LAST TIME OUT

The Hokies fall to No. 4 Duke, 1-0
Tech returns home to face Miami Friday night

DURHAM, N.C. – The Virginia Tech women's soccer team fell to the No. 4 Duke Blue Devils, 1-0, in ACC action Sunday afternoon at Koskinen Stadium. Duke's Kaitlyn Kerr headed in the game-winner at the 30:38 mark to secure the victory.

Both teams came out a bit slow, as Duke (12-1-1, 4-0-1) took the first shot, while the Hokie keeper, Dayle Colpitts recorded the first save four minutes into the game. Tech (8-4-1 0-3-1) fired two shots and recorded the first corner kick all in the 6th minute. The Blue Devils started to pick up the momentum as they limited the Hokies to just one more shot in the half, that came at the 25:19 mark.

Duke recorded a corner kick and a shot that was blocked, before Kerr connected on a high ball that came from Kim DeCesare that was headed by Chelsea Canepa and landed at the feet of Kerr. The header brought Colpitts toward Canepa opening up the net for Kerr to give the Blue Devils the 1-0 advantage going into the break.

Duke took the shot advantage in the first taking six, while limiting Tech to four. Colpitts picked up three saves.

The Blue Devils' defense continued to play very well, limiting the Hokies to just two shots in the second period that was not enough to find the back of the net. The first came at the 52:50 mark by Jazmine Reeves, who made a run down the middle and dribbled to the right and fired a shot that went wide toward the left side. Shannon Mayrose fired the last shot later on in the 65th minute as she shot about 15 yards out from the middle of the field that ran wide.

Duke took eight shots in the second period to finish the game with 14, while Colpitts picked up three more saves to close out the game with six. Tara Campbell was in goal for the Blue Devils as she picked up the win and made two saves.

PARTY LIKE ITS 1994

• Before falling to Nebraska, 3-4, in double-overtime, the Hokies matched their best season start with six consecutive wins since 1994. The 1994 squad shutout five of the six opponents, while outscoring them 18-1. In the six victories this season, Tech shutout four of its six opponents, while outscoring them 19-3.

HOKIES HOST HILTON GARDEN INVITATIONAL

• The Hokies hosted the Hilton Garden Hokie Invitational, inviting ACC-opponent Wake Forest, Nebraska and Loyola (Md.). Tech did not see action against Wake Forest and fell to the Nebraska Cornhuskers in a thrilling double-overtime game Saturday. Tech closed the invitational with a shutout against Loyola, including four Hokies being selected to the Hilton Garden Hokie Invitational All-Tournament team. Ashley Manning, Kelly Conheeny, Brittany Popko and Anne Lumpkin all made the squad.

TECH DOMINATES WAKE FOREST TOURNAMENT

• Tech dominated the Wake Forest Tournament, recording wins over Campbell (3-2) and Connecticut (1-0). Four Hokies were named to the All-Tournament team, including Shannon Mayrose, Brittany Popko, Kelsey Loupee and Kelly Conheeny.

HOKIES RANKED NATIONALLY

• After receiving 48 votes the third week in the National Soccer Coaches Association of America poll, the Hokies entered week four at No. 25. In addition to the NSCAA Poll, Tech entered the Top-25 in the Soccer America rankings the previous week, sitting tied for 25 with Pepperdine. In week four Tech jumped up to No. 15, but fell to No. 20 in week five. Tech entered the Soccer Times Poll in week six at No. 20, but currently sits at the No. 23 spot.

2011 HOKIES OVERFLOW THE RECORD BOOKS

- Junior midfielder Kelly Conheeny has reached the top-5 in every category except two in Tech's all-time record book. She recently took over first place in game-winning goals with 11, after scoring the game-winner against Appalachian State. Conheeny is also tied for first in multiple goal games (5), tied for third in assists (17), second in points (63), fourth in goals (23) and fifth in shots (150).
- Sophomore keeper Dayle Colpitts has reached the top-10 in every goalie category except one in Tech's all-time record book. Colpitts sits first in goals against average with 1.000, sits fifth in wins (13), sixth in minutes (2,623), tied for sixth in shutouts (7) and ninth in saves (96).

- Senior Brittany Michels just entered the top-5 in career games played as she sits tied for fourth with 80. She will have a chance to beat out former teammate Jennifer Harvey (86) for the top spot towards the end of the season.
- In addition to Colpitts, redshirt-sophomore Anna Romeiser entered the Tech's all-time record books at the goal position. She currently sits tied for tenth in career shutouts (2) and tied for eleventh in career wins with five.

CORNERS and HEADERS

- The Hokies are known to attack the goal and as a result, Tech has out cornered its opponents 81-30 this season. The Hokies have tallied at least two in each of the 13 games so far. On Sept. 4 against Connecticut, Tech recorded 14 corners, while the Huskies only tallied one. The Hokies also reached double-figure corners against Loyola (Md.) tallying 10, while the Greyhounds only notched one.
- Tech has really perfected its corner kicks, as the Hokies record a header shot off of nearly each play. Brittany Michels has recorded two goals this season off of headers after a corner, against App State and Loyola.
- In addition to one of Michels' diving headers off a corner against Loyola, senior Katie Cramp connected off a Kelsey Loupee corner to record the game-winner off a diving header.
- The Hokies have recorded six goals off the corner kicks this season.

- The Hokies are dominating their opponents on offense this season. Tech holds a 31-12 scoring record against its opponents in 13 games. Kelly Conheeny leads the team with an impressive nine goals and two assists this season. After recording her first multi-goal game against Appalachian, Shannon Mayrose follows Conheeny with six goals and three assists on the season. Anne Lumpkin just tallied her third goal off a penalty kick against Boston College. Five other Hokies have scored two goals and hold at least four points, including Jazmine Reeves (2g, 11pts), Kelsey Loupee (2g, 10pts), Katie Cramp (2g, 4pts), Julia Goldsworthy (2g, 4pts) and Brittany Michels (2g, 4pts).
- Reeves also leads the team and the ACC in assists with seven.

DEFENSE SHUTS IT DOWN

- The Hokie defense continues to shut down its opponents by allowing only 12 goals so far. James Madison, Campbell, Nebraska, then-No. 6 Maryland, then-No. 13 Boston College and then-No. 4 Duke are the only teams to find the back of the net against the Hokies.
- Tech was able to limit the Appalachian State Mountaineers to zero shots, which marks the fewest shots taken since last year against American on Aug. 23, 2010. James Madison, Nebraska, Wake Forest, Boston College and Duke were the only teams to be able to fire double-figure shots against the Hokies, while Elon, High Point and UNC Greensboro were limited to no more than four against Tech. Goalkeeper Anna Romeiser denied her first career penalty kick against Elon, while saving all three shots the Phoenix took. Sophomore Dayle Colpitts tallied a season-high 10 saves against Wake Forest.
- Then-No. 4 Duke and then-No. 5 Wake Forest are the only teams to limit the Hokies to single-digit shots. In the loss against the Blue Devils, the Hokies only fired six shots, two on goal, while the game against the Deacons resulted in a scoreless tie the Hokies only fired nine shots.

CONHEENEY HONORED BY COLLEGESOCCER360.COM

TECH CLOSES HILTON GARDEN HOKIE INVITATIONAL WITH A 3-0 WIN OVER LOYOLA

BLACKSBURG, Va. – The Virginia Tech women's soccer team closed out the Hilton Garden Invitational with a 3-0 victory over the Loyola Greyhounds Sunday afternoon on Thompson Field. Brittany Michels, Katie Cramp and Kelly Conheeny each connected on one goal each for the Hokies.

Tech (7-1-0) set the tone for the game early in the first half as it dominated the Greyhounds (1-7-0) offensively and kept control of possession the entire half. Brittany Michels was very active on corner kicks as the Hokies tallied seven in the half, but she was unable to get a hold of anything.

Later in the half Katie Jensen received the ball up the field and fired a shot at the goal, but Loyola's keeper Didi Haracic came up with a big save. Tech nearly had another opportunity when Brittany Popko fired a header at the net but a Loyola defender was perfectly positioned at the post to deflect the ball away.

Towards the end of the half, Shannon Mayrose laid out as she dove at a ball in front of the goal and headed it in attempt to score but Haracic was there again for another big save.

Tech took the shooting edge in the first half 14-1, while it was a true team effort from the Greyhounds in the first half as they recorded three team saves.

The hard work finally paid off for Michels in front of the net as she was able to get a hold of a Kelsey Loupee corner kick and head it into the back of the net in the 49th minute.

On a broken play that saw the ball get served into the box, Kelly Conheeny got a hold of the loose ball in the box and brought it out a few steps to get a better look at the net. Despite the readjustment, Haracic stopped the attempt.

Remaining persistent, Conheeny continued to attack through the second half and eventually put the Hokies up 2-0 in the 67th minute. After Jazmine Reeves was taken down just inches outside the 18-yard box, Tech was awarded a free kick that was lifted over the Loyola wall and soared over the keeper's hands into the back of the net.

Tech tacked on another goal at the 78:14 mark when Anne Lumpkin served in a long ball from the right sideline that Katie Cramp was able to get a head on as she rose above the crowd and redirected the ball into the top left side of the net.

Anna Romeiser got the start in goal for the Hokies, who played nearly every player that dressed, and played the full 90 minutes and stopping Loyola's only shot. Haracic also lasted the full 90 minutes and made 12 of the team's 15 saves.

BIG FIRST HALF LIFTS TECH PAST MOUNTAINEERS, 4-0

BLACKSBURG, Va. – An impressive first-half effort lifted the Virginia Tech women's soccer team past the Appalachian State Mountaineers, 4-0, on Thursday night at Thompson Field. Shannon Mayrose led the way for the Hokies with two goals, while seven different Tech players earned a point in the game.

Tech (8-1-0) controlled the game from the start, rarely letting the Mountaineers (3-4-0) touch the ball. Subsequently, Tech was the first on the board after Jazmine Reeves brought the ball into the right corner and crossed it to the middle of the field, connecting with a diving Kelly Conheeny who redirected the ball into the goal for the 1-0 lead, 24 minutes into the match.

Less than five minutes later, the Hokies struck again, this time it was Mayrose with the diving header in the box. Kelsey Mitchell served the ball from just outside the 18-yard box and Mayrose had space to position herself and get a head on the ball to advance Tech's lead to two goals.

The rapid scoring continued for the Hokies in the 31st minute as Mayrose again found the back of the net. Kelsey Loupee was the set-up man as she received a ball from the right side of the field but was unable to turn for a shot so she kicked it back outside the 18 to Mayrose, who buried the strong shot in the 31st minute.

Ten minutes before halftime Tech tacked on another goal when Brittany Michels rose above the crowd and headed in a corner kick from Anne Lumpkin.

The Hokies took a 4-0 advantage, as well as the 10-0 shooting edge into the halftime break.

Possession remained in Tech's favor throughout the second half as it continued to power shots at the Appalachian State goal.

Though the score would not change in the second half, Tech never allowed the Mountaineers to take a single shot in the game, a season-first, and took 14 shots of its own by match's end. The closest Appalachian State came to a shot was the one corner kick it took in the second half, while the Hokies tallied seven in the game.

Tech's keeper Dayle Colpitts returned to action against the Mountaineers and saw 70 minutes of time in goal, though little came her way. Colpitts was replaced by Anna Romeiser, who finished out the final 20 minutes of the game. Appalachian State's Amy Kolowsky tallied three stops against the Hokies and played the full 90 minutes.
