THE HOKIES

The Tournament: Virginia Tech enters the NCAA Championship ranked 36th in the ITA standings. It marks the highest ranking for the Hokies entering the tournament since the 2010 team was ranked 23rd going in to NCAAs. This is the Hokies' eighth consecutive trip to the NCAA Championship.

vs. The Region: The Hokies hold a winning record against all three opponents in the Nashville Regional. Tech is 3-1 all-time against first-round opponent Vanderbilt and picked up a 4-2 win in 2011 against the Commodores in the opening round of the NCAA Championship. Virginia Tech is 2-1 against Columbia in the all-time series, but the two teams last met in Blacksburg in 2012, when the Lions participated in the Larsen Bowker Invitational. Tech is 11-7 against ETSU in the history of the programs, although the two teams have not faced each other in dual play in over a decade.

The 2014 Season: Virginia Tech played 25 dual matches this season, including 19 against ranked opponents for a 9-10 record. Tech has been ranked throughout the season. The Hokies final 15 matches of the season were against ranked opponents with seven ranked in the top-20. Tech went 7-8 during that stretch to close out the regular season.

Single Representative: Amerigo Contini will once again represent Virginia Tech in the NCAA Singles Tournament. Contini joins a list of five former Hokies who have competed in the NCAA singles tournament in multiple seasons. Most recently, Tech was represented in consecutive seasons by Luka Somen in 2011 and 2012. Contini is the first Virginia Tech player to earn back-to-back bids during their freshman and sophomore campaigns.

All-ACC: Amerigo Contini, Andreas Bjerrehus and Joao Monteiro were named to the All-ACC team this season after strong sophomore seasons for the trio. Contini earned First Team honors while Bjerrehus and Monteiro were tabbed to the Second and Third teams, respectively. It marks the first time that three Hokies have been recognized by the ACC in the same season. It is Contini and Bjerrehus' second All-ACC recognition and the first for Monteiro.

Sophomores: The Hokies have had two freshmen ranked throughout the season in both singles and doubles. Andreas Bjerrehus and Amerigo Contini have held rankings in the singles poll all season. In doubles, the pair has been ranked as high as eighth. Hokie freshman Joao Monteiro has also been solid for Tech throughout the spring season, totalling an 11-5 record in duals.

Youthful Team: Tech has a young team with no seniors and just one junior. Ten of the 11 team members are either freshmen or sophomores with four sophomores and two freshmen seeing significant time on the court during the spring season.
