the defensive line

"We play hard as a group on defense - the game demands that. We're not going to coach effort, and the kids know that. I think the groundwork has been laid by the guys who came before them, and none of that has changed. All of my guys understand that last year is last year, and it was fantastic. We led the country in defense, but it's a new year. Just because you started last year doesn't mean you're going to start this year. It's a performance-based business - you've got to perform every day out there. I know there are some motivated kids, and I can tell it's going to be a very healthy, good and exciting competition. This is when you emerge as a player and determine how many plays you're going to get.

Headlines

• Key losses: Whip Brenden Hill

• Key returnees: Linebackers Vince Hall and Xavier Adibi

- Bud Foster thinks they could both be in the mix for the Butkus Award. Hall has made more tackles (304) than any player in the ACC since the Hokies joined the league three years ago, while Adibi is Tech's active leader in the turnover game (6 INT, 1 FR, 4 FF).

• Battle to watch: Whip

 Four guys are in contention for the spot vacated by Hill.
 Corey Gordon, Cody Grimm,
 Steven Friday and Cam
 Martin will all be fighting for reps in the spring ... let alone a starting job.

• Breakout candidate:

Martin – Is moving from free safety, but has a legitimate shot at starting because of the whip position's coverage requirements.

The Players

Mike

VINCE HALL (R-Sr.) – A firstteam All-ACC selection a year ago after leading the league in tackles ... A complete linebacker who can still improve ... Foster says he's the best LB in his 20 years, and probably one of the best in Tech history ... Has incomparable vision and instincts ... Has great quickness and a nose for the football ... Is expected to be a great leader this season.

BRETT WARREN (R-Jr.) - Made the most improvement of any LB last spring and summer ... Used a medical redshirt after hurting his foot vs. UNC ... Needs to get better at pass defense ... Should be the top backup to Hall.

ANDREW BOWMAN (R-Jr.)

 Needs to take the next step forward ... Has been inconsistent, but has good enough abilities ... Improved last fall, and it will be a big spring for him.

Vince Hall (9) and Xavier Adibi (11)

Linebackers

Coach Foster On the defense

"We've got eight guys returning as starters from last year, but we can't be complacent – we've got to continue to improve. The overall mood is to continue to grow and develop as a unit. We need to develop some depth as a unit, and obviously with it being a new year, we need to develop our chemistry as a unit."

Backer XAVIER ADIBI (R-Sr.)

- Combines with Hall to make the best tandem of linebackers in Foster's tenure ... Possesses all of the abilities, but can afford to get physically stronger ... Has great speed to go with good coverage and blitzing ability ... Has a knack for being around the football and creating big plays ... Will be counted on for leadership ... Does not have to be motivated to play hard.

JONAS HOUSERIGHT

(R-Jr.) – Will be in a battle with Sturdivant for the backup job ... Is very intelligent with a high football IQ ... Needs to get stronger ... A dependable and steady guy who can be trusted.

PURNELL STURDIVANT (R-Jr.)

- Has shown flashes, but is inconsistent ... Will be a big spring for him.

MARK MUNCEY (R-Fr.) – A walkon without a defined role ... Will work at both mike and backer.

Whip

COREY GORDON (R-Sr.) – Backed up Hill last year and will begin the spring listed as the starter, but will be in a battle ... Needs to have

Coach Foster on the linebackers

"Not only do we have to develop some depth, but it's got to be quality depth that can play and perform. That's going to be my emphasis. Obviously, we've got to find a whip who can play there and be consistent after graduating our starter from that position each of the last two years, but we need to create some depth at the inside backer spots. Those guys have got to take another step forward in their performance and level of play."

Corey Gordon

better awareness and reaction to the plays unfolding before him ... Does a good job once he reacts, but needs to compute the information quicker.

CODY GRIMM (R-So.) – Played whip on the scout team and was among the ACC leaders in special teams tackles ... Intrigues the coaches and they want to see what he can do with a lot of reps ... Has a good football IQ to go with good quickness and speed.

STEVEN FRIDAY (R-Fr.) – Was moved from defensive end because he was too light ... It will be a new experience for him as he has always played down as a rusher ... Has great strength and moved around well for a defensive end ... Coaches are interested to see how he will react.

CAM MARTIN (R-So.) – Is moving from free safety ... Has had a checkered career because of injuries, and will have to overcome that ... Coaches think he could push for the starting job.

Headlines

• Key losses: Rovers Aaron Rouse and Cary Wade

• Key returnees: Cornerback Brandon Flowers – He is just the latest in a recent line of All-American defensive backs (Anthony Midget, Ronyell Whitaker, DeAngelo Hall, Jimmy Williams), but is the first to return following the honor since Whitaker in 2001, and the first ever to do so with two remaining years of eligibility.

• Battle to watch: Rover - Dorian Porch vs. Kam Chancellor: Porch has gotten a ton of practice experience over the last two years, while Chancellor owns tremendous upside potential.

• Breakout candidate: Chancellor – Impressed many in early 2006, and has a shot to win the rover job after moving from cornerback.

Defensive Secondary

The Players

Boundary Corner

BRANDON FLOWERS (R-Jr.) – A returning third-team AP All-American who led the ACC with 21 passes defended ... Was as consistent as you can be gamein and game-out ... Needs to stay hungry and focused despite the recognition he's received ... Already good at everything, needs to keep working to be great at everything.

STEPHAN VIRGIL (So.) – Gained some experience on special teams, and heads into spring as Flowers' backup ... Took some time to understand coverages and adjustments, but a year of sitting in the meeting room will give him a head-start on that in the spring

... Shined in the jayvee game vs. Fork Union last October, scoring on a 46-yard interception return and a 23-yard fumble return.

Field Corner VICTOR "MACHO" HARRIS (Jr.)

– A starter who led the team with four interceptions a year ago ... Progressed tremendously from last spring through the end of the season ... Coaches could see him starting to understand the game and get better as the year went on ... An exceptional talent, but can still really improve on some of the mental nuances of the game ... A solid tackler and very good playmaker when the opportunity presents itself.

ROLAND MINOR (R-Sr.) – Started in 2005 but missed the first half of 2006 due to a wrist injury sustained in a car accident ... Handled his injury recovery pretty

Coach Cavanaugh On the rovers and whips

"I want my guys to know the position better. These are all pretty sharp kids, and I would be disappointed if they don't have a good awareness of what's going on. I also want to establish some kind of depth chart, so they all know where they stand. I'll have a busy spring because the competition is wide open at both whip and rover. Inevitably, there's going to be some heartache in this deal, because somebody's going to lose out. But that's how it is, that's college football. I'd like to have a nice line of demarcation for each position by the end of spring. Hopefully that will happen, but if not, we'll have to go into the fall with some uncertainty to work out."

Coach Gray On the defensive backs

"My goal is very similar to what it was last year when I first came here, and it will be our goal every spring. From day one of spring practice, to when we finish with the spring game and head into the fall, we want to feel confident that we are a cohesive unit that's not only fundamentally sound, but that's communicating on the field. We want to feel as if we've gotten better and more productive with each practice."

well, but it limited how aggressive he could be with his hand, thus taking away some of his confidence ... Was fully healed by the bowl practices, which was when he finally started to buy into his new backup role, let loose and play football.

RASHAD CARMICHAEL

(R-Fr.) – Redshirted last year and will enter the spring third on the depth chart at both corner positions ... Is essentially the fifth corner ... Performed very well on the scout team, and is doing a good job in the strength and conditioning program ... Has shown a lot of leadership qualities, and has great speed.

Free Safety

D.J. PARKER (Sr.) – A starter who did a great job last season ... Was very consistent all of last year, and coaches looked to him for leadership among the defensive backs ... Embraced his role as a leader, and coaches appreciated how he handled the group ... As a senior, will be expected to be more of a team leader as opposed to strictly a secondary leader.

MARIO EDWARDS (R-Fr.)

- Another redshirt who has shown some ability and willingness to tackle ... Has worked hard in the weight room, but still needs to pick up the mental part of the game ... The free safety position demands leadership and comfort in making calls and checks, and coaches are looking forward to seeing how he will handle it.

Rover

DORIAN PORCH (R-So.) – Is the most experienced returnee at rover ... Didn't get a lot of playing time having served behind Aaron Rouse and Cary Wade, but got a lot of practice time and should benefit from that ... Coaches felt he played tentatively last year, and are hoping for him to make a big leap in confidence.

KAM CHANCELLOR (So.) – Is moving to rover from cornerback, where he backed up Brandon Flowers as a freshman ... Started on three special teams units ... Coaches believe he tailed off at the end of the season as the routine got to him, but feel he should benefit this year going in full speed and refreshed ... Has a huge upside regardless of where he plays.

MATT REIDY (R-Fr.) – An excellent walk-on who played rover on the scout team last year ... A very smart player, but his overall speed will be his limitation.

Special Teams

Headlines

• Key losses: Kicker Brandon Pace, punter/holder Nic Schmitt and long snapper Nick Leeson

• Key returnee: Punt/kick returner Eddie Royal – He has been the primary returner for three years now, and made the All-ACC second team as a specialist in 2006. He is just 31 yards shy of becoming Tech's all-time leader in punt return yards, and just 377 yards shy in the kick return department.

• Battle to watch: Placekicker - Jud Dunlevy and Jared Develli will compete for Pace's old duties. Dunlevy has an edge after serving as the jayvee kicker for three seasons, but Develli has honed his leg as the kickoff guy on the big stage.

• Breakout candidate:

Whoever wins the battle between Dunlevy and Develli – Pace ended his career third on Tech's all-time scoring list, so somebody's going to step in and claim those points.

Bart McMillan (above) and Scott King

Coach Beamer On the special teams

"This is an important spring in the kicking game. We graduated three guys from the kicking area, and that's a heavy loss. When you consider that Nic Schmitt was both our punter and our holder, that means we lost four out of the six main positions. So this spring, we'll certainly spend more time with our field goal and punting teams than we have in the past. We want to get these guys out there and get them under the gun. We'll probably be doing some kicking in the first scrimmage, whereas we generally don't do any kicking until the second scrimmage or the spring game. We need to get them comfortable in pressure situations."

The Players

Placekicker

JUD DUNLEVY (R-Sr.) and JARED DEVELLI (Sr.) – The frontrunners for field goal/PAT duties ... Dunlevy has kicked on the jayvee team for three seasons, and nailed a 51-yard, game-winning, last-second field goal against Hargrave in 2005 ... He has also kicked off sparingly for the varsity ... Develli has been the primary kickoff guy for the Hokies for the last three seasons, and was 0-for-1 on FG attempts in 2006 ... Both have legs that are plenty strong enough, but consistency will be the key for who wins the job.

DUSTIN KEYS (R-So.) and MATT WALDRON (R-Fr.) – A pair of walk-ons who will compete during the spring.

Punter

BRENT BOWDEN (R-So.) – Has been the No. 2 punter for the past two years, but has yet to see game action ... Heads into the spring as the starter following Nic Schmitt's departure.

BRIAN SAUNDERS (r-Fr.) - A walk-on who works as a scout team quarterback ... Has a chance to potentially contribute as a punter.

Snappers

SCOTT KING (Sr.) – Handled all short snapping duties last season, and will continue to do so ... Coaches have been really pleased with his work habits ... May figure into the long snapping competition as well.

BART McMILLIN (R-Sr.)

- Enters spring as the long snapper, taking over for Nick Leeson ... Has dressed for every game for two years, but has yet to see game action.

JACOB GARDNER (R-Fr.)

- Will work as a long snapper after practicing as a defensive lineman last year ... His brother snaps at Virginia ... Must work at his protection following the snap.

Holders

GRANT THROCKMORTON (R-Sr.) – Has worked at quarterback in the past, but missed 2006 with a broken ankle ... Has a confident way about him, and has served as a backup holder in the past.

BRENT BOWDEN (R-So.) – A logical option since Schmitt was the punter/holder ... Has held for Dunlevy and Develli in practice/jayvee games ... Is used to catching snaps for his punting duties.

Kickoffs

JUD DUNLEVY (R-Sr.) and JARED DEVELLI (Sr.) – Have competed for the job in the past, and will continue to do so ... Develli has the edge, having handled most of the kickoffs for three years ... Develli had hernia surgery in December and missed the bowl game, but should be fine come spring.

Returners

EDDIE ROYAL (Sr.), JOSH MORGAN (Sr.) and VICTOR "MACHO" HARRIS (Jr.) – All three should share duties in the spring ... Royal has led the team in kickoff and punt return yardage for three straight seasons, but Morgan had a career-high in kickoff return yardage last year, and Harris began working as a return man in practice last year.

Roster changes are expected during spring practice. An updated roster will be available on Hokiesports.com at the conclusion of spring practice.

THE COA Frank Beamer Head Coach Enters 21st Season at the Helm

Frank Beamer is entering his 21st year as the head football coach at Virginia Tech, and with a solid foundation in place, he continues to take the Hokies to higher levels.

After being named the Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year in each of Tech's first two seasons in the league, Beamer quietly took on one of his biggest challenges in 2006 and helped turn it into another success story.

The Tech head man and his staff started the season with a young team that had an offensive line depleted by graduation, a new quarterback, new tight ends and a lack of proven depth on both sides of the ball. He helped mold that young group into a cohesive unit which finished the regular season with six-straight wins, a Chick-fil-A Bowl berth and 10 victories. Tech is now one of just three Division I-A teams that have posted 10 or more wins in each of the last three seasons.

There's no doubt, Virginia Tech couldn't have asked for anyone better than Frank Beamer to guide its football program into the Atlantic Coast Conference. In 2005, he led the Hokies to an 11-2 record, the ACC Coastal Division title, a spot in the inaugural league championship game and a bowl game. In 2004, Beamer guided another young Tech team — picked to finish sixth in the $\rm ACC$ — to a league title and a BCS Bowl. That team also won the league's 2004 Fall Sportsmanship Award for football, yet another tribute to the program Beamer and his staff have built.

When Beamer accepted the job as head football coach at his alma mater in 1987, his goal was for the Virginia Tech football program to reach a consistent level of excellence. The Hokies have come a long way since that day, and along the way, Beamer has become one of the most respected and successful coaches on the college football scene.

Beamer, who was the consensus national coach of the year in 1999, is ranked third among active Division I-A coaches in victories with 198 over 26 seasons as a head coach. His Tech teams have posted a 142-42 record over the past 14 seasons and appeared in bowl games each year during that span, a feat equaled by just three other schools. Prior to winning the 2004 ACC championship, he guided the Hokies to three BIG EAST Conference championships and in 1999 helped direct Tech to the national championship game. Beamer's Hokies have earned the highest national rankings in the program's history, spending 78 weeks in the Top 10 of The Associated Press poll over the past eight seasons. During one stretch that ended in 2003, Tech was ranked in 84 consecutive AP polls.

Winning has been just part of Frank Beamer's success story. He and his staff have earned a reputation for getting the most out of their players.

In 2000, Beamer and his staff directed Tech to an 11-1 record after opening the season with eight new starters on defense and an all-new lineup in the kicking game. During the 2001 season, the Hokies posted an 8-4 record and appeared in the Top 20 every week despite having to fill four offensive line spots, the quarterback job vacated by sensational underclassman Michael Vick and the tailback spot left open when All-America running Frank Beamer has led the Hokies to 10-win seasons each of the past three years and to 14 straight bowl games.

back Lee Suggs was lost for the season with an injury. In 2002, the Hokies were 10-4 despite attacking one of their toughest schedules ever with a young team that featured all-new starters at the defensive tackle, inside linebacker and rover positions, as well as major questions at quarterback and wide receiver.

A spot in the Nokia Sugar Bowl to play No. 1 Florida State for the national championship focused widespread attention on Virginia Tech and its football program following the 1999 season. And although the Hokies fell short in their bid for the national title, they proved that they belong among the top teams in the college ranks.

For his part in the Hokies' magical 1999 season, Beamer earned eight national coach of the year awards. He was named the Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year, the GTE Coach of the Year, the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year, the Paul 'Bear' Bryant Coach of the Year, The Associated Press Coach of the Year, the Walter Camp Football Foundation/Street & Smith's Coach of the Year, the Maxwell Football Club Coach of the Year and the Woody Hayes Coach of the Year. He also was named the BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year for the third time.

There have been plenty of other accolades for the Hokies' coach. Prior to the 2005 season, a Seattle Times Poll of more than 40 coaches voted Frank Beamer as the current I-A head coach for whom they had the most respect. Beamer was also selected the fifth-best strategist among current I-A coaches. In a survey of Division I-A football coaches conducted by Bloomberg News in the fall of 2000, Beamer was named the best coach a school could hire to run its football program. When BIG EAST Conference football celebrated its first 10 years of existence in 2000, Beamer was voted the Coach of the Decade by the league's media.

In January 2001, the Pigskin Club of Washington, D.C., honored Beamer as the NCAA Coach of the Year. In May of that year, an online newspaper named him the best coach currently in the college football ranks because of his ability to place Tech among the nation's elite year in and year out.

Following consecutive 10-2 seasons in 1995 and 1996, Beamer was voted BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year by the league coaches. He was one of five finalists in the voting for the 1995 National Coach of the Year. In 1996, The Sporting News queried writers from around the country and asked them to rate the coaches in various conferences. In the BIG EAST, those writers rated Frank Beamer the best coach on game day, the best in game preparation, the best as a motivator, the best as a teacher, the best in big games and the best overall.

In 1999, The Sporting News ranked the nation's top coaches in terms of their ability to get the most out of their players. Beamer was picked No. 9 in Division I-A. Four of Tech's last six years in the league, TSN rated the Tech coach tops among BIG EAST head coaches. The publication also ranked the Hokies' football coaching staff as the best in the conference four times during that span. Street & Smith's College Football 2002 rated Beamer as the top recruiter in the BIG EAST. In 2004, SI.com selected him coach of the year in the Division I-A ranks.

The rise of the Tech football program has made Beamer a man in demand. It has opened doors to places he may never have dreamed of as a youngster growing up in Southwest Virginia.

In September 2000, Beamer was invited to the White House where he joined a select group that stood in the Rose Garden behind then-President Bill Clinton as he made remarks on the Conservation and Reinvestment Act. Beamer was one of the keynote speakers at the American Football Coaches Association Convention in 2000, and in April, 2001, he joined former Prime Minister of Great Britain, Lady Margaret Thatcher, as one of the featured speakers at SUCCESS 2001, one of the nation's most popular business seminars.

In April 2004, Beamer was presented a Humanitarian Award by the National Conference for Community and Justice for his contributions to fostering justice, equity and community in the Roanoke Valley. An avid NASCAR fan, Beamer has been the official starter for races at Bristol Motor Speedway and Richmond International Raceway.

Beamer's success has also made him a much sought-after coach. In recent years, he has been pursued by numerous other schools and has drawn interest from professional football teams. But in the end, his loyalty has remained with the Hokies.

Beamer has always put Virginia Tech first — ever since he starred as a defensive back for the Hokies in his undergraduate days in the late 1960s, and surely throughout his 20 years as head coach of the Hokies. He has given the Tech program a sense of stability enjoyed by just a handful of other Division I-A schools. With the retirement of Air Force's Fisher DeBerry, only two other active Division I-A head coaches — Joe Paterno (41 yrs., Penn State) and Bobby Bowden (31 yrs., Florida State) — have been at their current school longer than Reamer

In 1990, Beamer received a new contract and a substantial pay raise. He refused the raise, however, until such time that all classified and faculty employees of the university could have the same opportunity for pay raises. Most state salaries had been frozen at the time. He was offered a pay increase again last year, but did not sign until his assistant coaches were taken care of first.

Another indication of Beamer's love for the university came on the night he was inducted into The Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 1997. He called it the biggest honor of his entire career. With the induction, he became the first active coach at the university to be honored in that fashion.

Beamer's overall record at Tech now stands at 156-82-2. He became Tech's winningest football coach during the 1997 campaign. Counting six years as head coach at Murray State prior to joining the Hokies, Beamer's overall 26year record is 198-105-4.

The 60-year-old Beamer, the first alumnus to guide the Hokies since the 1940s, took over the Tech reins from Bill Dooley in January 1987. He began work a few days after the Hokies had beaten North Carolina State in the Peach Bowl. It took a while for him to get the Hokies moving in the right direction because the football program was hit with NCAA sanctions at the time.

But everything came together in the 1990s. The Techmen finished 9-3 in 1993 after beating Indiana, 45-20, in a wild Independence Bowl game. Tech followed up with an 8-4 season in 1994, losing to Tennessee, 45-23, in the Gator Bowl.

The Tech teams in 1995 and 1996 were among the best in school history. The 1995 team swept the BIG EAST Conference championship outright and the 1996 club tied for the title with Syracuse and Miami.

The 1995 team was 9-2 during the regular season and then came up with a stirring 28-10 victory over Texas in the Sugar Bowl. The 1996 team went 10-1 during the regular season and lost to powerful Nebraska, 41-21, in the Orange Bowl after giving the Cornhuskers a fierce battle for three quarters.

The Hokies fell to 7-5 in 1997 and were beaten badly by North Carolina in the Gator Bowl, 42-3. But they came right back with a 9-3 mark in 1998 that included an impressive 38-7 victory over Alabama in the inaugural Music City Bowl in Nashville, Tenn.

The two winningest seasons in school history followed in 1999 and 2000 with the Hokies posting back-to-back 11-1 records. Tech registered its first-ever 11-0 regular-season record in '99 before losing its national championship battle with FSU.

In 2000, the Hokies' only blemish was a loss at Miami in the ninth game of the season. Both seasons, Tech climbed as high as No. 2 in The Associated Press poll, finishing No. 2 in '99 and No. 6 in 2000. The Hokies climbed as high as No. 5 in the 2001 AP poll and finished 18th. In 2002, Tech was ranked as high as No. 3 in the AP poll after posting consecutive wins over nationally ranked LSU (14th), Marshall (16th) and Texas A&M (19th). The Hokies' youthful team finished the season 18th.

During the 2003 season, the Hokies ended No. 2 Miami's 39game regular-season winning streak with a 31-7 victory. The Canes were the highest-ranked opponent Tech had ever beaten on the gridiron. The Hokies climbed as high as No. 3 in the polls before falling victim to continued inconsistent play during the final month of the season. Still, Tech earned eight wins for the 10th time in 11 seasons.

The 2004 season saw the Hokies bounce back to win their last eight games of the regular season, including victories against three nationally ranked teams — No. 6 West Virginia, No. 16 Virginia and No. 9 Miami.

Beamer's early Tech teams also registered many exciting victories. One of the most impressive came in 1990 when the Hokies capped the year with a 38-13 victory over arch-rival Virginia before a crowd of 54,157, which at the time was the largest ever to see a college football game in the commonwealth of Virginia. During the 1989 season, Tech knocked off ninth-ranked West Virginia and star quarterback Major Harris, 12-10, in Morgantown.

During his undergraduate days at Tech, Beamer started three years as a cornerback and played on the Hokies' 1966 and 1968 Liberty Bowl teams. He received a B.S. in distributive education from Tech in 1969 and a master's in guidance from Radford in 1972. Then came the start of the Beamer coaching career.

He began as an assistant at Radford High School from 1969 through 1971. Then, after one season as a graduate assistant at the University of Maryland, he went to The Citadel where he worked five seasons under Bobby Ross and one year under Art Baker. His last two years at The Citadel, Beamer was the defensive coordinator.

In 1979, Beamer went to Murray State as the defensive coordinator under Mike Gottfried. He was named head coach at Murray State in 1981 and went on to compile a six-year record of 42 wins, 23 losses and two ties.

The Tech coach was born in Mt. Airy, N.C., and grew up in Hillsville, Va. At Hillsville High, he earned 11 varsity letters as a three-sport athlete in football, basketball and baseball.

Beamer is married to the former Cheryl Oakley of Richmond, Va. They have two children, Shane, a former member of his dad's football team at Tech and now an assistant at the University of South Carolina; and daughter Casey, a 2003 graduate of Virginia Tech.

Frank Beamer, the first Tech alumnus to guide the Hokies' football program since the 1940s, has won more games at Tech than any other football coach. Prior to Beamer, no other grid coach in Virginia Tech history had served more than 10 seasons as head coach. Only two of the 119 Division I-A head coaches have been at their current school consecutively longer than Beamer's 20 years. Those coaches are Joe Paterno (41 yrs., Penn State) and Bobby Bowden (31 yrs., Florida State).

COACH OF THE YEAR

2006 Season in Review

College Football's Top Defense and a Strong Finish Land Hokies in Atlanta

Following an Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 2004 and a Coastal Division title in 2005, the Virginia Tech Hokies had their work cut out for them to maintain the level of success they had achieved during their first two years in the league. Despite having some big holes to fill in 2006, Tech was chosen to finish second in the Coastal Division, and was penciled into the No. 17 slot in the preseason national rankings.

The Hokies eventually wound up with a 10-3 record and an invitation to the Chick-fil-A Bowl after finishing nearly exactly the way they were predicted — second in the Coastal and 19th in the nation. The maroon and orange was solid once again, even in a year when perennial powers Miami and Florida State struggled to .500 marks, and teams like Wake Forest shocked the league with a conference title.

But Tech's success wasn't going to come easily. After losing more than half of its starters from an 11-2 Gator Bowl season in 2005 — including a Tech-record nine players chosen in the NFL draft — there would be a lot of new faces on the field, and on the sideline, as the team was also breaking in four new assistant coaches.

Was Sean Glennon the right man for the quarterback position? Could Branden Ore fill the shoes of the departed Cedric Humes and Mike Imoh behind an inexperienced offensive line? Would the defense be able to follow up its No. 1 billing from 2005?

From his first collegiate start in the opener against Northeastern, redshirt sophomore QB Sean Glennon improved throughout the season and led the Hokies to 10 wins and a Chick-fil-A Bowl berth.

The Tech defense handled eventual ACC champion Wake Forest in a 27-6 victory over the No. 14 Demon Deacons and led the nation in total defense, scoring defense and pass defense heading into bowl season.

Although the answer to those questions would ultimately be a resounding 'yes,' Tech's early season opponents allowed the Hokies some time to ease into their schedule.

The 2006 season kicked off with a 38-0 blanking of I-AA Northeastern on Sept. 2 at Lane Stadium before a new home attendance record of 66,233. Glennon wasted no time cementing his role as the starter as he led the offense to touchdowns on its first three possessions. He finished the game 15-of-18 passing for 222 yards and three touchdowns. Although the running game never got going, the Hokie defense and special teams held strong behind two interceptions and two blocked kicks.

Tech's first road game came the following week in Chapel Hill against North Carolina. Josh Morgan tallied the Hokies' third blocked kick in two games, while Ore rushed for 111 yards and a career-high three touchdowns. The score ended up 35-10 in the Hokies' favor after the defense picked off four passes, including one by Brenden Hill that was returned 69 yards for a touchdown.

The Hokies returned to Blacksburg on Sept. 16 to begin a three-game homestand, which started with their second shutout win in three contests — a 36-0 defeat of Duke. David Clowney established a career-high with 120 receiving yards, while freshmen Sam Wheeler and Kenny Lewis, Jr., each recorded their first collegiate scores. The defense and special teams were solid once again, as the Hokies racked up eight sacks while Eddie Royal returned a punt 58 yards for a touchdown.

Tech improved to 4-0 the next week with a 29-13 win over Cincinnati, but for the first time on the young season, it did not come without a fight. The Bearcats led 10-5 at the half and 13-10 at the start of the fourth quarter, but the Hokies put up 17 unanswered points in the final quarter to pull away. Ore carried the offense with 152 second-half rushing yards, while cornerback Victor "Macho" Harris made two late picks, including a game-sealing 72yard interception return for a touchdown.

Ranked at a season-high 11th in the nation, the Hokies headed into a Sept. 30 battle with No. 24 Georgia Tech — the first real test of the season. The game was not as close as the 38-27 final score indicated, as the Yellow Jackets jumped out to a 21-0 lead after less than 11 minutes of play behind a pair of touchdowns from All-American receiver Calvin Johnson. Tech spent the rest of game clawing its way back behind career-highs from Glennon (339 yards passing), Justin Harper (109 yards receiving) and Royal (102 yards receiving), but it was too little, too late.

The Hokies' next contest came at Boston College in one of their signature Thursday night ESPN games, of which they had won 11-straight dating back to 1995. However, the Eagles ended that streak with a convincing 22-3 win that dropped the Hokies to 4-2 and out of the national rankings for the first time since 2004. Tech doomed itself with turnovers and penalties, and only Brandon Pace's 36-yard field goal kept Tech from being shut out for the first time since 1996.

Although the Oct. 12 loss was the low point of the season for the Hokies, they used it as a wake-up call and it ended up vaulting them to a dominating six-game winning streak to finish the season. Tech would allow only 29 points throughout the final six games — the stingiest such stretch since 1938 — including just two touchdowns while posting two more shutouts.

The Hokies got back on track in Blacksburg on Oct. 21 with a 36-6 drubbing of Southern Miss. Glennon completed only four passes on the day, but that was more than enough as Ore rushed for a career-high 207 yards to carry the load, including a 70-yard scamper to the end zone early in the fourth to put the game out of reach. The Tech defense recorded six sacks and its second safety of the season.

The biggest game of the year - and the season's brightest moment — came just five days later against Clemson in another Thursday night ESPN game. The 10thranked Tigers came to town with the vaunted rushing duo of James Davis and C.J. Spiller, but it was the Hokies' Ore who rolled up the yardage, gaining 203 yards to become the first player in school history to record two 200-yard games in his career, let alone in back-to-back contests. The Tigers jumped out to a 7-0 lead on the first possession of the game, but the Hokies bottled them up for a 24-7 upset win, limiting Clemson to just 80 yards rushing. Fans rushed the field in celebration under a sky of fireworks, and the Hokies were suddenly back in ACC contention.

Frank Beamer and his squad quickly shifted their focus to their next opponent — the struggling Miami Hurricanes — for a game that would be played in the always-tough environment of the Orange Bowl. Ore was once again the hero, scoring both of the Hokies' touchdowns, including the game-winner with 1:34 remaining to give Tech a 17-10 triumph. Xavier Adibi's interception with 3:33 remaining set up the score, while Brandon Flowers' second pick of the game during Miami's last effort sealed the victory.

Brandon Flowers breaks up a pass in the Hokies' dominating 24-7 win over No. 10 Clemson during a Thursday night ESPN game in Blacksburg.

The Hokies returned home on Nov. 11 for a non-conference tilt with Kent State, and promptly shut out the Golden Flashes 23-0. Pace nailed three field goals to break Tech's record for consecutive field goals made, while Ore tallied his 15th touchdown of the season for the offense. Vince Hall led the defensive charge with a career-high 15 tackles, before defensive end Noland Burchette put the icing on the cake mid-way through the fourth quarter with a 15-yard fumble return for a touchdown.

Although Georgia Tech had already clinched the Coastal Division, the Hokies traveled to Winston-Salem on Nov. 18 aiming to beat the surprising Wake Forest Demon Deacons, who were ranked 14th in the nation at the time. Ore went down early with an ankle injury, but other players stepped up to provide a 27-6 victory. Lewis, Jr., and George Bell combined for 102 yards rushing in Ore's absence, while Glennon tossed touchdown bombs of 49 and 53 yards to Royal and Morgan, respectively. Pace added two more field goals, and Adibi scored the Hokies' fourth defensive touchdown of the season on a 35-yard fumble return.

The final game of the regular season came at home on Thanksgiving weekend against the archrival Cavaliers of Virginia. Usually an intensely played contest, this one was no different, even though the outcome was decided early in the second half. Although Tech scored just 17 points on scores by Bell and Royal, and Pace's 22nd-straight field goal, the defense dominated once again. Led by Hall and Adibi's 20 combined tackles, the Hokies posted their fourth shutout and surrendered a seasonlow 112 total yards to Viginia's offense, as the Cavaliers snapped the ball in Tech territory just once, which happened to be on a punt. The Hokies' 17-0 triumph helped them retain the Commonwealth Cup, and gave them doubledigit wins for the third-straight year.

The year ended on a down note when the Hokies fell to Georgia, 31-24, in the Chick-fil-A Bowl after leading 21-3 at the half, but with 16 starters scheduled to return in 2007, the future appears to continue to be bright for the Hokies.

The Hokies also featured seven All-ACC selections. Hall was chosen to the first team as the top linebacker in the conference with 113 votes, while Flowers joined him as a first-team

Flowers was also tabbed a third-team All-American by the Associated Press, and guard Sergio Render earned firstteam Freshman All-America honors by Rivals.com.

Chick-fil-A Bowl Bulldogs Snap Hokies' Winning Streak Before A Record Crowd at the Georgia Dome

ATLANTA - Virginia Tech jumped out to a 21-3 halftime lead, but the Hokies' second-half turnovers proved costly as Georgia scored 28 unanswered points in the final 30 minutes to knock off Tech 31-24 in the Chick-fil-A Bowl in front of a record crowd of 75,406 fans at the Georgia Dome on Dec. 30, 2006.

The loss snapped Tech's six-game winning streak and ended the Hokies' bid at becoming just the fourth team in school history to win 11 games in a season. Tech finished its season with a 10-3 record, while Georgia finished its 2006 campaign with a 9-4 mark.

The Hokies jumped out to that 18-point halftime lead thanks to two 1-yard touchdown runs by tailback Branden Ore and a 53-yard pass from receiver Eddie Royal to tight end Sam Wheeler on a trick play. But Tech turned the ball over four times in the second half — all by quarterback Sean Glennon — and three of those turnovers led to 18 Georgia points.

The Bulldogs cut the lead to 21-6 on a 52yard field goal by Brandon Coutu early in the second half, and then head coach Mark Richt made a decision that helped turned the game around. Richt decided to go for an onsides kick, and the Bulldogs recovered. That ended up leading to a 6-yard touchdown pass from Matthew Stafford to tight end Martrez Milner that cut the Tech lead to 21-13. A Glennon interception on Tech's next possession led to 3-yard run by Gregg Lumpkin with 12:39 left in the game. Georgia went for two points and got it when Stafford hit Milner in the back of the end zone. That tied the game at 21.

A Glennon fumble on the first play of Tech's next possession led to a 28-yard field goal by Coutu that enabled the Bulldogs to regain the lead, 24-21, with 10:42 remaining. Glennon's interception on the Hokies' next possession ultimately led to a 1-yard touchdown run by Brannan Southerland with 7:30 to go that gave the Bulldogs a 31-21 lead.

The Hokies cut the lead to 31-24 on a field goal by Brandon Pace with 3:41 remaining and actually got the ball back with 1:25 to go. But they couldn't muster a first down, with the fourth-down play ending when a Glennon pass fell incomplete.

Glennon, a 6-foot-4, 221-pound redshirt sophomore from Centreville, Va., suffered a nightmarish game in the season finale. He completed 13-of-26 for 94 yards, with three interceptions and a fumble.

Royal caught four passes for 45 yards, and Ore ran for 42 yards on 20 carries to pace the Hokies. Tech finished with just 189 yards of total offense.

Tech's defense, ranked No. 1 nationally going into the game, struggled in the second half, though it was often put in difficult situations. Georgia amassed 153 of its 200 total yards in the final 30 minutes. Stafford, a true freshman, completed 9-of-21 for 129 yards, with a touchdown and an interception.

The game marked the end of a stellar fouryear run for Tech's seniors, who were bidding to become just the second class in school history to win 40 games over a four-year span. They finished with a four-year mark of 39-13, joining last year's class and the 2001 class with 39 wins each.

GAME 1 Northeastern Hokies Pitch 38-0 Shutout Over the Huskies to Open Season

BLACKSBURG — Quarterback Sean Glennon passed for three touchdowns in his first collegiate start as Virginia Tech's young football squad opened the 2006 season with a 38-0 victory over Northeastern before a record crowd at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

Glennon guided the Hokies to touchdowns on each of their three first-quarter possessions. He completed 15-of-18 passes on the day for 222 yards, tossing touchdown passes of 54, 55 and 4 yards. He was intercepted once. With nearly half of its dress squad composed of freshmen and sophomores, Tech's performance left room for improvement.

The Hokies managed just 111 yards on the ground and bogged down on several drives. Northeastern controlled the football for just over 35 minutes of the game.

Defensively, Tech picked off a pair of passes and held the Huskies to 207 total yards, while on special teams, the Hokies blocked a punt and a field goal.

Quarterback Sean Glennon (7) threw touchdown passes of 54 and 55 yards against the Huskies in his first collegiate start.

Hokies-Huskies Game Notes

• The crowd of 66,233 established a new school attendance record and marked the largest crowd to witness a collegiate football game in the commonwealth of Virginia.

• Sean Glennon became the first Tech quarterback to toss two touchdown passes of 50 yards or more in a season-opening game since 1992 when Maurice DeShazo had TD passes of 69 and 64 yards to Antonio Freeman in the opening game against JMU.

• Tailback Branden Ore's 55-yard touchdown catch against Northeastern was the longest reception for a Tech running back since Kevin Jones caught a 55-yard non-scoring pass against Boston College in 2003. The last Tech running back to catch a touchdown pass of 55 yards or more was Tommy Edwards, who had a 55-yard scoring grab at Pittsburgh in 1993.

Kory Robertson (75) blocks a field goal on the last play of the game to preserve Tech's shutout against Northeastern.

Big Fourth Quarter Rescues Tech in 29-13 Win over Bearcats

BLACKSBURG — Virginia Tech overcame a sluggish start and a well-prepared Cincinnati football team to post a hard-earned 29-13 victory and give head coach Frank Beamer his 150th win at his alma mater.

Trailing 10-5 at the half, Tech took the second half kickoff and drove 70 yards in 1:36 to grab the lead and the momentum, thanks to a 47-yard touchdown catch by Justin Harper.

The Bearcats rebounded to lead briefly, but the Hokies roared back behind tailback Branden Ore to finish the game with 17 unanswered points.

Ore rushed 25 times for 170 yards and a touchdown to pump life into the offense in the second half. He went into the locker room at the half with just 18 yards and ran for 152 in the second half.

The defense got two interceptions from cornerback Victor Harris, including one for 72 yards and a touchdown, to preserve the win in the final minutes.

Nic Schmitt prepares to boom a 50-yard punt.

Hokies-Bearcats Game Notes

• When Cincinnati scored in the second quarter, it marked the first points given up by Tech at home since the last play of the first half of the North Carolina game last season, a span of 11 quarters.

• Tech failed to score in the second quarter, breaking a string of 18-straight quarters with points.

• Josh Morgan blocked a punt for a safety in the first quarter. Tech has blocked at least one kick in each of its last six games against Cincinnati.

• The victory marked just the ninth win for a Beamer-coached squad when trailing after three quarters. Tech entered the game 8-60 in such scenarios.

Cornerback Victor Harris (1) ices Tech's win over Cincinnati with a 72-yard interception return for a touchdown.

Yellow Jackets Dominate in All Phases as Hokies Lose 38-27

BLACKSBURG — Georgia Tech got off to a fast start and beat No. 11 Virginia Tech at its own game, using special teams and defense on the way to a decisive 38-27 victory that saddled the Hokies with their first loss of the season.

Georgia Tech All-America receiver Calvin Johnson scored the first two times he touched the football to spark the No. 24 Yellow Jackets to a 21-0 lead in the first quarter. A blocked punt and a fumble return for a touchdown were also instrumental in the win.

Virginia Tech posted 25 first downs to the Yellow Jackets' 11, but never recovered from the visitor's early scoring burst.

Quarterback Sean Glennon passed for 339 yards and a touchdown trying to rally the Hokies, but it wasn't enough to overcome the slow start.

Split end Justin Harper (81) wrestles the ball away from a Georgia Tech defender on the way to a career-best 109 yards receiving.

Hokies-Yellow Jackets Game Notes

• Sean Glennon attempted 53 passes against Georgia Tech, tying a school record for attempts in a game set by Don Strock against Houston in 1972. The 54 attempts by the team set a new mark, breaking the old record of 53 against Houston.

• Justin Harper had a career-high 109 yards receiving in his first collegiate start. Eddie Royal also had a career best with 102 yards receiving. It marked the first time the Hokies had produced two 100-yard receivers in the same game since 2002 when Ernest Wilford (279) and Keith Willis (113) accomplished the feat at Syracuse.

• The 21 first quarter points were the most ever allowed by a Frank Beamer-coached Hokie squad.

Boston College GAME 6 Eagles Take it to Hokies as Tech falls 22-3 on Thursday Night

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. — The Eagles of Boston College scored 15 points off of Virginia Tech miscues to hand the Hokies a 22-3 loss in a Thursday night ESPN game at Alumni Stadium. The loss was the first in an Atlantic Coast Conference road game for Tech, snapping a 9-0 streak.

An interception led to a 7-3 BC lead at halftime. The Eagles turned another interception and a fumble recovery into a pair of field goals during the third quarter, before putting the game away with an 83-yard touchdown drive midway through the final quarter. A high snap from center on a Tech punt resulted in a safety with 1:37 remaining.

BC quarterback Matt Ryan tossed a pair of touchdown passes to Kevin Challenger and the Eagles' defense kept the pressure on Tech quarterback Sean Glennon, recording four sacks for minus-45 yards.

The Hokies committed four turnovers and hurt themselves with penalties, including one that negated a touchdown pass in the final seconds of the first half. Tailback Branden Ore rushed for 71 yards, and Glennon completed 23 of 34 passes for 148 yards, but Tech's overall offensive total was just 181 yards.

Hokies-Eagles Game Notes

• Tech's three points were its fewest in an ACC game and its fewest since a 42-3 loss to North Carolina in the Gator Bowl following the 1997 season.

• The Hokies finished with just 33 yards on the ground in the game, their fewest rushing yards since a 2001 game at Pittsburgh. Tech had just 15 yards in that 38-7 loss to the Panthers in Pittsburgh.

• The loss broke an 11-game Tech winning streak in Thursday night ESPN games. The Hokies' only other loss in their 14 Thursday night ESPN games was a 20-14 defeat at the hands of BC at Lane Stadium in 1995.

• For the third game in a row, Tech trailed at the half. The last time that happened to the Hokies was during the 1997 season, when Tech trailed at the half in each of its last four games of the season.

Defenders Noland Burchette (96), Xavier Adibi (11) and Cary Wade (30) smother a BC ball carrier.

GAME 7 Southern Miss Hokies Get Back on Track with 36-6 Win Over USM

BLACKSBURG — Virginia Tech used a large dose of tailback Branden Ore to cure a twogame losing streak with a 36-6 Homecoming victory against nonconference foe Southern Miss.

Ore brought the Hokies' running game to life with a career-best 207 yards on 23 carries. He gave Tech the lead for good with a 2-yard TD run in the first quarter and broke USM's back with a 70-yard touchdown burst early in the fourth period. Tech finished the game with a seasonhigh 284 yards on the ground.

Tech's defense bent, but only allowed a pair of first-quarter field goals. USM managed just 82 yards on the ground, in large part to six quarterback sacks by the Hokies for minus-48 yards. Linebacker Vince Hall led the Tech defenders with 12 tackles, a sack and a forced fumble.

Punter Nic Schmitt and place-kicker Brandon Pace also played important roles in the win. Schmitt kept the Golden Eagles pinned deep in their own territory with punts downed at the USM 1-, 2- and 7-yard lines. Pace, meanwhile, connected on a pair of field goals.

Quarterback Sean Glennon tossed a 38-yard touchdown pass to Josh Morgan to give Tech a 19-6 lead at the half.

Virginia Tech got a safety on this sack by cornerback Brandon Flowers — one of Tech's six sacks against USM.

Hokies-Golden Eagles Game Notes

• Branden Ore went over the 100-yard mark in a game for the sixth time in his career and the third time in the 2006 season. His 207 yards rushing were a career high, surpassing his 170-yard performance against Cincinnati earlier in the season.

• Tech recorded its second safety of the season during the second quarter. It marks the first time since the 2002 season that the Hokies have registered two safeties in a season.

• Tech completed just six passes in the game, the fewest completions for the Hokies since a 2004 loss to NC State in which they also connected on just six passes.

Ore Lights Up the Night as Tech Upsets Tigers 24-7

BLACKSBURG — Virginia Tech put together its best game of the season in a dominating 24-7 victory over 10th-ranked Clemson in a Thursday night ESPN game at noisy Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

The performances of tailback Branden Ore and the Tech defense were among the highlights the win. Ore followed good blocking up front to his second-straight 200-yard rushing game, picking up 203 yards on a career-high 37 carries. He scored on runs of 11 and 3 yards. The defense held the nation's leading scoring offense to just seven points and limited the Tigers' vaunted rushing attack to only 80 yards.

The Tigers drew first blood with a 77-yard scoring drive in the first quarter. From that point on, however, Clemson's offense was held in check, managing just three first downs and 81 total yards over the final three quarters. CU finished with 166 yards of total offense, 288.9 yards below its season average.

Tech answered Clemson's scoring drive with an 84-yard TD drive of its own and took the lead on a Brandon Pace field goal in the second quarter. Linebacker Xavier Adibi set up Ore's first TD run of the third quarter with an interception. A 41-yard pass from quarterback Sean Glennon to tight end Sam Wheeler was the key play in a 79-yard drive that Ore capped with his 3-yard touchdown run.

Cary Wade (30) gets help from Vince Hall (9) and Brandon Flowers (18) to cage a Tiger.

Hokies-Tigers Game Notes

• Tailback Branden Ore became the first Tech player on record to rush for over 200 yards in back-to-back games, as well as twice in a season and career. Ore rushed for 203 yards on a career-best 37 carries against Clemson, five days after posting a career-high 207 yards in a win over Southern Miss. Ore is one of just eight Tech players to have rushed for 200 yards or more in a game.

• Ore posted a 40-yard run against the Tigers in the first quarter. It was the longest run of the year against the Clemson defense.

• Sean Glennon scored his first collegiate touchdown on a first-quarter quarterback sneak from the 1-yard line.

• Tech wore all-maroon uniforms for the first time since its 2003 Insight Bowl game against California.

Senior Brandon Gore (77) clears the way against No. 10 Clemson as Branden Ore becomes the first Tech back to post two 200-yard rushing games.

Miami

Late Score Leads Tech to Big 17-10 Road Win over 'Canes

MIAMI, Fla. — Virginia Tech lost a lead, but won a game thanks to key plays by its defense and tailback Branden Ore over the final four minutes that allowed the Hokies to escape the Orange Bowl with a 17-10 win over Miami.

Tech enjoyed a 10-0 lead at halftime, but found itself completely stymied on offense by the Hurricanes in the second half. A 55-yard field goal by Jon Peattie got UM on the board in the third quarter, and then the 'Canes seized the momentum when Tyrone Moss broke out of a crowd of Hokies and scampered 50 yards to tie the game with 11:10 to go.

The Tech defense took the game back and set the offense up with a golden opportunity when linebacker Xavier Adibi intercepted a blocked pass at the UM 26. With a total of just 1-yard total offense in the second half to that point, the Hokies turned to Ore who picked up 16 yards on a crucial third-and-10 situation. Two plays later, he burst 8 yards for a touchdown with 1:39 left.

Brandon Flowers' second interception of the game helped seal the win. Tech had three interceptions, while holding Miami, one of the league's top passing offenses, to just 84 yards through the air.

Ore had 79 yards and two touchdowns for the game, but overall, Tech managed just 139 yards of offense, including just 19 yards in the second half.

Offensive tackle Duane Brown (76) shows his versatility and athleticism with a blocked field goal versus the 'Canes.

Hokies-Hurricanes Game Notes

• Branden Ore became the 10th Tech player to rush for 1,000 yards in a season. Ore improved his season total to 1,018 yards with a 79-yard performance against the Hurricanes. The last Tech player to rush for 1,000 yards in a season was Kevin Jones, who established a school single-season record with 1,647 yards in 2003. Three Tech players — Roscoe Coles, Cyrus Lawrence and Lee Suggs — rushed for 1,000 yards twice during their Tech careers.

• Virginia Tech managed just 139 yards of offense in its win at Miami. It was the lowest total offense for the Hokies in a win during Coach Frank Beamer's 236 games at the helm. The previous low in a win under Beamer was 206 yards in a 27-7 win against Pittsburgh in 1998. The last time Tech had fewer than 139 yards of offense in any game dates back to Beamer's very first game a Tech, a 22-10 loss to Clemson in 1987. The Hokies managed just 60 yards of total offense in that game.

• Miami became the first team to score a rushing touchdown in the fourth quarter against Tech during the 2006 season.

Kent State GAME 10 Defense Carries the Load in 23-0 Shutout of Golden Flashes

BLACKSBURG — Virginia Tech rode the leg of senior kicker Brandon Pace and a stout defense to its third shutout of the season, a 23-0 whitewashing of visiting non-conference foe Kent State.

Pace accounted for 11 of Tech's points, including a pair of first half field goals that gave the Hokies a tenuous 6-0 advantage at the intermission. A 65-yard drive early in the third quarter resulted in a 6-yard Branden Ore touchdown run that allowed Tech a little breathing room. Another Pace field goal and a defensive touchdown put the finishing touches on the win in the fourth guarter.

The Tech defense recovered two fumbles, returning one for a touchdown, and added an interception and three quarterback sacks. The Golden Flashes finish with just 182 yards of total offense and nine first downs. Seventy-seven of those yards came on two plays, including a 28-yard run by Nate Reed on a fake punt in the fourth guarter.

Tech won the game despite being out-rushed 84 yards to 73. The Hokies finished with a total of 214 offensive yards, including 72 on the ground by Ore.

Hokies-Golden Flashes Game Notes

• With his three field goals against Kent State, senior Brandon Pace broke the school record for consecutive field goals made. Pace extended his streak to 19 in a row dating back to the Boston College game last season when he missed from 31 yards out. He broke the previous school mark of 17-straight set by Chris Kinzer in 1986.

• Linebacker Vince Hall led the defense with a career-high 15 tackles, a fumble caused and a fumble recovered.

• Defensive end Noland Burchette registered his first collegiate touchdown when he grabbed a fumble in the air and returned it 15 yards for the final score against Kent State.

• Kent State used a successful fake punt to post the first fourth-down conversion against the Hokies all season.

Defensive end Chris Ellis' crushing sack (above) forces a fumble that is picked off in mid-air and returned by fellow end Noland Burchette (below) for a TD.

GAME 11 Wake Forest Glennon Sharp in 27-6 Win Over No. 14 Demon Deacons

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. — Despite losing leading rusher Branden Ore to an ankle injury midway through the first quarter, Virginia Tech posted an impressive 27-6 victory over No. 14 Wake Forest in front of the third-largest crowd in Groves Stadium history.

Tech used a 17-point third quarter to put the game away, but the Hokies' defense seemed in control the entire evening.

The Demon Deacons managed just two field goals in the game and were held to 104 total yards during the first half. Wake finished with 257 yards, with 88 of their 153 second-half yards coming on three pass plays.

Tech struck quickly, scoring on a 49-yard pass from Sean Glennon to Eddie Royal on its third play of the game. The Hokies built on their 7-3 halftime lead when Glennon hit Josh Morgan for a 53-yard score on Tech's first possession of the second half. Following the first of two Brandon Pace field goals, the defense applied the

Hokies-Demon Deacons Game Notes

• Tech scored a touchdown on its opening drive for the first time since its third game of the season against Duke. It also marked the first time this season that the Hokies' first score of a game came on a pass.

• Quarterback Sean Glennon broke a span of four-straight games in which he had not thrown a touchdown pass. He had two touchdown tosses against the Demon Deacons.

• Eddie Royal's 55-yard kickoff return against Wake Forest was the longest of his Tech career.

• Freshman Kenny Lewis, Jr., turned in his longest run of the season with a 26-yard jaunt in the fourth quarter. He finished the game with 74 yards on 17 carries. Redshirt sophomore George Bell, who has been slowed by sore knees, saw his first action since the UNC game and rushed for 28 yards.

back breaker when Aaron Rouse's jarring tackle forced a fumble that was scooped up by linebacker Xavier Adibi and returned 35 yards for a touchdown. Reserve tailbacks George Bell and Kenny Lewis, Jr., played important roles, stepping up in Ore's absence to combine for 102 yards on the ground.

Former high school teammates Eddie Royal (4) and Sean Glennon celebrate after teaming up on a 49-yard TD pass against the No. 14 Demon Deacons.

Junior Josh Morgan sets sail for the end zone on a 53-yard touchdown reception on which he broke a pair of tackles.

Tech Shuts Out Cavaliers 17-0 to Keep Commonwealth Cup

BLACKSBURG, Va. — A whole lot of defense and just enough offense propelled Virginia Tech to its sixth straight win and its fourth shutout of the season in the form of a 17-0 blanking of in-state rival Virginia at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

The battle for the Commonwealth Cup belonged to the defenses, and it was a defensive play by the Hokies that started them on the road to victory. Linebacker Xavier Adibi's quarterback sack with just over two minutes left in the first half forced a fumble that Tech recovered at the UVa 12. Four straight runs by tailback George Bell produced a touchdown that gave the Hokies a 7-0 lead at halftime. Tech opened the second half with a 12-play, 74-yard drive that resulted in a Brandon Pace field goal. Later in the third period, quarterback Sean Glennon led the Hokies on a 91-yard drive that was capped by his 49-yard TD pass to Eddie Royal.

Tech's defense held the Cavaliers to just 112 total yards and five first downs. Virginia got just one snap in Tech territory and that was for a punt.

Freshman tailback Kenny Lewis, Jr., rushed for a personalbest 79 yards for the Hokies, while Bell chipped in 41 yards. Glennon, who made a key 19yard run on third down to keep Tech's opening drive of the half alive, completed 12 of 18 passes.

Brandon Pace extends his field goal streak to 22 straight with this 23-yarder.

Hokies-Cavaliers Game Notes

• Kicker Brandon Pace tied the school single-season record for consecutive field goals made before missing a 47-yard kick in the fourth quarter. His 23-yard kick in the third quarter tied the mark of 17-straight field goals made in one season set by Chris Kinzer in 1986. The third-quarter kick extended Pace's school record overall streak to 22 straight, dating back to the Boston College game last season.

• With starting tailback Branden Ore sidelined by an ankle injury, true freshman Kenny Lewis, Jr., got the starting nod against Virginia. Lewis became the first true freshman to start a game at tailback for Tech since the 2002 Gator Bowl (following the 2001 season) when Kevin Jones started against Florida State.

• The last time Virginia Tech shut out Virginia was in 1983. The Hokies won that contest 48-0 in Charlottesville.

• Tech posted its fourth shutout of the season. The last time the Hokies had four shutouts in a season was 2002.

Linebacker Xavier Adibi's sack forced a fumble that lead to Tech's first score against the Cavaliers.

Seven All-Americans Highlight 2007 Class

Seven 2007 prep All-Americans, including the top player in the state of Virginia and the national player of the year by one publication, highlight a football recruiting class composed of 23 student-athletes who signed letters-of-intent with Virginia Tech, to go along with two athletes who graduated high school early and enrolled at Tech in January to bring Tech's class up to 25.

"Not only do I think that this is a very talented incoming class, I think it's potentially one of the best classes we've ever signed," head coach Frank Beamer said. "I think that this group has very good character and takes care of their academics. All of those things go a long way in winning championships."

A year after receiving just six NLIs from Virginia products — the fewest amount under Beamer — Tech bounced back strong this year in signing 13 players from the Commonwealth. Highlighting that group is Hampton quarterback Tyrod Taylor (6-2, 185), an All-American who is ranked as the No. 1 player in the state of Virginia by The Roanoke Times and is listed as the No. 1 dual threat quarterback in the country by Rivals. In all, Tech signed three of the top five players in the state, five of the top 10 and 10 of the top 21, according the The Roanoke Times. Also signing with Tech from the top five are two Richmond products: cornerback Cris Hill (#3) and safety Davon Morgan (#5). Hill is also ranked the No. 17 cornerback in the country by Rivals, while Morgan is rated as the No. 21 safety in the country by Scout.

Ten players from out-of-state signed with Tech, highlighted by running back Darren Evans from Indianapolis, Ind. Evans rushed for 2,806 yards and a state record 61 touchdowns his final year at Warren Central High, earning EA SPORTS National Player of the Year honors.

Taylor, Hill, Morgan and Bradenton (Fla.) linebacker Hunter Ovens are the four SuperPrep All-Americans to sign with Tech. Hill, Morgan and Taylor also were named All-Americans by PrepStar, along with Evans and Wadesboro (N.C.) linebacker Barquell Rivers. Ovens is ranked the No. 14 strongside linebacker in the country by Scout and the No. 18 player in the state of Florida by SuperPrep. Rivers had 170 tackles and five interceptions (three returned for scores) as a senior to help him earn the No. 14 player in the state of North Carolina ranking by SuperPrep.

Both Taylor and Evans were named PARADE All-Americans, marking the first time since 2001 (Kevin Jones and Bryan Randall) Tech has had two PARADE A-As in the same class. Evans was named Mr. Indiana by The Indianapolis Star while Taylor was named the Gatorade State Player of the Year in Virginia. Taylor was also named to PrepStar's postseason Dream Team — the top 100 players in the nation, the Rivals100 team and the SuperPrep Elite 50 squad.

Seven other players from the state of Virginia are ranked in the top 21 in the state by The Roanoke Times with six playing on the offensive side of the ball. They are Midlothian offensive lineman Blake DeChristopher (#6), Chesterfield offensive lineman Khalil Latif (#10), Newport News offensive lineman Jaymes Brooks (#12), Woodbridge offensive lineman Will Alvarez (#15), Virginia Beach tight end Greg Nosal (#16), Manassas linebacker Quillie Odom (#19) and Lexington wide receiver Danny Coale (#21). Also signing with Tech from Virginia were South Boston wide receiver Patrick Terry (#31), Richmond linebacker Alonzo Tweedy (#33) and Ashland running back D.J. Thomas. Thomas was an all-region selection by both SuperPrep and PrepStar after rushing for 1,595 yards and scored 18 scores.

The Tech staff put heavy emphasis on the offensive line and tight end positions, picking up nine players. DeChristopher (6-6, 310) is a member of the Rivals250 team (along with Taylor and Hill) while Latif (6-3, 280), Brooks (6-3, 290) and Alvarez (6-5, 315) are members of SuperPrep's Mid-Atlantic Team. Tech's other offensive line prospect is Hopkins (Minn.) product Collin Carroll (6-4, 260), who is also a highly rated long snapper. Tech also picked up four tight ends to go with the five linemen in Chris Drager (Jefferson Hills, Pa.; 6-4, 235), Andrew Lanier (Moore, S.C.; 6-5, 250), Nosal (6-5, 255) and Brandon Barden (Lincolnton, Ga.; 6-5, 211). Barden is ranked the No. 26 tight end in the country by Rivals while Drager, Lanier and Nosal were all members of their respective all-region squads by PrepStar.

"I think we got some quality offensive linemen and that was very much a priority in this recruiting class," Beamer said. "We also got some excellent receivers coming in to replace the quality receivers we'll lose next year. I think your football team starts with the quarterback position and we feel very good about Tyrod Taylor and what he'll bring to this program. The tight end position was another area of concern and we feel like we've helped ourself with the group we're bringing in. Also, we've had some great backs at Virginia Tech and I think we've added some more in this recruiting class."

Tech also tapped into North Carolina's talent with three players: Rivers, Spring Hope defensive tackle Kwamaine Battle and Garner running back Josh Oglesby. Battle was an All-Atlantic Region selection by PrepStar after totaling 90 tackles, including 8.5 sacks, as a senior and is rated the No. 28 player in the state of North Carolina by Rivals. Oglesby is listed as the No. 34 running back in the country and the No. 18 player in the state of North Carolina by Rivals after rushing for over 1,000 yards and 18 touchdowns his senior year.

Virginia Tech also picked up two defensive players from Maryland in Germantown end Justin Young and Mitchellville tackle Courtney Prince. Young is rated the No. 33 strongside defensive end in the country and the No. 9 player in the state of Maryland by Rivals, earning all-region honors from both PrepStar and SuperPrep. Prince is ranked the No. 15 overall player on the Mid-Atlantic 36 by SuperPrep.

The Hokies used commitments from athletes in nine states to complete their class, grabbing one player from Pennsylvania (Drager), two from South Carolina (Lanier and Sumter athlete Kendrick Pressley), one from Georgia (Barden), one from Indiana (Evans), one from Florida (Ovens) and one from Minnesota (Carroll). With the signing of Ovens, it marks the 17th year since 1988 — but the first since Brandon Flowers in 2004 — Tech has signed a player from Florida, while with the signing of Carroll, it marks the first time under Beamer a player from Minnesota has signed with the Hokies. Pressley was selected to the NC/SC Shrine Bowl and is ranked the No. 33 prospect on the SC High School Sports Report's South Carolina Top 100.

Two of the 25 players in this year's recruiting class — Barden and Oglesby — enrolled at Tech in January and are already participating in offseason workouts. Twenty-three players signed with Tech on Signing Day.
