FIRST AND SECOND ROUND REGIONAL PARTICIPANTS

DELAWARE BLUE HENS

Scouting the Blue Hens: The Blue Hens return to the NCAA Tournament for the third time in four years, earning an automatic bid by winning the Colonial Athletic Association Championship. Delaware went 13-1 in conference play, losing only to Georgia State during the regular season. Delaware, earning the top seed and a chance to host the conference tournament, defeated Virginia Commonwealth and Northeastern to win its third CAA title since 2007. The Blue Hens defeated Princeton, 3-1, in the first round of the 2007 NCAA Tournament for their only tournament win in school history.

Hokies vs. Blue Hens: The Hokies are 4-0 all-time against the Blue Hens, however the two teams have not faced since 1992. Their last matchup came in the Hokies' only other postseason appearance, the 1992 National Invitational Volleyball Championship, as Tech downed Delaware, 3-1, for its only December win in school history. The two teams had three common opponents this season, Towson, Virginia and Duke. The Blue Hens went 2-0 against Towson but lost to UVa. and Duke, while Tech swept Towson, went 2-0 versus the Cavaliers, and split the two-match season series with the Blue Devils.

PENN STATE NITTANY LIONS

Scouting the Nittany Lions: The three-time defending national champion Nittany Lions return to the NCAA Tournament for their 30th consecutive season. Penn State and Stanford are the only two teams in the NCAA to have qualified every year. The then-No. 1 Nittany Lions had their record-setting 109-match win streak snapped earlier this season on Sept. 11, losing to then-No. 2 Stanford, 3-2. Penn State had not lost in almost three years, having won every match since falling to Stanford in five sets on Sept. 15, 2007. The Nittany Lions went on to lose five matches this season. They earned the fourth overall seed in the tournament, and are currently ranked eighth in the AVCA coaches' poll and fifth in this week's RPI.

Hokies vs. Nittany Lions: Tech has never played Penn State before and the Hokies are 1-7 all-time against current Big Ten members. The Hokies are 1-2 against Northwestern, defeating them in 1995, 0-3 against Michigan, and 0-1 against Purdue and Wisconsin. Tech lost to Purdue, 3-1, on Sept. 1, 2006 at the Auburn Tournament in its most recent Big Ten match-up.

TECH'S 2010 RECORD WHEN...

NCAA Tournament - On Nov. 28, the Hokies' epic 2010 season continued to make history, as Virginia Tech earned its first ever bid to the NCAA Tournament. The Hokies have only participated in the national postseason one other time, when they earned a bid to the 1992 National Invitational Volleyball Championship. Incidentally, the only team the Hokies defeated that year was the University of Delaware, the same team that the Hokies drew in the first round of this year's tournament.

Preseason Rankings - In the Atlantic Coast Conference Coaches' Poll, Virginia Tech was picked to finish eighth in the conference with 55 points. Senior Felicia Willoughby was named preseason All-ACC for the third consecutive year.

Tech Hits Two Milestones - On Sept. 17, 2010, the Hokies claimed their first victory at the University of Virginia since 1992, which also goes down in the record books as their 600th win in program history. Additionally, on Oct. 29, the Hokies claimed their first win over a ranked opponent in school history, simultaneously winning their 300th match at home, downing No. 25 Florida State, 3-2.

Newcomers - Tech welcomes six freshmen to the squad this season. Samantha Gostling and Victoria Hamsher both saw action in the first three matches of the season. Gostling, who hails from Charlotte, N.C., stuffed 26 kills at the Comcast Lady Vol Classic, opening her collegiate career second on the team in kills. Hamsher, a Nazareth, Pa., native, made her Tech debut with 13 kills and seven blocks at the tournament.

Laura Misiewicz made her first collegiate appearance at the Hilton Garden Hokie Invitational on Sept. 4 against Long Island, where she recorded three digs and an assist from the back row. After Amy Wengrenovich suffered an injury against Clemson on Oct. 1, Misiewicz made her first appearance at libero where she recorded an impressive 21 digs.

Allison Munter entered her first Tech match on Sept. 18 against Towson, where she notched two assists. Corrie Sanders got into the game for the first time on Nov. 5 against Boston College, where she put up and then received two serves. Rachel Lindsey is still awaiting her first collegiate appearance.

RPI Rankings - On Oct. 4, the NCAA released the first Ratings Percentage Index

(RPI) ranking of the season. The Hokies came in at 33rd in the nation, a new program record. Despite the previous weekend's losses to Clemson (69) and Georgia Tech (99), the Hokies' victories over Western Kentucky University (34) and Missouri (45) as well as their narrow margin of loss to then-No. 13 Florida State (14) demonstrated their strength of schedule, placing them in the top 35 for the first time in school history.

After dropping to 48th, the Hokies' defeat of then-RPI #9 Duke pulled them back up into the top 35 where they remained for the next five weeks. With the loss to then-#74 Wake Forest, Tech dropped out of the top 35. They finished the regular season ranked 41st.

Ranked Opponents - On Oct. 29, the Hokies made history, defeating the No. 25 Florida State Seminoles in their first ever victory over an AVCA Top-25 team. The Hokies, led by Justine Record's 26-kill, 20-dig effort, won the first two sets, 25-15 and 27-25, before allowing the Seminoles to tie the match with 25-20 and 25-23 victories. However, the Hokies were not willing to surrender after their early 2-0 lead, as they defeated the Seminoles 15-13 in the tiebreaking set. The win avenged their heartbreaking loss to the then-No. 13 Seminoles on Sept. 26, where they came back from a 2-0 deficit to tie the match, but fell 15-13 in set five.

Tech also defeated Missouri earlier this season on Sept. 11, who then received 16 votes in the Bison/AVCA poll the next day to place them 29th in the nation. The Hokies then went on to defeat Duke on Oct. 14, who was ranked ninth in the RPI and was the top vote-getter in the AVCA poll outside the top 25.

Athletes of the Week - For her efforts at the Comcast Lady Vol Classic, Erin Leaser was named Virginia Tech Athlete of the Week on Aug. 30. She was the first Hokie this season to receive the honor. Leaser notched 103 assists, 28 digs, 12 blocks, 14 kills and struck at a team-leading .393 hitting percentage. She recorded a double-double in both matches on Aug. 28, with 45 assists and 12 digs against Xavier and 26 assists and 12 digs at No. 19 Tennessee.

Sophomore Cara Baarendse tabbed the weekly honor on Sept. 7 for her outstanding performance at the Hilton Garden Hokie Invitational on Sept. 3-4. The Mason, Ohio, native led the team with 31 kills and a .491 hitting percentage at the tournament. Her solid weekend also garnered her all-tournament MVP and a spot on CVU.com's national Top Performers list.

Felicia Willoughby and Victoria Hamsher swept the ACC's weekly honors on Oct. 18, earning Player and Freshman of the Week, respectively, after outstanding performances against Duke and Wake Forest. Additionally, Willoughby was named Virginia Tech Athlete of the Week.

Willoughby hit .609 on the week with 29 kills and eight blocks, averaging 4.14 kills and 1.14 blocks per set. She had a season-high 19 kills against Duke, earning a 2010 Hokie-best .731 attack percentage. Hamsher hit .414 with 17 kills and 10 blocks, seven of which came against Duke. She led the match in attack percentage against Wake Forest, hitting .533 with 10 kills. Hamsher is the first Hokie to win ACC Freshman of the Week.

Justine Record became the fourth volleyball player of the season to win Virginia Tech Athlete of the Week after an outstanding showing on Oct. 29-30. Record notched 26 kills and 20 digs against No. 25 Florida State on Oct. 29 to lead the Hokies past the Seminoles in their first ever victory over a top-25 team. Record matched her career high in kills and set a new career best in digs, and her 26 kills were the most for a Hokie all season. She is the first Hokie since 2006 to record 20+ kills and 20+ digs in the same match, and the first Hokie this season to record 20+ kills or digs in a double-double. She notched a second double-double against Miami the next night, recording 16 kills and 15 digs for a whopping 42 kills and 35 digs on the weekend.

Hamsher on the Block - Freshman middle blocker Victoria Hamsher stuffed a whopping 10 block assists on Sept. 18 against Towson, which places her in sixth all-time in single-match block assists and 10th in total blocks. Additionally, she set two new Hokie records for 3-set matches, as every occurrence ahead of her on both lists came in a 4- or 5-set match.

Hamsher's five blocks against Virginia on Nov. 26 elevated her season total to 104, which puts her in fourth place all-time in Virginia Tech's freshman record books with 104 total blocks on the season. Additionally, she ranks 27th nationally in blocks per set among freshmen.

For the Record - Junior Justine Record registered a career-high six service aces on Sept. 26 at No. 13 Florida State. She is the first Hokie to notch that many since Amy Wengrenovich found the floor on six serves on Sept. 13, 2008. There are just six Hokies in history who have recorded more than six aces in a single match and only one in the past 20 seasons. Record currently leads the ACC and is 55th in the nation in service aces per set, averaging 0.37 with a total of 42. Additionally, she notched four aces on Nov. 19 at Duke, which brought her career total up to 123, moving her into ninth place all-time at Virginia Tech in career aces. There is just one Hokie ahead of her on that list who played in the new millennium, Annie Spicer '04, and the most recent Hokie on the list before her graduated in 1997.

On Oct. 29, Record led the Hokies past the No. 25 Florida State Seminoles, registering 26 kills and 20 digs in Tech's historical first-ever victory over a ranked opponent. Record, who matched her career high in kills and set a new career high in digs, was the first Hokie since Taylor Parrish back in 2006 to register 20+ kills and 20+ digs in the same match. Additionally, her 26 kills were the most for a Hokie during the regular season, and she was the only 2010 Hokie to register 20+ kills or digs as part of a double-double.

Since Tech changed the name of its home tournament to the Hokie Invitational in 2006, Tech has gone 15-0, capturing all five tournament titles. The Hokies claimed their fifth straight title in the 2010 Hilton Garden Hokie Invitational on Sept. 3-4.

The Hokies have had great tournament success over the past three seasons with a combined 29-5 tournament record since 2008, sweeping nine of their last 12 tournaments.

Tech will participate in its first ever NCAA Tournament this weekend in University Park, Pa. The Hokies will face Delaware in the first round on Friday evening. Should they advance, they will play the winner of Niagara vs. No. 4 Penn State on Saturday night. This is the second time in program history that Tech has played in a postseason tournament. The Hokies went 1-3 in the 1992 National Invitational Volleyball Championship, defeating Delaware, 3-1, in their only postseason victory.

Willoughby on Top - Senior Felicia Willoughby recorded seven block assists against Jacksonville State on Sept. 4 to elevate her career total to 375 and set a new all-time record for the Hokies. On Oct. 10, she registered three blocks, which gave her a career sum of 495 total blocks, pushing her past Jennifer Schmidt's 494 mark which had been the all-time record since 1995.

Additionally, the Pleasanton, Calif., native looks to hang on to her top spot in career hitting percentage, currently hitting at .328, ahead of Katie Esbrook's .324 mark, a category in which she is third the ACC and 44th in the nation this season, hitting .355. She is also fifth at Virginia Tech in career block solos, stuffing 97, and seventh in kills with 1,273.

Leaser on the Loose - Junior Erin Leaser recorded 34 assists on Oct. 22 against North Carolina, moving her into fourth place all-time in career assists, passing Laura Hanner's mark of 3,190 set in 1997. Her career total is now 3,693. Moreover, Leaser, who passed the 1,000-assist mark for the third consecutive season on Nov. 5 against Boston College, is second in the ACC and 25th in the nation in assists per set, averaging 11.18.

On Oct. 29, Leaser notched a career-high 68 assists to help the Hokies achieve their first-ever victory over a ranked opponent, defeating No. 25 Florida State. Her 68 assists was the most for a Hokie since Melissa Markowski notched 70 against Rutgers back on Oct. 13, 2002.

Consistency Key, Baar None - Middle blocker Cara Baarendse vaulted up the freshman record books last season, breaking the freshman school record for season hitting percentage. Baarendse struck at a .354 clip, surpassing the old mark of .333 set by Katie Esbrook in 2003, and ranked third all-time among all Hokies with the .354 season hitting percentage. The Mason, Ohio, sophomore currently holds a .369 career percentage, which puts her in first place on the all-time career list, and her .380 clip this season is second in the ACC and ranks 23rd in the nation.

Just Virginia Tech, Please - While the full name of the school is Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, the school is commonly referred to as "Virginia Tech". Founded in 1872 as Virginia Agriculture and Mechanical College, the university changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1896. Fans of the athletic department, as well as media covering the Hokies, shortened the name to VPI, but it eventually became Virginia Tech. The "State University" was added to bring the official title to what it is today. Those covering Hokie athletics are asked to refer to the university as simply "Virginia Tech". Virginia Tech University, VPI and SU, VPI&SU, VT or VA Tech are not recognized names and should not be used.

Following the Hokies - Fans and media can keep up with the Hokies via the Internet with live stats. At all home matches and select away matches, play-by-play, up-to-date box scores and stats can be accessed by clicking the LiveStats link next to the scheduled event on Tech's home page at hokiesports.com. Fans will also be able to watch or listen to select home contests thanks to Hokies All-Access. VT fans can access Hokies All-Access through the link on the volleyball schedule page. Jerry Massey will broadcast the volleyball matches. Single Game Pay-Per-View Licenses for $7.95 will give you access to live audio and video on a single event basis; Monthly Subscriptions will be $9.95 and will give you access to all live and archived radio broadcasts, video highlights and any other content behind the subscription wall; Annual Subscriptions will be sold for $79.95 and will give you access to all live and archived radio broadcasts, video highlights and live video of the Virginia Tech Hokies in action.

What is a Hokie, Anyway? - That's the most often-asked question in Virginia Tech athletics. The answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute. With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer and a contest for such a purpose was held by the student body.

Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Hokie" yell which still is used today. Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the word was solely the product of his imagination and was used only as an attention-getter for his yell. It soon became a nickname for all Tech teams and for those people loyal to Tech athletics. The official school colors — Chicago maroon and burnt orange — also were introduced in 1896. They were chosen because they made a "unique combination" not worn elsewhere at the time.

Riley led the Hokies to a 12-3 record in Cassell Coliseum, picking up the most home wins since 1998. It was just the sixth time in Hokie history that the team won 12 or more at matches home. Tech finished with a 19-12 overall record, going 9-11 in ACC play and finishing in a tie with Wake Forest for seventh.

In 2008, Riley took a young squad, welcoming seven newcomers, and turned it into a strong ACC contender. The Hokies went 20-11, 11-9 in the league, winning 20 matches for the first time since 2002, and sat atop the ACC standings for much of the conference season. Tech also won 11 straight matches at one point in the season, matching the longest winning streak in school history.

Riley guided a young Tech squad to a 14-18 record overall in 2007, and an 8-14 mark in the ACC, tying for eighth place in the conference. Riley led the group to the program's 550th victory, coming over Wake Forest on Oct. 20th.

Under Riley, the Hokies earned Virginia Tech records with 611 block assists and 394.5 total blocks as a team in 2007. Freshman standout Felicia Willoughby flourished under Riley's direction, having one of the best seasons ever for a Hokie rookie. Willoughby set a Tech record with 172 total blocks on the season, ranking first in the ACC and 11th in the nation.

In 2006, Riley led the team to its best finish since joining the ACC. The Hokies finished with a 17-14 overall record, their first winning season since 2002, and fourth in the past 14 years.

Prior to coming to Tech, Riley spent six seasons at Towson University, where he led the team to five straight 20-win seasons, three Colonial Athletic Association regular season championships, the 2004 CAA tournament championship and the 2004 NCAA Tournament.
