

2010-2011 Virginia Tech Swimming & Diving

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 16, 2010 • VT vs. CHARLESTON AND RADFORD • 9 A.M.
CHRISTIANSBURG AQUATIC CENTER • CHRISTIANSBURG, VA.

The H₂Ogies will open the 2010-2011 season on Saturday, Oct. 16, at the brand new Christiansburg Aquatic Center in Christiansburg, Va., facing off against the College of Charleston and Radford University (women only). Tech did not compete against either team last year.

Straight From The Coaching Staff:

"Saturday will be a historic day for our program," said Head Coach Ned Skinner. "We have waited a long time to have this beautiful facility and our teams are very excited to get the season going. We continue to be very appreciative of our athletic department and the town of Christiansburg for giving our student-athletes such a beautiful home".

"We are looking forward to getting into the racing mindset," Associate Head Coach Braden Holloway said. "We have been training well and the team is eager to have some fun and start to race. The first meet is always exciting whether home or away, but having it be in our new pool makes it a little more thrilling than usual."

"This first meet of the season will be monumental in the history of Virginia Tech swimming and diving, and a moment that we have been waiting for with great anticipation," Head Diving Coach Ron Piemonte commented. "So far, this season has been a thrill, having the new Aquatic Center as a training facility. However, to also now be able to utilize it as a competition venue is just an amazing benchmark for our programs. I know that both our teams and entire staff are extremely excited about it, and are all looking forward to a new look and feel to our home competitions."

Scouting Charleston:

- Both the men's and women's teams are 5-0 all-time against Charleston.
- The teams last faced on Jan. 15, 2005, when Virginia Tech swept the Cougars, with a 178-53 victory by the men and a 183-60 win by the women.
- Saturday's meet will be the first competition of the year for the Cougars.
- The men's team finished 3-6 last season with a third-place finish out of six teams at the Coastal Collegiate Swimming and Diving Championships with 752 points, while the women went 5-10, placing 7th of 12 in the championship with 196 points.

Scouting Radford:

- The Hokie women are 4-0 all time against Radford.
- Tech last faced the Highlanders on Feb. 2, 2008, when they won 140-65. The Hokies, who were ranked 23rd in the nation at the time, swept the meet in Radford, defeated the men's and women's teams from VMI and Davidson as well.
- Radford opened the 2010-2011 season on Friday, Oct. 8, hosting Liberty and North Carolina A&T in a tri-meet. The Highlanders trounced the Aggies but narrowly lost to the Flames, 116.5-114.5, losing their lead in the very last event of the day.
- The Highlanders struggled last season, going 2-10 on the year, defeating North Carolina A&T twice. They then placed ninth out of 12 teams at the Coastal Collegiate Swimming and Diving Championships with 105 points.

* Denotes team captain

After back-to-back fifth-place finishes at the ACC Championships in 2008 and 2009, the H₂Okies improved to fourth place last season, taking home two individual bronze medals and a silver. The team returns the majority of its top swimmers from last season, losing just one NCAA competitor, diver Mikey McDonald.

"The men look to be as strong as ever on paper, with strength in every event and returning championship-scoring experience," said Head Coach Ned Skinner. "We are returning the bulk of our point scorers coupled with a very strong recruiting class of nine newcomers, so this season we look to further improve in the ACC standings."

Sprint

Virginia Tech returns a good crop of sprinters, led by sophomore Karl Botha and seniors Stephen Hawkins and Richard Ulatowski. Botha finished eighth at the ACC Championships in the 50-yard freestyle, and junior Greg Morgan took 14th in the 200 and 16th in the 100. The four sprinters were all members of at least one of the 200 and 400 freestyle relay teams who both finished sixth at ACCs. Freshmen Garrett Hehn, Chris Verboncoeur and Emmett Dignan, sophomore transfer Zach McGinnis, and returning sophomore Tervor Carr all hope to contribute in the sprint events.

Mid- and Distance Freestyle

Blake Trabuchi-Downey, Philip LaRosa and Bryan Uncur all return after finishing in the top 20 in distance freestyle events at last year's ACC Championships. Trabuchi-Downey came in ninth in the 1650 free and 13th in the 500, while LaRosa took 13th in the 1650 free and Uncur placed 18th in the 500 and 19th in the 1650. Sophomores Ben Munster, Michael Hallock and Alex Lutterbein also look to add depth to the distance crew.

Individual Medley

Gregory Mahon and Tom Sheranek anchor a very strong 200 individual medley crew that also features Nevin Cook and Matt Baumler, along with Adam Skipper and newcomers Nathan Hoisington, Emmett Dignan and Nick Tremols. Sheranek, Lutterbein and LaRosa lead the 400 IM, where Hoisington hopes to see action as well. Sheranek placed 10th in the 400 IM and 16th in the 200 at ACCs, where Mahon took 10th in the 200 and LaRosa finished 15th in the 400. Additionally, the H₂Okies had a pair of fourth-place medley relay teams, as returners Stephen Hawkins, Mahon and Ulatowski swam in the 200 and Charlie Higgins, Mahon and Botha participated in the 400.

Backstroke

Charlie Higgins, Tom Sheranek and Stephen Hawkins return to the backstroke crew after solid postseason appearances in 2010. Higgins placed in the top 25 at NAAs in both the 100- and 200-yard backstroke events, after placing ninth in the 200 and taking home the bronze medal in the 100 at ACCs. Tom Sheranek finished fourth at ACCs in the 200 and qualified for the Olympic Trials in both backstroke events this past summer. Stephen Hawkins took 12th in the 100 at ACCs and Ryne Francis came in 14th in the 200. Sophomore Michael Hallock will round out the 2010-11 backstroke squad.

Butterfly

Arguably the H₂Okies' strongest core of swimmers, the butterfly crew, led by Gregory Mahon, includes Blake Trabuchi-Downey, Trey Stewart, Matt Baumler, Charlie Higgins and Karl Botha. The team had several finalists in both butterfly events at the ACCs, with Mahon coming in on top with a third-place finish in the 100 and a fourth-place finish in the 200. Higgins, Botha and Baumler came in eighth, 10th, and 15th, respectively, in the 100, and Trabuchi-Downey, Stewart and Baumler all finished in the top 10 in the 200. Freshman Chris Verboncoeur will add to the already strong fly group this season.

Breaststroke

Junior Nevin Cook anchors a young breaststroke crew, which includes Adam Skipper and freshmen Nathan Hoisington, Emmett Dignan and Danny Loftus. Cook posted a top-10 finish in the 200 breast and placed 15th in the 100 at the Volunteer Invitational, while Skipper took third at the College Cup and 14th at the Volunteer Invitational in the 100 breast. A Leawood, Kansas, native, Hoisington was a three-time state silver medalist in the 100, and a three-time Junior National Qualifier. Dignan, a Mystic, Conn., resident, was a high school All-American and a finalist for New England Outstanding Swimmer of the Year, while Poquoson, Va., resident Danny Loftus was a state finalist and state champion who went to both junior and senior nationals.

Diving

Tech's diving squad is led by senior team captain Daniel Martin and sophomore Logan Shinholser. Martin has scored at ACCs all three years and was a finalist in platform two years in a row. He came in 13th on the 3-meter and seventh on the platform at last season's ACC Championships. Shinholser, the H₂Okies' only returning NCAA diver, took second on the platform and 12th on the 1-meter at ACCs. He then followed that performance with a pair of 25th-place finishes at the NCAA Championships on the 3-meter and platform, taking 33rd on the 1-meter. Freshman Ryan Hawkins comes to the Tech diving program as one of the top junior divers in the country on all three events, along with classmate John Trope, a multi-time Junior National competitor.

"Ryan is someone to really keep an eye on who could be a huge factor in elevating our program, and John brings huge depth to the squad," said Head Diving Coach Ron Piemonte. "I'm extremely excited about having perhaps the strongest men's program I've ever had here. We have a group of guys who work very well together and continue to push each other to improve and raise the bar."

The H₂Okie women return several key competitors from last season's ACC and NCAA Championships. In 2010, the women topped their 34th-place finish in the NCAAs, breaking into the top 25 with a 24th-place national finish. While the H₂Okies took fifth at the ACC Championships, they finished third among ACC teams at the NCAAs. Head Coach Ned Skinner is pleased to welcome back junior All-American Erika Hajnal and sophomore All-America Honorable Mention Katarina Filova.

"The women are poised for another great season," Skinner said, "returning strength in all strokes along with NCAA Championship-scoring experience. We look to continue our streak of top-25 finishes at the NCAAs and to maintain our status as one of the elite programs, both nationally and in the ACC."

Sprint

The H₂Okies are fortunate enough to return Katarina Filova, who took a silver medal and set a school record in the 200-yard freestyle at the ACC Championships and took home the bronze in the 100. Additionally, she placed 16th at NCAAs in the 200, earning her an All-America Honorable Mention. Emily Ferguson and Steffi Drechsel both had strong performances in the sprint events as well. Ferguson finished 11th at the ACC Championships in the 100, and the two swimmers helped lead the team to a bronze medal in the 400 freestyle relay. Seniors Morgan Allen and Kaleigh Gomes and sophomore Sarah Ault return strong sprint experience, and they are joined by freshman Rachel Sepanski, a high school All-American and Virginia state record-holder in the 200 free, and sophomore transfer Heather Savage, who competed in six events for Clemson University last season at the ACC championships.

Freestyle

Tech returns All-American Erika Hajnal, who had a stellar sophomore campaign, coupled with team captain Lauren Ritter, who will anchor the mid and distance freestyle crew. Hajnal won gold medals at the ACC Championships in the 500- and 1650-yard freestyle, and placed in the top 30 in both events at the NCAA Championships. Lauren Ritter just missed a medal in the 500 free at ACCs, placing fourth, and took ninth in the 1650. Additionally, the pair, along with Filova and Kelly deMarrais, took second at ACCs in the 800 freestyle relay. Sophomores Addie Carne, Laura Simon and Becky Flora add depth to the event, and freshman Adrienne Pilchard, a four-time high school All-American, rounds out the freestyle group.

Individual Medley

Erika Hajnal and Jace Howanitz lead the pack in the individual medley. Hajnal won the bronze medal in the 400 IM at ACCs, setting a new school record, and placed eighth in the nation at NCAAs. Jace Howanitz took 15th at ACCs in the 200 IM and 19th in the 400. Steffi Drechsel, Emily Ferguson, Katarina Filova and Meaghan Holloway each swam on at least one of the medley relay teams, helping the H₂Okies capture second at ACCs in the 400 medley and eighth in the 200 relay. In addition to freestyle, freshman Adrienne Pilchard will provide depth in the individual medley events, along with sophomore Katie Steeves.

Backstroke

Steffi Drechsel will lead a young backstroke crew, which includes newcomers Brittany Boone, Aubree Duncan and Caroline Higgins. Drechsel posted the women's quickest finish of the season in the 100 backstroke at 55:22, with a 17th-place finish at ACCs. Additionally, she placed second in the 100 at Penn State and ninth at the Volunteer Invitational. Brittany Boone, a native of Ashburn, Va., was a national qualifier in the backstroke events and ranked 18th at NCSA Junior Nationals in the 200-meter backstroke last season. Aubree Duncan, who hails from Woodstock, Ga., was a four-star recruit on the Swimming World rankings, and a three-time all-county swimmer. The H₂Okies' backstroke group is rounded out by Charlotte, N.C., native Caroline Higgins, who placed in the top three at states in the 100 backstroke in 2008 and 2009, and was a Junior National Team member for the 100 in 2009 and 2010.

Butterfly

Hajnal returns as one of Tech's all-time top performers in the butterfly, posting four titles in the 200 throughout the 2009-10 season. Sophomore Meaghan Holloway comes into this season after placing 18th in both the 100- and 200-yard events at ACC Championships. Heather Savage set a school record for Clemson University last season in the 100-yard butterfly, and freshman Kameron Ansley, a four-time state championships medalist in the 100, will add to the butterfly group, along with sophomore Dana Kalnins.

Breaststroke

Sophomore Keri Sink returns to Tech after finishing in the top 15 in two breaststroke events at last season's ACCs. The Elgin, Ill., resident, who took 13th in the 100 and 14th in the 200, just barely missed qualifying for the Olympic Trials this past summer and looks to be a major factor in relays this season. Freshmen Natalie Leake and Abby Houchin will add depth in the breast events for the H₂Okies, along with junior Paige Ayres. Leake, who hails from Centreville, Va., is a two-time high school All-American and a four-time NCSA Junior National Team member, while Houchin was a national qualifier and an All-American.

Diving

Head Diving Coach Ron Piemonte is pleased to return Sara Milton to the squad after a strong 2009-10 campaign. The Plano, Texas, resident placed fourth in the platform and eighth in the 3-meter at the Zone A Diving Championships last season. She then placed third in the preliminary round and eighth overall at ACCs in the 3-meter. Additionally, she earned ACC Athlete of the Week twice after setting a new school record in the 3-meter event with a score of 337.80.

Sophomore Sara Mokhtari just barely missed the finals of the 2010 ACC Championships in the platform event, finishing ninth by less than a point, and she also scored in both the 1- and 3-meter springboards. Cara Murnan had a fifth-place finish in the platform event at the 2009 ACCs, and seems to be very healthy following two surgeries last season.

Andrea Sawchuk and Carissa Santora have been training very well and are showing great potential for scoring possibilities this season. Incoming freshman England Barimo rounds out a very solid women's diving squad.

"I think we have a very solid group of girls who can all compete in all three events, which brings some good balance to the squad," Piemonte said. "I'm looking forward to the women really stepping up this year and being a factor in scoring a good amount of points at the ACC championships."

2009-2010 H₂Okie Season Highlights

- The two teams combined to set nine new school records
- The H₂Okies had 19 different individual event leaders
- Both the men's and women's teams were ranked simultaneously in the top 25 for the first time in history
- The H₂Okies boasted two ACC Athletes of the Week
 - Erika Hajnal earned the honor in the first week of competition on Oct. 27
 - Sarah Milton was named Athlete of the Week twice, on Jan 19 and Feb. 2
- The team had five Virginia Tech Athletes of the Week: Mikey McDonald (Oct. 26), Bryan Uncur (Nov. 2), Katarina Filova (Jan. 25), Milton (Feb. 1), and Hajnal (Feb. 22, March 22)
- For the second season in a row, seven athletes qualified for NAAs, four women and three men
- Erika Hajnal finished eighth at NAAs in the 400 IM, making her the H₂Okies' first All-American since 2008
- Katarina Filova earned All-America Honorable Mention with a 16th-place finish in the 200 freestyle
- Filova, Hajnal, Lauren Ritter and Kelly deMarrais earned All-America Honorable Mention for their 10th-place finish in the 800 freestyle relay
- As a team, the women placed fifth at ACCs and 24th at NAAs, and the men came in fourth at ACCs
- Charlie Higgins, Mikey McDonald and Logan Shinholser competed at NAAs for the men. Though they didn't score any points, they combined for six top-25 finishes at the national championship meet
- Five H₂Okies earned All-ACC honors, bringing home eight individual event medals at ACC Championships: For the men, Greg Mahon finished third in the 100 butterfly, Charlie Higgins finished third in the 100 backstroke, and Logan Shinholser took second in the platform dive. On the women's side, Katarina Filova came in second in the 200 freestyle and third in the 100 freestyle, while Erika Hajnal won the 500 freestyle and the 1,650 freestyle and came in third in the 400 IM.
- The women's team defeated No. 25 Florida State in a dual meet for the first time in school history
- 11 athletes were named to the All-ACC Academic team, four women and seven men
- Trey Stewart earned Virginia Tech's Skelton Award for Academic Excellence in Athletics as well as being named to the VaSID Academic All-State team
- Abby Barney received the Weaver-James-Corrigan Award, a postgraduate scholarship from the ACC
- The H₂Okies competed in their final meet ever at War Memorial Pool
