HOKIE NOTES

Entering The NCAA Austin Regional

This is the Hokies' first-ever appearance in the NCAA Women's Golf Championship's regional round ... The Hokies enter the event ranked 54th in Golfstat.com and 55th in Golfweek/Sagarin ... Tech is the 14th seed in the Austin Regional.

That's a First!

On March 7, 2018, Elizabeth Bose earned the win at the Hurricane Invitational at the Biltmore Golf Club in Coral Gables, Florida ... That mark's the first-ever individual title in Virginia Tech women's golf history ... The previous best individual performance for a Hokie was Bose's third place finish at the Starmount Golf Classic in 2016.

Elizabeth Bose

More About Elizabeth

In the season-opening event this fall at the Minnesota Invitational, Elizabeth Bose tied for third place individually ... She shot a three-round total of 8-under 208 ... The 8-under was the best three-round total in program history and her opening round 66 was the lowest round and the lowest round in relation to par ever for a Virginia Tech women's golfer.

The Hokies are Strong in the Classroom

The Virginia Tech women's golf team is really rolling when it comes to the classroom ... Three golfers, Elizabeth Bose (the winner of last year's Skelton Award) and twin sisters Jessica and Sarah Spicer, recorded 4.0 GPAs during calendar 2017 ... The trio also were named to the 2017 ACC All-Academic Team ... Katie Muscatello was named an Industrial and System Engineers Ambassador this semester.

Jessica Spicer

The Hokies in the ACC Championship

Virginia Tech finished 11th in the 2018 ACC Women's Golf Championship ... The event was played at the East Course of the Grandover Resort in Greensboro, North Carolina ... Tech entered the event as the 11th seed ... Elizabeth Bose finished tied for 10th place, the best-ever individual finish for a Virginia Tech golfer at the ACC Women's Golf Championship.

Sarah Spicer

Three Years In

This is the Hokies' third season of intercollegiate action in the sport of women's golf ... Tech announced the formation of the program on May 13, 2013 and announced the hiring of Carol Robertson as the first head coach of the program on July 8, 2013 ... Tech began competition on Sept. 20, 2015 at the Lady Paladin Invitational in Greenville, South Carolina.

Individually, How We've Done

This season, four Hokies have recorded individual top 20 finishes in tournaments ... Overall, Tech has 16 total individual finishes in the top 20, including four in the top five and three additional top 10 finishes ... The Hokies' best individual finish of the season was Elizabeth Bose's individual title at the Hurricane Invitational.

Arriving Next Year

During the fall, the Hokies announced the signing of Keeratthiya Foocharoen to a NLI ... A native of Bangkok, Thailand, Keera is a member of the Thailand National team ... She will begin play in the fall of 2018, as will Nora Wrenger of Munich, Germany, who signed with the Hokies in April.

Every One

Since its beginning in 2015, the Virginia Tech women's golf team has played 93 rounds of golf ... Redshirt junior Amanda Hollandsworth and junior Elizabeth Bose have competed in each of those 93 rounds.

Top Scorers

With such a new program, the school's top all-time leaders in scoring average are still competing for the Hokies ... Elizabeth Bose is the all-time leader at 75.05, with a minimum of 50 rounds played ... Emily Mahar, who enters the NCAAs with 30 rounds played, has a career stroke average of 74.83.

Hokies vs. the Field

This season, the Hokies have competed against 32 of the 72 teams in the NCAA Championship ... Oddly enough, the region with the fewest regular season competitors is the Austin Regional ... Tech is 2-7 against six of the 18 teams in the field ... The Hokies have wins against BYU and East Carolina ... Tech is 8-49 against the field of this year's NCAA Championship.

Amanda Hollandsworth

Emily Mahar

More About Tech's Regular Season

The Hokies competed in nine regular season tournaments, plus the ACC Championship ... In those 10 events, 67 of the 142 competitors are in this season's NCAA Championship, or 47.2 percent ... Tech's toughest event of the season was the Ruth's Chris Tar Heel Invitational ... 13 of the 18 teams made the NCAAs, including three of the four No. 1 seeds ... Ten of the 14 competitors at the Minnesota Invitational made NCAAs this season.

Teamwise, How We've Done

This season, the Hokies competed in nine regular season tournaments, plus the ACC Championship ... Tech's best finish was a tie for third place at the Moon Golf Invitational to open the spring portion of the schedule ... Tech finished in the top 10 in eight of the nine regular season events and had three top five finishes.

Interesting Side Take on the Austin Trip

Though this is the first-ever NCAA appearance for the Virginia Tech women's golf program, this is not the first trip to this course for a Hokie team in NCAA play ... In 2009, the Virginia Tech men's golf team played in the NCAA Austin Regional on this course ... A member of that team was Garland Green, the younger brother of Carol Robertson, the head coach for the Virginia Tech women's golf team ... Garland finished tied for 45th that year, second-best for the Hokies.

Top Conference

With the Hokies bid to the NCAA regionals, the Atlantic Coast Conference placed an unprecedented 11 teams in the NCAA field ... The ACC has 12 schools that compete in women's golf ... Conference champion Duke is the top seed in the Madison Regional.

VIRGINIA TECH GOLFERS AT THE NCAAS

Allison Woodward

Cap and Gown

When Virginia Tech leaves Austin and head back to Blacksburg, two Hokies will be heading into a new adventure ... Amanda Hollandsworth and Allison Woodward will be graduating on Saturday, May 12, at Lane Stadium ... Both are redshirt juniors, having been Tech's first two signees who arrived at Virginia Tech the year prior to the beginning of competition ... Both have one more year of eligibility remaining for next year, but will graduate on time with their original classes.

Sparkling New Digs

At the beginning of the Spring 2017 semester, the Virginia Tech men's and women's golf teams opened the new indoor facility, The Willis and Mary Blackwood Indoor Golf Facility, located in Cassell Coliseum ... The 2,600-square foot facility includes offices for the coaches, locker space for the teams, a large meeting room, a putting and chip area and two state-of-the-art golf simulators ... Total cost of the project was approximately $600,000, and all money was in place through private donations as construction began ... This facility allows more practice and instruction during winter months and inclement weather ... The location of the facility also is advantageous in its proximity to nutrition, sports medicine, strength and conditioning and student academic support.

What an Ace!

Virginia Tech head coach Carol Robertson had quite a day on the course on March 9, 2015 ... Robertson, assistant coach Russell Abbott and the Hokies' two redshirting golfers, Allison Woodward and Amanda Hollandsworth, spent spring break in Florida, practicing and playing during the program's first year, when the team was not competing ... Not once, but twice in the practice round at Celebration Golf Course in Orlando, Robertson aced the par 3s on the front nine.

A Course to Dye For

Virginia Tech's commitment to golf became more evident 13 years ago, when it was announced that famed golf course architect Pete Dye would lead the renovation of the River Course of Virginia Tech ... The project, which began on Jan. 5, 2004, was completed in 2006 ... A $5.5 million clubhouse was completed in 2010 ... Upon completion, the course became a Pete Dye Signature Course and was rechristened as the Pete Dye River Course of Virginia Tech ... In addition to the upgraded course, a team facility boasts an indoor teaching center, locker rooms and team meeting room for the Virginia Tech men's and women's golf teams ... These improvements were made possible by support from Bill and Alice Goodwin of Richmond, Virginia ... The gift covered all costs of design and construction ... As part of the project, Tech's artificial practice tee was covered and equipped with radiant heaters ... The indoor facility was constructed adjacent to the newly-dedicated golf team practice area, which was made possible through the generosity of long-time golf supporter and scholarship donor, the late C.M. "Buddy" Neviasser ... This facility provides Tech players with one of the finest total practice complexes in the nation.

Our Name Please

When referring to Virginia Tech, we ask that you please leave it at that - Virginia Tech ... Virginia Tech University is not now and never has been a name for the school ... The official name of the university is Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University ... "Vah Tech", VPI, VPI&SU, VPI and SU and Va. Tech are also not recognized names and should not be used ... VT is acceptable as a shortened, agate form ... When referring to the school by its nickname, please use "Hokies" ... Your help in these matters is appreciated.

What is a Hokie?

The answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute ... With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer and a contest for such a purpose was held by the student body ... Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Hokie" yell, which is still used today ... Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the word was solely the product of his imagination and was used only as an attention-getter for his yell ... It soon became a nickname for all Tech teams and for those people loyal to Tech athletics.

Head Coach Carol Robertson

Carol Robertson is in her fourth season and third season of competition, as the head coach of the Hokies' women's golf program. Robertson was hired on July 8, 2013, as the program's first-ever head coach.

Robertson has built this program the right way. Recruiting outstanding student-athletes who compete on the course, in the classroom and in the community. The Virginia Tech women's golf program was a known and respected entity before the team ever competed in their first event.

The Hokies reached another milestone on April 26, 2018, as the team received their first-ever NCAA Regional bid. This is just their third season of competition.

Robertson's players immediately became integrated into the fabric of not only the athletics programs, but the university community as a whole. And as the team competes on the course, they have taken advantage of the support of the Hokie Nation.

Robertson came to Virginia Tech following two seasons as the head coach at Old Dominion University. She became the head coach at ODU following one season as the assistant for both the men's and women's programs at the school.

While with the Monarchs, Robertson led her teams to five tournament titles in her two seasons, including three tournament titles this past season. In the 2012-13 season, ODU finished in the top five in eight of the 10 regular season events. In her first season at ODU, the women's program placed fifth or better in six tournaments. This past season, the Monarchs finished 74th in Golfstat.com rankings and 78th in the Golfweek/Sagarin rankings.

Robertson is also an outstanding player. In September of 2010, Robertson reached the finals of the U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur Championship, but fell just short of the title against Meghan Stasi in the 18-hole final at Wichita Country Club (Kan.). She won the 2006 Virginia State Amateur Championship. During the Virginia Tech inaugural season, while on a spring break trip with the two original members of the team, Robertson carded two hole-in-ones on the front nine of the Celebration Golf Club in Orlando, Florida. Odds of that happening in a round is 1 in 67 million.

Robertson had been serving as the Virginia State Golf Association's Junior golf club tournament director in Hampton Roads. She played on the LPGA Future's Tour from 2007-09, and was an assistant golf coach at James Madison for the 2005-06 season.

Robertson was one of five collegiate women golfers chosen to represent the USA in the Collegiate World Championships, and in 2006 was the Women's Amateur Golf Champion for the State of Virginia. She was selected NGCA (National Golf Coaches Association) All-American Scholar Athlete in 2005.

The Tazewell, Va., native graduated from James Madison University in 2005 with a B.S. degree in public administration with a concentration in criminal justice. She received a M.S. degree in sport management in 2007 from West Virginia University.

At JMU, the then Carol Green excelled on the course and in the classroom. She was a two-time Colonial Athletic Association Player of the Year, in 2003 and 2004, and three-time first team All-CAA selection. She was the conference championship medalist in 2003, and twice qualified for the NCAA East Region. In January 2012, she was one of 25 selected to the CAA's Silver Anniversary team for women's golf. She was on the Dean's List twice, was a three-time winner of the CAA Commissioner's Academic Award and was inducted into the National Society of Collegiate Scholars. She also was named a National Golf Coaches Association All-American Scholar-Athlete as a senior.

Robertson and her family are no strangers to Virginia Tech or top-level golf in the Commonwealth. Her father, Charles, is a past president of the VSGA, her older brother, Chuck, played collegiately at Washington and Lee and her younger brother, Garland, was a four-year letter winner on the Hokie men's golf team from 2007-11. He is currently 13th on the all-time scoring list in Virginia Tech history. Robertson and her husband, Jason, who also played golf at JMU, have a three-year old son JJ and welcomed daughter Molly Clair Robertson on Feb. 5, 2018.
